Baby Tornado Hits Chadron

. . . 65 MPH Winds, Plus Lightning, Hail, Damage Buildings

CHADRON (AP)—A "baby tornado" and winds with gusts up to 65 miles an hour struck Chadron early Wednesday evening, knocking down power lines and tearing roofs from barns.

Three sides of the West Side Frontier Station were blown in and the roof of the building caved in on three automobiles. Unofficial estimates placed damage near $10,000.

The winds were accompanied by .92 of an inch of rain and a hailstorm which lasted 10 minutes. Streets of Chadron were flooded temporarily.

Lightning demolished a chimney on the American Legion building and set at least one fire in Chadron. Two other fires were reported during the storm. Lightning struck six homes, it was reported.

Observers reported that a trailer house was blown three-quarters of a block, but no one was in the vehicle.

Reports indicated that a bridge near Chadron was washed out, but the location was not mentioned.

The Scottsbluff weather bureau reported rain in the North Platte Valley ranged from an inch to an inch and a half. Scottsbluff got .46.

Winds up to 60 miles per hour at Morrill were also reported, but there was apparently no damage except for fallen tree limbs.

Meanwhile, it appeared that the state will get some rain Thursday.

At least the weather man offers some encouragement in that direction by forecasting scattered thunderstorms in the west and central during the day and over the entire state Thursday night.

High temperatures are expected to range from the 80s in the extreme northeast to 95-100 in the southwest.

Severe winds accompanied by some hail brought up to 60 inch of rain to the Diller area Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

All buildings, with the exception of the house and barn, were blown down at the Fred Bartels farm south of Diller during the storm. About four or five buildings were demolished.

At the Ted Lottman farm across the road, three trees were uprooted.

Lightning struck the Diller pumping station, knocking out an electrical switch. Hail damaged a four-mile wide strip, covering part of Kansas.

Hay Stacks

On the Dean Day farm, the top of both the windmill and barn were wrecked. Clair Angel and William Glathar also reported winds wrecked their hay stacks.

Farmers throughout the area reported hay stacks and outbuildings blown down, windmills damaged and chickens killed. The hail was not extensiv but was thought to have done some minor damage to corn in the area.

Tecumseh reported a half-inch rain and 30-mile-per-hour winds. However, there were no damage reports in the area.

Precipitation reports include the following:

Auburn	.10	Plattsmouth	.05
Beatrice	.14	Sterling	.50
Diller	.60	Tecumseh	.30
Humboldt	.20	Wymore	.15
Pawnee City	.06

The weather bureau reported that Lincoln's brief respite from the heat was caused by a mass of cool air from Canada, but that wind shifting to the south would bring back the heat again.

Communism Chalks Up Big Victory In Indochina

U.S. Was Unable To Generate Will To Win In Asia

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and its Allies lost a great battle Wednesday in the long conflict with Communism. They lost because they could not command the united will and the power to win the fight for northern Indochina.

Their ranks were weakened by divided counsel over how to proseed. The military effort was weakened by their old failure fully to solve the colonial problem. Their diplomacy was frustrated as much by their own differences as by the Molotov and Chou En-lai.

The negotiated peace which French premier Mendes-France signed with the Reds at Geneva recognized a state of affairs affairs which in fact had passed beyond his control or that of such Allied leaders as Prime Minister Churchill and President Eisenhower.

Hard Facts Recognized

Eisenhower himself recognized the hard facts of the defeat when he told his news conference a few hours later that if any good can come out of this Southeast Asian experience it will be this—to get the free world to look facts in the face and see what must be done to save free peoples from Red conquest.

But the President declined to criticize the cease-fire signers come to be the central fact of by emphasizing what has come American diplomacy throughout the past three critical months. This fact is that though the United States did not want such a settlement it never succeeded in developing any alternative plan for negotiating an end to the fighting.

Secretary of State Dulles at one time launched such a plan. Critics said it was too late to become effective though if there had been a common will to act, in Washington, London and Paris, there was in fact sufficient time to take the major essential steps.

Wanted To Intervene

At the end of March and during April, perhaps longer, Dulles and the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Adm. Arthur W. Radford, demonstrated by their actions that they wanted to intervene with American forces—primarily air and naval—in the Indochina war. Radford reportedly was willing to go in alone. Dulles only with allies and only with full congressional sanction.

Three principal developments frustrated their grand design for meeting the Indochina crisis as it was then shaping up in the prospective fall of the fortress of Dien Bien Phu:

1. The Churchill government of Britain refused to join in collective action on the eve of the Geneva conference. Foreign Secretary Eden preferrd to build his diplomacy on a conviction that the Communists wanted peace and would negotiate.

2. Initial reaction in Congress was unenthusiastic and divided. The idea that the United States might actually intervene in Indochina took hold very slowly and caused Allied governments seriously to question whether the Eisenhower administration could make good on its own policies.

3. The French government was unwilling to internationalize the Indochina war. At one critical stage the then Foreign Minister George Bidault requested a U.S. air strike against Communist forces besieging Dien Bien Phu. This kind of military action without fulfillment of any of the conditions of a united front or congressional approval was refused. U.S. officials insisted that the French never made a formal request for American intervention, however.

SEN. KNOWLAND
. . . time to find out

Knowland Wants Allies 'To Stand, Be Counted'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California Wednesday called the Indochina settlement "one of the greatest victories for the Communists in a decade."

He made the statement during impromptu debate on the truce, set off by a warning from Sen. Symington (D-Mo) that the Soviets are winning a race to develop new hydrogen weapons, even "as the position of the free world continues to deteriorate in Asia."

Knowland said the policy of peaceful coexistence, which some Allies have advocated, is like putting someone in a cage with a tiger that has just been fed. When the tiger gets hungry, Knowland said, he will look to his cagemate for food.

Knowland suggested that now is the time to find out what Allies "are willing to stand up and be counted."

Only Temporary

And, Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont), in an interview, termed the splitting of Viet Nam a "loss and defeat" which will bring only temporary peace to Indochina.

Mansfield, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said the armistice "is the best possible settlement" the French premier could have made.

"But it doesn't call for enthusiasm or acclaim," Mansfield added. "Anyone who thinks this truce will bring stability to Indochina, except on a temporary basis, is mistaken."

Symington, former Air Force secretary, told the Senate that hydrogen bomb-carrying intercontinental missiles will be able to "destroy a nation" within a few years and said Russia may have masses of them before the United States.

He said no European nation now can defend itself against a long-range missile attack and "in a short time . . . the United States may be more vulnerable than Great Britain was in the late '30s."

House Defeats Postal Salary Hike Proposal

WASHINGTON (INS)—The House defeated Wednesday a double-barrelled proposal which would have given 500,000 postal employees a 5 per cent pay raise but would have increased mail rates to pay for it.

The vote was 228 to 171 in favor of the legislation but 38 short of the necessary two-thirds majority needed under procedure adopted by Republican leaders for consideration of the proposals.

Members were forced to vote for both bills at the same time, a move that brought bitter denunciation from Democratic leaders who led the fight against the legislation.

House Democratic Whip John McCormack, Mass., said: "We are placed in the position of accepting the bad with the good or rejecting the good with the bad."

Democratic Leader Sam Rayburn, Texas, called the Republican strategy "a terrible thing."

The Democrats and some Republicans favored the pay boost but opposed the proposal to increase first, second and third class postal rates.

The House vote followed sharp words by Rayburn, who said: "As long as I live, I'll never be party to this trend of denying the representatives of the people the right to express themselves."

Nebraska Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nebraska representatives Harrison, Hruska and Miller, all Republicans, voted with the losing side as the House defeated a bill to raise the pay of postal employees and increase postal rates. Rep. Curtis, Nebraska Republican was not recorded as voting.

House OKs Boost In Vet Payments

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House voted 339-0 Wednesday to raise compensation payments to disabled veterans, and the only big objection raised was that the legislation isn't generous enough.

1 Killed, 19 Injured In Jet Crash

. . . Okinawa Mishap

OKINAWA, (Thursday) (AP)—A Marine Panther jet on a mock strafing run plowed into a hill today, killed the pilot and injured at least 19 American soldiers in a shower of flaming fuel and debris.

The Army said the jet failed to pull out of a dive while making a simulated strafing run over troops of the Army's 29th Regimental Combat Team.

Helicopters were ordered to evacuate the injured to the Ryukyus Army Hospital.

The accident occurred near Easley Range, where the 3rd Marine Regiment is conducting a practice amphibious invasion of Okinawa, defended by the 29th.

Names of the casualties were withheld.

Kearney Girl, 34-24-34, Miss Nebraska, '54

KEARNEY, Neb. (AP)—Miss Sue Welch of Kearney won the "Miss Nebraska" contest sponsored by the State Junior Chamber of Commerce here Wednesday night.

She was entered as "Miss Kearney" and is a sophomore at Hastings College where she is studying voice.

Miss Welch, a black haired and brown eyed lass, is 18. Her weight is 118 and her measurements are 34 bust, 24 waist and 34 hips.

Second in the contest was Miss Patricia Kavan of Omaha, entered as "Miss Omaha," and third was Sandra Briswalter, Columbus, entered as "Miss Columbus." Miss Kavan is 19 and an Omaha University student. Miss Briswalter is a sophomore at Butler University.

There were nine entries and five were called back for a final test after competing in talent, bathing suits and evening gowns. Those called back besides the top three were Sally C. Warren, "Miss Lincoln"; and Lorna Uphoff, "Miss North Platte."

Miss Welch will be Nebraska's representative in the Miss America contest at Atlantic City in September. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. (Dutch) Welch of Kearney.

Favorite Has Son

Dawn Oney, a platinum blonde who competed in the Miss U.S.A. contest at Long Beach, Calif., as "Miss Montana" was disclosed as the mother of a 3-year-old son. The 22-year-old 118-pound lass explained that she formerly was married to a Harvey Carlson, now employed in Japan as a mining engineer. The disclosure did not bar her as a contestant. Although a loser in the Miss U.S.A. contest, "Miss Montana" was named public favorite in preliminary judging. (AP Wirephoto.)

Carolina Lass New Miss U.S.

Southern Charm Wins

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Miss South Carolina, a luscious blonde who lost her luggage en route and had to borrow clothes, Wednesday night was named Miss U. S. A. over 46 other contestants.

Runners up came in this order: Misses Virginia, New York state, New York City and Texas.

Miriam Stevenson, 21-year-old, delectable doll from Winsboro, S.C., was named Miss U. S. A. by virtue of an outstanding figure and face and real Southern charm.

She and the runners-up had been selected as the field was narrowed to five shortly before the winner was announced.

The winner, who will now compete against entrants from 32 other nations in the Miss Universe finals Friday night, was a voluptuous frame. Her height is 5 feet 6 and her weight 120. She has what is normally termed a perfect figure, that is, her bust and hips the same at 36, and her waist 12 inches smaller, at 24.

The blue-eyed blonde scored heavily in the evening gown division where she looked like a pre-Civil War belle who needed only a vast plantation to set her off properly.

During the competition for poise and personality in which contestants were required to talk on the topic, "What Is the Most Important Thing in life?" Miss Stevenson brought down the house when she said:

"The most important thing in my life is getting my luggage back."

Her baggage was fouled up en route some place near Chicago and arrived only with her evening gown and a bathing suit which was given her by the contest sponsors. That's all she needed.

Davis Okayed By Voice Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Wednesday confirmed by voice vote President Eisenhower's nomination of Clarence Davis of Lincoln, Nebr., to be under secretary of the interior.

Davis has been here for more than a year as solicitor of the Interior Department. He would succeed Ralph A. Tudor, who resigned.

Davis was approved unanimously by the senate interior committee.

Davis told a reporter:

"I was very happy at the cordial reception given my nomination by the Senate Interior Committee and I am very pleased over the quick confirmation by the Senate."

Davis is a former president of the Nebraska Bar Association.

Today's Chuckle

We're in favor of the government balancing its budget, but we don't exactly approve of its being done while unbalancing ours.

Private Power Contract Given Senate's Approval

. . . Decision Big Victory For President

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower won a big victory Wednesday night as the Senate upheld his plan for a new private power plant in the Tennessee Valley area.

First the chamber refused on a vote of 55-36 to forbid the project. Then, on motion of Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich), it adopted by voice vote an amendment specifically authorizing the undertaking.

The proposed ban on it had been offered in another amedment, by Sen. Anderson (D-NM) to the pending bill which rewrites the nation's atomic energy law

Nebraska Republican Sens. Bowring and Reynolds voted with the majority as the Senate defeated the Anderson amendment.

11 Demos Vote 'No'

Forty-four Republicans and 11 Democrats voted against the Anderson amendment. It was supported by 33 Democrats, two Republicans and Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore).

The Fergson amendment sanctioning the proposed electric power contract was accepted without a roll call. Some Democrats objected at the speed with which the decision was accomplished, but the chair held the voice vote had been perfectly in order.

When Sen. Knowland of California, Republican leader, moved to tie that decision down by a parliamentary device, Democrats then demanded a roll call. They lost 56-35.

Anderson's amendment would have specified that the Atomic Energy Commission could contract only for power served directly to atomic installations.

25-Year Contract

The President has instructed the AEC to conclude a 25-year contract with a Southern utility group for construction of a 107 million dollar steam plant to furnish power to the Memphis, Tenn., area.

The power would be serviced over Tennessee Valley Authority lines, replacing TVA electricity supplied to the Paducah, Ky., atomic plant.

Anderson's amendment was designed to kill the project by restricting the AEC's contract authority. It also called for a review of all AEC power contracts by the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee.

8-Day Debate

The vote, at 8:40 p.m., climaxed a stormy eight day debate, mainly on the power issue, which is only part of the big bill.

The measure provides mainly for permitting private industry into the atomic field and for releasing some nuclear secrets to Allied armies.

Opponents have charged that the presidential directive overrode the independence of AEC and required it to exceed its legal authority. Some also have contended the purpose is to prevent further TVA expansion, since the new electric power plant would replace any immediate additional TVA facilities.

Republican Leader Knowland threatened to keep the Senate in session all night if necessary to complete action on the giant bill revising atomic energy law.

Obstruction Charged

As debate on the overall atomic bill, rolled on toward midnight, Knowland told a reporter it had taken on aspects of "filibuster of pure obstructionism."

The GOP leader said he is determined to try to hold the Senate in session "all tonight, all tomorrow and all tomorrow night" if that is necessary to bring the measure to a final vote.

"First you had a filibuster to prevent a key note," he said. "Now you have a filibuster of pure obstructionism by the liberal wing of the Democratic party to obstruct the entire legislative program in these closing weeks."

Senators Take Night Coffee Break

Overheated Motor Fills Apartment Halls With Smoke

A refrigerator made things pretty hot for the residents of the Regent Apartments, 1626 P St., early Thursday morning.

Smoke that filled the halls of the building and caused the fire department to be called was traced to the basement apartment of Donald E. Allison, University of Nebraska professor, who has been out of the city for several weeks.

Firemen discovered the cause of the fire was a refrigerator motor that had become overheated. Damage, according to fire department officials, was slight.

Girl, 19, Dies; Friend Near Death In Pact

NEW YORK (AP)—Two teen-aged girls took gas together Wednesday, apparently aflame with wine and bewitched into a childishly romantic suicide pact. One died, the other is near death.

"I die simply enough, because I haven't enough life within me to nourish myself through long, long years," read a note left by the surviving girl, Helene Jacobs, 18, a Columbia University summer school student and daughter of a Chicago labor lawyer. She is a very pretty, very shapely brunette.

The dead girl was Madeline Jean Sommer, 19, missing for a week from her Bergenfield, N. J., home. A blonde, she was equally pretty and well formed.

There was no immediate clue as to how the girls happened to rendezvous for death in a combination art gallery and apartment where Miss Jacobs had been staying only briefly.

Craig Woman, 65, Dies Of Injuries Received Tuesday

The death of Grace Miller, 65, Craig, Wednesday, from injuries received in an auto accident early Tuesday morning raised Nebraska's 1954 highway fatality total one notch higher, according to word from the State Highway Patrol in Lincoln.

She was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Argie Miller, 68, which was in collision with a car driven by Solomon Frazier, 49, 622 So. 19th St., Omaha. The accident occurred one mile north and one-and-one-half miles east of Craig on US 73W.

The state's 1954 traffic toll is now 162, compared to 148 at this time last year.

Full Support Given City Pay Hike Try

Practically unanimous endorsement has been reported of a petition being circulated among city employees asking consideration by the City Council of a salary increase to employees for the coming fiscal year.

Reasons for the increase are reported to be a comparison with other cities, showing Lincoln salaries to be low, and an increase in the cost of living. An increase of several points in the cost of living is quoted from the time the past year's increase was requested up to now.

Reported to be circulated under the auspices of the City Employees Association, the petition asks for no definite increase but merely suggests that adjustments be made.

Increases, generally ranging from $5 to $15 a month, have been approved by the City Council for the past three years. Mayor Clark Jeary reported he has not seen the petition and had no comment to make on it.

It is expected the signed petition will be submitted to the City Council Monday.

$610,000 Granted State For Hospitals; Facilities Expanding With Federal Aid

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

Nebraska has been allotted $610,536 for hospital construction under the Hill-Burton Act, the state health department announced Wednesday. The federal funds are available for matching to provide hospital facilities in needed areas.

The state hospital advisory committee has been called to meet Sept. 4 to review applications from these qualified to participate in the federal grants.

Applicants must be either non-profit corporations, the state or its political subdivisions that have resources available of approximately 25 per cent of the total estimated cost. Applications must be on file with the state department by Sept. 1.

The first grant was received by the state in 1947-48 when $684,394 was made available. In the following years the state received $682,443; $1,367,926; $722,170; $668,669; $607,828; and last year $540,240.

Number Of Beds Up

When the program was first initiated it was on the basis of 77 proprietary hospitals, 2 municipal, 3 county, 8 state and 47 non-profit hospitals. Last year there were 46 proprietary, 12 municipal, 9 county, 8 state and 71 non-profit hospitals.

The present 146 hospitals have 6,345 beds as compared with 137 with 5,457 beds. There were 1,371 unacceptable beds in 86 hospitals and the other 51 hospitals had 4,086 acceptable beds in 1946. Today, 114 hospitals have 5,684 acceptable beds and there are only 661 unacceptable beds in the other 32 hospitals.

Under terms of the hospital improvement program, first efforts centered in providing hospital facilities within reasonable reach of people in all sections of the state. The hospitals were intended to give care for all minor needs with highly specialized treatment going to the larger centers.

It was the theory that only the larger centers could warrant expenditures for expensive equipment and would maintain the highly specialized professional services.

Progress during the past seven years is best shown by the following expenditures of federal grants-in-aid to assist communities in building with local funds:

Baby Tornado Hits Chadron

. . . 65 MPH Winds, Plus Lightning, Hail, Damage Buildings

CHADRON (AP)—A "baby tornado" and winds with gusts up to 65 miles an hour struck Chadron early Wednesday evening, knocking down power lines and tearing roofs from barns.

Three sides of the West Side Frontier Station were blown in and the roof of the building caved in on three automobiles. Unofficial estimates placed damage near $10,000.

The winds were accompanied by .92 of an inch of rain and a hailstorm which lasted 10 minutes. Streets of Chadron were flooded temporarily.

Lightning demolished a chimney on the American Legion building and set at least one fire in Chadron. Two other fires were reported during the storm. Lightning struck six homes, it was reported.

Observers reported that a trailer house was blown three-quarters of a block, but no one was in the vehicle.

Reports indicated that a bridge near Chadron was washed out, but the location was not mentioned.

The Scottsbluff weather bureau reported rain in the North Platte Valley ranged from an inch to an inch and a half. Scottsbluff got .46.

Winds up to 60 miles per hour at Morrill were also reported, but there was apparently no damage except for fallen tree limbs.

Meanwhile, it appeared that the state will get some rain Thursday.

At least the weather man offers some encouragement in that direction by forecasting scattered thunderstorms in the west and central during the day and over the entire state Thursday night.

High temperatures are expected to range from the 80s in the extreme northeast to 95-100 in the southwest.

Severe winds accompanied by some hail brought up to 60 inch of rain to the Diller area Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

All buildings, with the exception of the house and barn, were blown down at the Fred Bartels farm south of Diller during the storm. About four or five buildings were demolished.

At the Ted Lottman farm across the road, three trees were uprooted.

Lightning struck the Diller pumping station, knocking out an electrical switch. Hail damaged a four-mile wide strip, covering part of Kansas.

Hay Stacks

On the Dean Day farm, the top of both the windmill and barn were wrecked. Clair Angel and William Glathar also reported winds wrecked their hay stacks.

Farmers throughout the area reported hay stacks and outbuildings blown down, windmills damaged and chickens killed. The hail was not extensiv but was thought to have done some minor damage to corn in the area.

Tecumseh reported a half-inch rain and 30-mile-per-hour winds. However, there were no damage reports in the area.

Precipitation reports include the following:

Auburn	.10	Plattsmouth	.05
Beatrice	.14	Sterling	.50
Diller	.60	Tecumseh	.30
Humboldt	.20	Wymore	.15
Pawnee City	.06

The weather bureau reported that Lincoln's brief respite from the heat was caused by a mass of cool air from Canada, but that wind shifting to the south would bring back the heat again.

Communism Chalks Up Big Victory In Indochina

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and its Allies lost a great battle Wednesday in the long conflict with Communism. They lost because they could not command the united will and the power to win the fight for northern Indochina.

Their ranks were weakened by divided counsel over how to proseed. The military effort was weakened by their old failure fully to solve the colonial problem. Their diplomacy was frustrated as much by their own differences as by the Molotov and Chou En-lai.

The negotiated peace which French premier Mendes-France signed with the Reds at Geneva recognized a state of affairs affairs which in fact had passed beyond his control or that of such Allied leaders as Prime Minister Churchill and President Eisenhower.

Hard Facts Recognized

Eisenhower himself recognized the hard facts of the defeat when he told his news conference a few hours later that if any good can come out of this Southeast Asian experience it will be this—to get the free world to look facts in the face and see what must be done to save free peoples from Red conquest.

But the President declined to criticize the cease-fire signers come to be the central fact of by emphasizing what has come American diplomacy throughout the past three critical months. This fact is that though the United States did not want such a settlement it never succeeded in developing any alternative plan for negotiating an end to the fighting.

Secretary of State Dulles at one time launched such a plan. Critics said it was too late to become effective though if there had been a common will to act, in Washington, London and Paris, there was in fact sufficient time to take the major essential steps.

Wanted To Intervene

At the end of March and during April, perhaps longer, Dulles and the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Adm. Arthur W. Radford, demonstrated by their actions that they wanted to intervene with American forces—primarily air and naval—in the Indochina war. Radford reportedly was willing to go in alone, Dulles only with allies and only with full congressional sanction.

Three principal developments frustrated their grand design for meeting the Indochina crisis as it was then shaping up in the prospective fall of the fortress of Dien Bien Phu:

1. The Churchill government of Britain refused to join in collective action on the eve of the Geneva conference. Foreign Secretary Eden preferrd to build his diplomacy on a conviction that the Communists wanted peace and would negotiate.

2. Initial reaction in Congress was unenthusiastic and divided. The idea that the United States might actually intervene in Indochina took hold very slowly and caused Allied governments seriously to question whether the Eisenhower administration could make good on its own policies.

3. The French government was unwilling to internationalize the Indochina war. At one critical stage the then Foreign Minister George Bidault requested a U.S. air strike against Communist forces besieging Dien Bien Phu. This kind of military action without fulfillment of any of the conditions of a united front or congressional approval was refused. U.S. officials insisted that the French never made a formal request for American intervention, however.

House Defeats Postal Salary Hike Proposal

WASHINGTON (INS) —The House defeated Wednesday a double-barrelled proposal which would have given 500,000 postal employees a 5 per cent pay raise but would have increased mail rates to pay for it.

The vote was 228 to 171 in favor of the legislation but 38 short of the necessary two-thirds majority needed under procedure adopted by Republican leaders for consideration of the proposals.

Nebraska Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nebraska representatives Harrison, Hruska and Miller, all Republicans, voted with the losing side as the House defeated a bill to raise the pay of postal employees and increase postal rates. Rep. Curtis, Nebraska Republican was not recorded as voting.

Members were forced to vote for both bills at the same time, a move that brought bitter denunciation from Democratic leaders who led the fight against the legislation.

House Democratic Whip John McCormack, Mass., said: "We are placed in the position of accepting the bad with the good or rejecting the good with the bad."

Democratic Leader Sam Rayburn, Texas, called the Republican strategy "a terrible thing."

The Democrats and some Republicans favored the pay boost but opposed the proposal to increase first, second and third class postal rates.

The House vote followed sharp words by Rayburn, who said: "As long as I live, I'll never be party to this trend of denying the representatives of the people the right to express themselves."

House OKs Boost In Vet Payments

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House voted 339-0 Wednesday to raise compensation payments to disabled veterans, and the only big objection raised was that the legislation isn't generous enuogh.

Knowland Wants Allies 'To Stand, Be Counted'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California Wednesday called the Indochina settlement "one of the greatest victories for the Communists in a decade."

He made the statement during impromptu debate on the truce, set off by a warning from Sen. Symington (D-Mo) that the Soviets are winning a race to develop new hydrogen weapons, even "as the position of the free world continues to deteriorate in Asia."

Knowland said the policy of peaceful coexistence, which some Allies have advocated, is like putting someone in a cage with a tiger that has just been fed. When the tiger gets hungry, Knowland said, he will look to his cagemate for food.

Knowland suggested that now is the time to find out what Allies "are willing to stand up and be counted."

Only Temporary

And, Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont), in an interview, termed the splitting of Viet Nam a "loss and defeat" which will bring only temporary peace to Indochina.

Mansfield, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said the armistice "is the best possible settlement" the French premier could have made.

"But it doesn't call for enthusiasm or acclaim," Mansfield added. "Anyone who thinks this truce will bring stability to Indochina, except on a temporary basis, is mistaken."

Symington, former Air Force secretary, told the Senate that hydrogen bomb-carrying intercontinental missiles will be able to "destroy a nation" within a few years and said Russia may have masses of them before the United States.

He said no European nation now can defend itself against a long-range missile attack and "in a short time . . . the United States may be more vulnerable than Great Britain was in the late '30s."

1 Killed, 19 Injured In Jet Crash

. . . Okinawa Mishap

OKINAWA, (Thursday) (AP)—A Marine Panther jet on a mock strafing run plowed into a hill today, killed the pilot and injured at least 19 American soldiers in a shower of flaming fuel and debris.

The Army said the jet failed to pull out of a dive while making a simulated strafing run over troops of the Army's 29th Regimental Combat Team.

Helicopters were ordered to evacuate the injured to the Ryukyus Army Hospital.

The accident occurred near Easley Range, where the 3rd Marine Regiment is conducting a practice amphibious invasion of Okinawa, defended by the 29th.

Names of the casualties were withheld.

Kearney Girl, 34-24-34, Miss Nebraska, '54

KEARNEY, Neb. (AP)—Miss Sue Welch of Kearney won the "Miss Nebraska" contest sponsored by the State Junior Chamber of Commerce here Wednesday night.

She was entered as "Miss Kearney" and is a sophomore at Hastings College where she is studying voice.

Miss Welch, a black haired and brown eyed lass, is 18. Her weight is 118 and her measurements are 34 bust, 24 waist and 34 hips.

Second in the contest was Miss Patricia Kavan of Omaha, entered as "Miss Omaha," and third was Sandra Briswalter, Columbus, entered as "Miss Columbus." Miss Kavan is 19 and an Omaha University student. Miss Briswalter is a sophomore at Butler University.

There were nine entries and five were called back for a final test after competing in talent, bathing suits and evening gowns. Those called back besides the top three were Sally C. Warren, "Miss Lincoln"; and Lorna Uphoff, "Miss North Platte."

Miss Welch will be Nebraska's representative in the Miss America contest at Atlantic City in September. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. (Dutch) Welch of Kearney.

Favorite Has Son

Dawn Oney, a platinum blonde who competed in the Miss U.S.A. contest at Long Beach, Calif., as "Miss Montana" was disclosed as the mother of a 3-year-old son. The 22-year-old 118-pound lass explained that she formerly was married to a Harvey Carlson, now employed in Japan as a mining engineer. The disclosure did not bar her as a contestant. Although a loser in the Miss U.S.A. contest, "Miss Montana" was named public favorite in preliminary judging. (AP Wirephoto.)

Carolina Lass New Miss U.S.

Southern Charm Wins

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Miss South Carolina, a luscious blonde who lost her luggage en route and had to borrow clothes, Wednesday night was named Miss U. S. A. over 46 other contestants.

Runners up came in this order: Misses Virginia, New York state, New York City and Texas.

Miriam Stevenson, 21-year-old, delectable doll from Winsboro, S.C., was named Miss U. S. A. by virtue of an outstanding figure and face and real Southern charm.

She and the runners-up had been selected as the field was narrowed to five shortly before the winner was announced.

The winner, who will now compete against entrants from 32 other nations in the Miss Universe finals Friday night, was a voluptuous frame. Her height is 5 feet 6 and her weight 120. She has what is normally termed a perfect figure, that is, her bust and hips the same at 36, and her waist 12 inches smaller, at 24.

The blue-eyed blonde scored heavily in the evening gown division where she looked like a pre-Civil War belle who needed only a vast plantation to set her off properly.

During the competition for poise and personality in which contestants were required to talk on the topic, "What Is the Most Important Thing in life?" Miss Stevenson brought down the house when she said:

"The most important thing in my life is getting my luggage back."

Davis Okayed By Voice Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Wednesday confirmed by voice vote President Eisenhower's nomination of Clarence Davis of Lincoln, Nebr., to be under secretary of the interior.

Davis has been here for more than a year as solicitor of the Interior Department. He would succeed Ralph A. Tudor, who resigned.

Davis was approved unanimously by the senate interior committee.

Davis told a reporter:

"I was very happy at the cordial reception given my nomination by the Senate Interior Committee and I am very pleased over the quick confirmation by the Senate."

Davis is aformer president of the Nebraska Bar Association.

Private Power Contract Given Senate's Approval

. . . Decision Big Victory For President

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower won a big victory Wednesday night as the Senate upheld his plan for a new private power plant in the Tennessee Valley area.

First the chamber refused on a vote of 55-36 to forbid the project. Then, on motion of Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich), it adopted by voice vote an amendment specifically authorizing the undertaking.

The proposed ban on it had been offered in another amedment, by Sen. Anderson (D-NM) to the pending bill which rewrites the nation's atomic energy law.

Nebraska Republican Sens. Bowring and Reynolds voted with the majority as the Senate defeated the Anderson amendment.

11 Demos Vote 'No'

Forty-four Republicans and 11 Democrats voted against the Anderson amendment. It was supported by 33 Democrats, two Republicans and Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore).

The Fergson amendment sanctioning the proposed electric power contract was accepted without a roll call. Some Democrats objected at the speed with which the decision was accomplished, but the chair held the voice vote had been perfectly in order.

When Sen. Knowland of California, Republican leader, moved to tie that decision down by a parliamentary device, Democrats then demanded a roll call. They lost 56-35.

Anderson's amendment would have specified that the Atomic Energy Commission could contract only for power served directly to atomic installations.

25-Year Contract

The President has instructed the AEC to conclude a 25-year contract with a Southern utility group for construction of a 107 million dollar steam plant to furnish power to the Memphis, Tenn., area.

The power would be serviced over Tennessee Valley Authority lines, replacing TVA electricity supplied to the Paducah, Ky., atomic plant.

Anderson's amendment was designed to kill the project by restricting the AEC's contract authority. It also called for a review of all AEC power contracts by the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee.

8-Day Debate

The vote, at 8:40 p.m., climaxed a stormy eight day debate, mainly on the power issue, which is only part of the big bill.

The measure provides mainly for permitting private industry into the atomic field and for releasing some nuclear secrets to Allied armies.

Opponents have charged that the presidential directive overrode the independence of AEC and required it to exceed its legal authority. Some also have contended the purpose is to prevent further TVA expansion, since the new electric power plant would replace any immediate additional TVA facilities.

Republican Leader Knowland threatened to keep the Senate in session all night if necessary to complete action on the giant bill revising atomic energy law.

Obstruction Charged

As debate on the overall atomic bill, rolled on toward midnight, Knowland told a reporter it had taken on aspects of "filibuster of pure obstructionism."

The GOP leader said he is determined to try to hold the Senate in session "all tonight, all tomorrow and all tomorrow night" if that is necessary to bring the measure to a final vote.

"First you had a filibuster to prevent a key note," he said. "Now you have a filibuster of pure obstructionism by the liberal wing of the Democratic party to obstruct the entire legislative program in these closing weeks."

Senators Take Night Coffee Break

Three Senators pause for coffee in front of the Capitol late Wednesday night during a scheduled all-night Senate session on the administration's proposed revisions of the Atomic Energy Act. Overheated Motor Fills Apartment Halls With Smoke

A refrigerator made things pretty hot for the residents of the Regent Apartments, 1626 P St., early Thursday morning.

Smoke that filled the halls of the building and caused the fire department to be called was traced to the basement apartment of Donald E. Allison, University of Nebraska professor, who has been out of the city for several weeks.

Firemen discovered the cause of the fire was a refrigerator motor that had become overheated. Damage, according to fire department officials, was slight.

Girl, 19, Dies; Friend Near Death In Pact

NEW YORK (AP)—Two teen-aged girls took gas together Wednesday, apparently aflame with wine and bewitched into a childishly romantic suicide pact. One died, the other is near death.

"I die simply enough, because I haven't enough life within me to nourish myself through long, long years," read a note left by the surviving girl, Helene Jacobs, 18, a Columbia University summer school student and daughter of a Chicago labor lawyer. She is a very pretty, very shapely brunette.

The dead girl was Madeline Jean Sommer, 19, missing for a week from her Bergenfield, N. J., home. A blonde, she was equally pretty and well formed.

There was no immediate clue as to how the girls happened to rendezvous for death in a combination art gallery and apartment where Miss Jacobs had been staying only briefly.

Craig Woman, 65, Dies Of Injuries Received Tuesday

The death of Grace Miller, 65, Craig, Wednesday, from injuries received in an auto accident early Tuesday morning raised Nebraska's 1954 highway fatality total one notch higher, according to word from the State Highway Patrol in Lincoln.

She was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Argie Miller, 68, which was in collision with a car driven by Solomon Frazier, 49, 622 So. 19th St., Omaha. The accident occurred one mile north and one-and-one-half miles east of Craig on US 73W.

The state's 1954 traffic toll is now 162, compared to 148 at this time last year.

Full Support Given City Pay Hike Try

Practically unanimous endorsement has been reported of a petition being circulated among city employees asking consideration by the City Council of a salary increase to employees for the coming fiscal year.

Reasons for the increase are reported to be a comparison with other cities, showing Lincoln salaries to be low, and an increase in the cost of living. An increase of several points in the cost of living is quoted from the time the past year's increase was requested up to now.

Reported to be circulated under the auspices of the City Employees Association, the petition asks for no definite increase but merely suggests that adjustments be made.

Increases, generally ranging from $5 to $15 a month, have been approved by the City Council for the past three years. Mayor Clark Jeary reported he has not seen the petition and had no comment to make on it.

It is expected the signed petition will be submitted to the City Council Monday.

$610,000 Granted State For Hospitals; Facilities Expanding With Federal Aid

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

Nebraska has been allotted $610,536 for hospital construction under the Hill-Burton Act, the state health department announced Wednesday. The federal funds are available for matching to provide hospital facilities in needed areas.

The state hospital advisory committee has been called to meet Sept. 4 to review applications from those qualified to participate in the federal grants.

Applicants must be either non-profit corporations, the state or its political subdivisions that have resources available of approximately 25 per cent of the total estimated cost. Applications must be on file with the state department by Sept. 1.

The first grant was received by the state in 1947-48 when $684,394 was made available. In the following years the state received $682,443; $1,367,926; $722,170; $668,669; $607,828; and last year $540,240.

Number Of Beds Up

When the program was first initiated it was on the basis of 77 proprietary hospitals, 2 municipal, 3 county, 8 state and 47 non-profit hospitals. Last year there were 46 proprietary, 12 municipal, 9 county, 8 state and 71 non-profit hospitals.

The present 146 hospitals have 6,345 beds as compared with 137 with 5,457 beds. There were 1,371 unacceptable beds in 86 hospitals and the other 51 hospitals had 4,086 acceptable beds in 1946. Today, 114 hospitals have 5,684 acceptable beds and there are only 661 unacceptable beds in the other 32 hospitals.

Under terms of the hospital improvement program, first efforts centered in providing hospital facilities within reasonable reach of people in all sections of the state. The hospitals were intended to give care for all minor needs with highly specialized treatment going to the larger centers.

It was the theory that only the larger centers could warrant expenditures for expensive equipment and would maintain the highly specialized professional services.

Progress during the past seven years is best shown by the following expenditures of federal grants-in-aid to assist communities in building with local funds:

—Ike's Opinion On Armistice—

U.S. Won't Fight To Break Truce

Any New Aggression 'A Matter Of Grave Concern' To America

By JOHN SCALI

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower pledged Wednesday the United States "will not use force" to upset the Indochina armistice but warned the Communists that any new aggression would be "a matter of grave concern."

At a news conference, he declared the partition settlement signed in Geneva "contains features which we do not like"

Because of this, he said, the United States would refuse to join other nations in a joint declaration guaranteeing truce provisions.

4 Points

In rapid-fire order, the President also made these points:

1. The United States has asked the Indochina states of Cambodia and Laos to exchange ambassadors with this country in a move to build up their independence from communism.

2. The big lesson which free world nations can learn from the Indochina experience is to adopt a positive plan for banding together so tightly that none will ever give up to communism.

3. He believes the Communist world does not want war at this time, except through satellite excursions. The Reds would not deliberately challenge the free world to a war of exhaustion.

4. He knows of no one who advocates that the United States should go to war to unify Korea or Indochina even though these settlements are far from satisfactory.

Issue Paper

In talking with reporters, the President said the government would soon issue some sort of paper giving a history of the Indochina developments which would attempt to put all events in focus He disclosed this when asked whether he could say whether the United States ever actually proposed to send American bombers into the Indochina battle in a move to save the Dien Bien Phu fortress in northwest Indochina.

Glad

The President opened his weekly meeting with reporters by reading a prepared statement which said he was glad the Geneva truce has stopped the bloodshed in Indochina.

The President said that in addition to sending ambassadors to Cambodia and Laos the United States will continue to maintain a fullfledged ambassador in the non-Communist southern half of divided Viet Nam with headquarters at Saigon.

Eisenhower sought to block further questioning on the Indochina situation. But, in answer to a reporter, he said he believed the one good which could flow from it is to persuade the free world to look facts in the face, to determine what must be done to save the rest of Southeast Asia.

A reporter noted that some senators have already denounced the Indochina peace as "appeasement" and "a Munich." He asked the President whether he agreed with these descriptions.

Eisenhower reiterated that the settlement contained certain features which he does not like. But, he said he did not know what else could or should be done.

As long as he did not have a better plan, he said, he was not going to criticize.

The President did not explain exactly why he objects to parts of the truce but at one point he declared that every time a Vietnamese or Chinese loses his fredom, Americans lose a little too.

White House Is Picketed In Viet Nam Split Protest

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pickets marched in front of the White House Wednesday carrying signs protesting the partition of Viet Nam.

A member of the picketing group said it consisted of 20 Vietnamese who are students or former students in this country.

Several of the signs depicted Viet Nam being severed with a scimitar. Some of them said:

"Partition Is Bloodshed" and "Partition Means Destruction."

One said "All 25 Million Vietnamese Are Against Partition" Another asked "U.N. Why Divided Viet Nam?"

The spokesman told a reporter the group represented the Committee Against Partition of Viet Nam. He said it had picketed United Nations headquarters in New York a few days ago and started picketing the White House late Tuesday.

Armistice Endorsed At Geneva

Viet Nam And U.S. Abstain On Signing

GENEVA (AP) — The Geneva conference endorsed the Indochina armistice Wednesday, with partitioned Viet Nam and the United States abstaining

Red China hailed the agreement as a possible pattern for a Korean settlement.

The United States warned grimly that any violation of the Indochina cease-fire would jeopardize international peace and security.

Western representatives signed with misgiving but Communist delegates were jubilant over the settlement. I turns north Viet Nam's 13 million people over to Red rule.

'Peace Victory'

Red China's Premier Chou En-lai said the armistice "once again testified that the forces for peace are irresistable." Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and representatives of the Communist-led Vietminh all hailed the agreement as a "victory for peace."

The protests of the pro-Western Viet Nam government over th division of their country were all but smothered. Vietnamese Foreign Minister Tran Van Do vainly attempted to incorporate in the final declaration reservations giving his government full freedom of action.

A few hours later, he telegrahed his resignation to Vietnamese Premier Ngo Dinh Diem in Saigon. He angrily told a news conference that he had not even been given an opportunity to see the text of the cease-fire order.

The conference endorsement came at the final meeting of the nine-party Indochina parley. The talks ended at 5 p.m., just 17 hours beyond the deadline set by French Premier Pierre Mendes - France for a cease-fire. The began here April 26.

'Took Note'

In its final declaration, the conference "took note" of the cease-fire agreements signed earlier Wednesday by French, Cambodian, Laotian and Communist-led Vietminh officers to halt the 8-year-old struggle in Viet Nam, Cambodia and Laos.

The accords provide for the neutralization of the three Indochina states and the partition of Viet Nam along the 17th Parallel. The French are scheduled to evucate the big northern Indochina city of Hanoi and its port of Haiphong within 300 days.

The United States, through Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith, announced it would not subscribe to the settlements. 't pledged, however, to refrain from threats or use of force to disturb them.

With the end of the conference leaders of the delegations prepared to depart. Eden led off by flying to London shortly after 7 p.m. Molotov left for Moscow in a Soviet military plane.

Mendes-France plans to fly to Paris and Smith to Washington Thursday. Chou, it was reported, would leave soon for Peiping.

Mayor Clark Jeary has instructed the Police Department to make arrests on all water restricion violations

"Up to now," Jeary said, "only warnings have been given to violators Now, we have reached the point where everyone should be familiar with the restrictions and arrests will be made"

Conviction upon a charge of violation of the water restrictions carries a penalty of from $1 to $100 fine.

Police officials did not make any arrests Wednesday night, but were planning strict enforcement of the regulation Thursday, "as soon as the public had been informed of the change in policy."

New Agreement

To help relieve both the shortage of power and water, the city has entered into an agreement with Consumers Public Power District calling for Consumers to supply power to the city's University Place pumping station. This will relieve the city's A Street power plant so more power can be diverted to run water pumps which have been shut down at times before due to a lack of power supply

Consumers has stated it has more power available in the University Place area than it needs. The connection from the Consumers line to the University Place station will be constructed by the city—a four day job to be started Thursday.

The arrangement was worked out at a conference between city and Consumers officials.

Excess Demand

The demand for water in the city on Tuesday again surpassed the supply. A total of 33,122,000 gallons were consumed Tuesday —1,122,000 more than the daily maximum supply.

The high usage kept the city from filling its reservoirs which were four feet low due to excessive demands Monday and the power shortage which forced the shut down of some water pumps

The water use restrictions which are now to be enforced permit watering on the odd numbered sides of the street on odd numbered calendar days and on even numbered sides on the street on even numbered calendar days between the hours of 5 p.m. and 12 midnight.

Hope Is Seen As Tears Roll Down Eddie's Cheeks

MIDDLETOWN, O. (AP)—Tears rolled down 6-year-old Eddie Phillips' cheeks, but their message was beyond the doctor and his parents They did see hope in them, however.

Eddie has been bleeding almost constantly since his tonsils were removed on July 6. His parents have kept a constant vigil. So has the physician

The little boy, mouth packed in the hope of blood coagulation, seemed stronger, having gone for 30 hours without a transfusion. The mouth packing prevented him from talking.

The townfolks have been backing Eddie and his parents and there has been no lack of blood donors.

Eddie, says the physician who has asked that his name not be used, still is a pretty sick boy, but hope is high that he will live.

Hoover 80 Next Month

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Senate and House unanimously approved Wednesday a resolution extending the greetings of congress to former President Hoover on his 80th birthday, Aug. 10.

The measure praises Hoover for his long service to the nation and humanity.

Demos Told Heaton 'Is Behind Right Now,' Attempt To Add More Steam

OMAHA (AP) — Some 250 Democrats gathered here for a dinner to put more steam behind the campaign of P. J. (Pat) Heaton for the party's gubernatorial nomination and were told at the start of the speech making that Heaton "is behind right now."

The statement came from toastmaster James J. Fitzgerald, who pleaded for a more aggressive and affirmative attitude by Heaton's backers.

Heaton himself said the campaign should be directed at what he called 14 years of mismanagement in state government, declaring Nebraska "is in a more serious mess in Lincoln than in Washington."

Heaton cited rising government costs under 14 years of Republican state government, "deterioration of state institutions," and "highways so neglected you almost take your life in your hands when you go out on them."

More Employees

He was particularly critical of the state highway department, saying Nebraska had more employees in that department than any other state with the same population or approximate mileage.

He was equally critical of what he called the personal property tax mess in the state and Gov. Crosby's handling of it. The property blank being used now was termed "assinine" by Heaton.

Others who spoke at the meeting were Senate Candidate Keith Neville, North Platte, long-term: James F. Green, for the seat of the late Sen. Butler, and Congressional Candidate James A Hart. Green and Hart are of Omaha.

Neville cited a comment he attributed to the state's junior GOP Senator Sam Reynolds on TVA in which he quoted Reynolds as stating that any nation that "takes one step toward socialism never turns back."

Neville said he wondered if any Nebraskan who had benefitted from irrigation and public power felt they were plunging down the road to socialism and ruin.

Green hit at the "slam and slogan" method of the administration's public relations men and said "it won't work" in Nebraska this time Hart struck at the administration's farm program.

Smith Nudges French Chief On EDC Plan

GENEVA (AP) — Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith Wednesday night urged French Premier Pierre Mendes-France to push ahead with ratification of the European Defense Community now that France has achieved peace in Indochina.

The occasion was a farewell dinner given by the French Premier at his Geneva villa Mendes-France returns to Paris Thursday after successfully negotiating an Indochina cease-fire and Smith flies back to Washington.

The French Premier heard Wednesday the opposing arguments on EDC from Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, who apparently hopes the compromising attitude shown by the Reds at Geneva will persuade Frenchmen that West German rearmament now is unnecessary.

—Ike's Opinion On Armistice—

U.S. Won't Fight To Break Truce

By JOHN SCALI

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower pledged Wednesday the United States "will not use force" to upset the Indochina armistice but warned the Communists that any new aggression would be "a matter of grave concern."

At a news conference, he declared the partition settlement signed in Geneva "contains features which we do not like."

Because of this, he said, the United States would refuse to join other nations in a joint declaration guaranteeing truce provisions.

4 Points

In rapid-fire order, the President also made these points:

1. The United States has asked the Indochina states of Cambodia and Laos to exchange ambassadors with this country in a move to build up their independence from communism.

2. The big lesson which free world nations can learn from the Indochina experience is to adopt a positive plan for banding together so tightly that none will ever give up to communism.

3. He believes the Communist world does not want war at this time, except through satellite excursions. The Reds would not deliberately challenge the free world to a war of exhaustion.

4. He knows of no one who advocates that the United States should go to war to unify Korea or Indochina even though these settlements are far from satisfactory.

Issue Paper

In talking with reporters, the President said the government would soon issue some sort of paper giving a history of the Indochina developments which would attempt to put all events in focus. He disclosed this when asked whether he could say whether the United States ever actually proposed to send American bombers into the Indochina battle in a move to save the Dien Bien Phu fortress in northwest Indochina.

Glad

The President opened his weekly meeting with reporters by reading a prepared statement which said he was glad the Geneva truce has stopped the bloodshed in Indochina.

The President said that in addition to sending ambassadors to Cambodia and Laos the United States will continue to maintain a fullfledged ambassador in the non-Communist southern half of divided Viet Nam with headquarters at Saigon.

Eisenhower sought to block further questioning on the Indochina situation. But, in answer to a reporter, he said he believed the one good which could flow from it is to persuade the free world to look facts in the face, to determine what must be done to save the rest of Southeast Asia.

A reporter noted that some senators have already denounced the Indochina peace as "appeasement" and "a Munich." He asked the President whether he agreed with these descriptions.

Eisenhower reiterated that the settlement contained certain features which he does not like. But, he said he did not know what else could or should be done.

As long as he did not have a better plan, he said, he was not going to criticize.

The President did not explain exactly why he objects to parts of the truce but at one point he declared that every time a Vietnamese or Chinese loses his fredom, Americans lose a little too.

White House Is Picketed In Viet Nam Split Protest

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pickets marched in front of the White House Wednesday carrying signs protesting the partition of Viet Nam.

A member of the picketing group said it consisted of 20 Vietnamese who are students or former students in this country.

Several of the signs depicted Viet Nam being severed with a scimitar. Some of them said:

"Partition Is Bloodshed" and "Partition Means Destruction."

One said "All 25 Million Vietnamese Are Against Partition." Another asked "U.N. Why Divided Viet Nam?"

The spokesman told a reporter the group represented the Committee Against Partition of Viet Nam. He said it had picketed United Nations headquarters in New York a few days ago and started picketing the White House late Tuesday.

Armistice Endorsed At Geneva

Viet Nam And U.S. Abstain On Signing

GENEVA (AP) — The Geneva conference endorsed the Indochina armistice Wednesday, with partitioned Viet Nam and the United States abstaining.

Red China hailed the agreement as a possible pattern for a Korean settlement.

The United States warned grimly that any violation of the Indochina cease-fire would jeopardize international peace and security.

Western representatives signed with misgiving but Communist delegates were jubilant over the settlement. I turns north Viet Nam's 13 million people over to Red rule.

'Peace Victory'

Red China's Premier Chou En-lai said the armistice "once again testified that the forces for peace are irresistable." Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and representatives of the Communist-led Vietminh all hailed the agreement as a "victory for peace."

The protests of the pro-Western Viet Nam government over th division of their country were all but smothered. Vietnamese Foreign Minister Tran Van Do vainly attempted to incorporate in the final declaration reservations giving his government full freedom of action.

A few hours later, he telegrahed his resignation to Vietnamese Premier Ngo Dinh Diem in Saigon. He angrily told a news conference that he had not even been given an opportunity to see the text of the cease-fire order.

The conference endorsement came at the final meeting of the nine-party Indochina parley. The talks ended at 5 p.m., just 17 hours beyond the deadline set by French Premier Pierre Mendes - France for a cease-fire. The began here April 26.

'Took Note'

In its final declaration, the conference "took note" of the cease-fire agreements signed earlier Wednesday by French, Cambodian, Laotian and Communist-led Vietminh officers to halt the 8-year-old struggle in Viet Nam, Cambodia and Laos.

The accords provide for the neutralization of the three Indochina states and the partition of Viet Nam along the 17th Parallel. The French are scheduled to evucate the big northern Indochina city of Hanoi and its port of Haiphong within 300 days.

The United States, through Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith, announced it would not subscribe to the settlements. It pledged, however, to refrain from threats or use of force to disturb them.

With the end of the conference leaders of the delegations prepared to depart. Eden led off by flying to London shortly after 7 p.m. Molotov left for Moscow in a Soviet military plane.

Mendes-France plans to fly to Paris and Smith to Washington Thursday. Chou, it was reported, would leave soon for Peiping.

Conferees Agree On Compromise Tax Revision Plan

Fight Seen In Senate

WASHINGTON (INS) — House and Senate conferees agreed Wednesday on a compromise tax revision measure including a 350 million dollar tax break for more than seven million corporation stockholders.

The measure, which now goes to the House and Senate for approval, would exempt the first 50 dollars of corporation income from any federal taxes.

In addition, the tax conference voted to give a tax credit of 4 per cent of the remaining dividend income. This means that the 4 per cent would be subtracted from the taxpayers final bill.

The provision would be effective for dividends received after July 31, 1954. Cost of the provision during the current fiscal year is 200 million dollars. However, conference committee spokesmen said the eventual cost will be about 350 million dollars a year.

Fight Seen

The House originally had provided for a 5 per cent tax credit during the present year and a 10 per cent credit thereafter. In addition, the exemption would go up to $100 after the first year.

However, the Senate knocked out all except the first $50 exemption.

A bitter fight on the Senate floor against the compromise provision was foreseen since the Senate had overwhelmingly approved their version earlier this month.

The estimated cost of the revision program which includes more than 3,000 major and minor changes in U. S. tax laws, is $1,363,000,000.

Committee spokesmen have refused to estimate the eventual loss of revenue to the government resulting from the provisions of the bill, some of which will be more expensive in later years.

However, House Democrats, who sharply opposed many of the provisions on the ground that they favored big business against the individual taxpayer estimated the eventual cost as high as 3½ billion dollars a year

Four City Cops Lose Deputy Sheriff 'Stars'

Lancaster County Sheriff Merle Karnopp has advised the County Board that he is recalling the deputization for four Lincoln policemen who were handling traffic on O from 1st to 9th.

Because this area has been taken back into the jurisdiction of the city in connection with the O Street viaduct, Karnopp said the four officers are no longer needed as "deputy sheriffs." Their deputization will be recalled and their bonds cancelled.

The four policemen are Robert Sommers, W. C. Satterwaite, Ed Frame and Dalton Marcelle.

Lincoln Man Denies Federal Indictment

George Dewey Hunter, 56. of 1432 O, pleaded not guilty in Federal Court here to a federal indictment that he engaged in the business of a retail liquor dealer and wilfully failed to pay the special tax thereon between July, 1953, to Jan. 10, 1954. Judge John W. Delehant ordered Hunter held for trial under $500 bond during the next jury term.

Conferees Agree On Compromise Tax Revision Plan

Fight Seen In Senate

WASHINGTON (INS) — House and Senate conferees agreed Wednesday on a compromise tax revision measure including a 350 million dollar tax break for more than seven million corporation stockholders.

The measure, which now goes to the House and Senate for approval, would exempt the first 50 dollars of corporation income from any federal taxes.

In addition, the tax conference voted to give a tax credit of 4 per cent of the remaining dividend income. This means that the 4 per cent would be subtracted from the taxpayers final bill.

The provision would be effective for dividends received after July 31, 1954. Cost of the provision during the current fiscal year is 200 million dollars. However, conference committee spokesmen said the eventual cost will be about 350 million dollars a year.

Fight Seen

The House originally had provided for a 5 per cent tax credit during the present year and a 10 per cent credit thereafter. In addition, the exemption would go up to $100 after the first year.

However, the Senate knocked out all except the first $50 exemption.

A bitter fight on the Senate floor against the compromise provision was foreseen since the Senate had overwhelmingly approved their version earlier this month.

The estimated cost of the revision program which includes more than 3,000 major and minor changes in U. S. tax laws, is $1,363,000,000.

Committee spokesmen have refused to estimate the eventual loss of revenue to the government resulting from the provisions of the bill, some of which will be more expensive in later years.

However, House Democrats, who sharply opposed many of the provisions on the ground that they favored big business against the individual taxpayer estimated the eventual cost as high as 3½ billion dollars a year.

Four City Cops Lose Deputy Sheriff 'Stars'

Lancaster County Sheriff Merle Karnopp has advised the County Board that he is recalling the deputization for four Lincoln policemen who were handling traffic on O from 1st to 9th.

Because this area has been taken back into the jurisdiction of the city in connection with the O Street viaduct, Karnopp said the four officers are no longer needed as "deputy sheriffs." Their deputization will be recalled and their bonds cancelled.

The four policemen are Robert Sommers, W. C. Satterwaite, Ed Frame and Dalton Marcelle.

Lincoln Man Denies Federal Indictment

George Dewey Hunter, 56, of 1432 O, pleaded not guilty in Federal Court here to a federal indictment that he engaged in the business of a retail liquor dealer and wilfully failed to pay the special tax thereon between July, 1953, to Jan. 10, 1954. Judge John W. Delehant ordered Hunter held for trial under $500 bond during the next jury term.

The Death Of Blair Moody

The unexpected death of Michigan's former U.S. Sen. Blair Moody brought sorrow not only to liberals of Michigan, but to his host of admirers everywhere in the nation. It cannot be gainsaid that his death greatly changed the political picture in Michigan, removing a formidable challenger for the Senate seat to which Sen. Homer Ferguson is seeking a return.

Blair, a Democrat, gained public distinction as a senator by appointment. His preparation for Washington political life did not find its source in party politics. He was a newspaperman—an outstanding reporter who spent years on the Washington beat as a commentator for his Detroit paper. His colleagues esteemed him as one of the capitol news fraternity's best. He received his senatorship by appointment as successor to the late Sen. Arthur Vandenberg. A confirmed liberal, he was an individual, who was right or wrong according to the political persuasions of those who judged him. But it was broadly conceded that he was a clear thinker, an honorable and a devoted public official.

It is always a loss to a nation to lose such a man. It is not necessary in a Democracy for all to think alike. Indeed, it is the very high level clash of freely asserted, patriotic principles that produces the great fruits of Democracy. Moody, as the opportunity offered, was one of those clean, pure forces.

Hope Grows Dimmer

The news from Washington on the matter of federal construction of the Gavins Point-Belden electric transmission line is not encouraging.

The 60 mile power line, costing $450,000, projected as an important link connecting Missouri Basin power to Nebraska's hungry distribution lines was knocked out in the House recently. Without that line Nebraska will be so near and yet so far from the abundant relief that basin power would give

A new drive for federal approval was started recently, spearheaded by Rep. Harrison, Neb., who proposed to introduce the appropriation as an amendment to the House supplemental appropriations bill Nebraska was hopeful of this move.

But news dispatches from Washington this week relate that Harrison has abandoned the move. He was quoted as saying that it would be a futile one.

Concurrently Gov. Robert Crosby described Nebraska's chances as now hanging on the slim thread of a promise of Senate consideration and possibly an effort to replace the appropriation when the House bill reaches it That, of course, would call for House acceptance later. But the governor added that his attempts to soften the resistance of key Congressman Ben Jensen, Ia., had been in vain. Jensen is ranking member of the House Appropriations Committee and has stood strongly against the appropriation.

Under such circumstances the immediate prospects for a federally constructed Belden line look remote Perhaps the early promise of basin power is destined to remain just a promise.

This will not take care of the growing needs of Nebraska, but make more urgent a large investment for the expansion of steam generation capacity. Pending by the Nebraska Public Power System already is a $17 million plant near Beatrice. The 30,000 kw supply from the basin source coming in on a line that would cost but $450,000, while not matching the output of the proposed Beatrice steam plant, still is an especially attractive form of partial relief.

It is possible that Nebraska will have to contrive is own manner of tapping the rich potential of basin electricity either through state public power financing of the Belden line or some semi-private emergency move. One thing is certain—Nebraska should run no risk of waiving its rights to basin power lest the state's share ultimately be contracted away to other users.

The expense of building lines to federal sources has not been the usual procedure and the financing and operating picture in Nebraska public power did not contemplate such a change in federal policy. If line construction to sources becomes a new expense Nebraska's electric operation faces the threat of hardship.

But there is no longer a question of Washington's new cold attitude toward public power and the Belden line misfortunes are bringing that fact home to Nebraska.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

PALOS VERDES, Calif.—"You tell 'em, Bill" Department: One of the last columns written by the late Arthur Brisbane described an air trip from Los Angeles to Paris—from sun-up to sun-down. . . . Bill Henry of the Los Angeles Times did not breakfast at home, have an early lunch in New York City and dinner in Paris, but he did climb aboard one of those big DC-7's in Washington and in a few hours disembarked for the Gold Cup races here.

Where Farms Are Farms

What interested me in Henry's description of a "quickie" was his reference to Nebraska. He wrote in part that "the new DC-7's make it possible to have lunch in Washington and dinner in Los Angeles or, if your schedule calls for an earlier arrival, breakfast in Washington and an early afternoon arrival here. The slower overnight transcontinental hops to which most of us are addicted are the best time-savers, but you certainly do miss a lot of fun. You don't see anything. . . . To me there is nothing so certain to raise at touch of patriotism in your bosom as that sweep across the rich prairies of Iowa, Nebraska and Colorado that ends so abruptly and so gloriously as you come to the majestic barrier of the Rockies. . . . If that doesn't give you a thrill—you're dead! Then Mr. Henry speaks of America's great breadbasket with the feel of a native midwesterner.

★

"You're sailing along across Nebraska, you've passed Des Moines far back and are beyond Omaha. To the south you see those Triangular air bases every so many miles—makes you feel better about our defenses—(apparently a reference to Lincoln, Grand Island, and the Hastings naval depot) and you're fascinated to see below you the checkerboard area, parallel north and south roads, and east and west roads cutting the rich farm land into identical squares (section lines). You wonder idly how big they are—you're up pretty high and it is hard to guess."

No Basis For A Comparison

For his information, Mr. Henry should understand that in the days of early settlement, each section of the rich prairie farm land embraced four family-sized farms of 160 acres each. They represented the big heart of Uncle Sam in making free lands available to his sons and daughters. Them days are gone forever. The farms are getting bigger and bigger in this machine age which enables one man to do the work 10 laboriously performed before the turn of the century. That, in part, explains the decline of rural population and the rise of great metropolitan urban centers such as this one in Southern California. They speak of the farms here. They are farms, intensively developed, producing great quantities of perishable foods, but 15 acres under this type of operation is a big farm, and orchards covering 25 acres are real whoppers. Then there is the ranch—and in the early days a grant of from six to 10 thousand acres raised the owner to the estate of an aristocrat. There are no holdings which compare in area to some of the ranches of the Nebraska Sandhills but the infinite variety of operation could well leave Mr. Henry curiously speculating upon size and methods in mid-America as he winged westward in flight to a region which still furnishes reminders of its early Spanish settlements.

★

On an earlier trip here we came across the farm which until a few days before had been owned by a former President of the United States, Herbert Hoover. It was located in one of these hot, inland valleys, between the high and low Sierras, level as a table, 90 miles across to foothills, the bulk of it under irrigation. It had been sold, we were told, for 750 thousand dollars for the 1,200 acres it embraced. One field was devoted to long fiber cotton, another boasted of an orchard of nuts, still another of oranges and grapefruit. Then there were alfalfa and cattle and a little bit of everything else thrown in. But that was rare. Such gigantic operations called for imagination, and more than imagination, it required capital. Whatever else may be said, the best advice is never to sell America short—east, west, north or south. It is becoming more mature in a world which in the last 100 years doubled in population to move towards the peak against all previous centuries of time.

What Price Help?

The old saying that a friend in need is a friend indeed is apparently just another one of those decadent capitalist errors.

Now that the Guatemala Red regime is back on relief with poor prospects of early re-employment, a few things are coming to light that are more or less indicative of Communist friendship.

When former President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman felt that he needed to bolster his shaky Red administration prior to the counter-revolution he sent an official representative behind Europe's Iron Curtain to see what his big friends would do for him in the way of guns and ammunition. The European Communists gave his man the big hello and promptly sat down to do him instead of doing something for him.

The result was the Guzman administration got stuck between $5 and $10 million for arms and ammo. nothing free to a friend and no cut rates either. When the stuff arrived Mr. Guzman found he had been well trimmed. He got packing cases full of old Czech machine guns that wouldn't work, a number of heavy wheeled, obsolete field pieces with worn out barre's wholly unsuited for mountain warfare or any serious shooting for that matter. To make it worse, there was a large amount of outdated ammunition that wouldn't fit any of the guns.

One Of Us, Now

As long as historians can remember, Rhode Island has been slow in playing along with the United States. It was a holdout against ratifying the constitution. It viewed the war of 1812 with a jaundiced eye, and considered with several other Yankee states, seceding from the union on account of it. Moreover, Rhode Island never did adopt a state bird which all other states have long since done. But we are glad now to report at long last that Rhode Island has decided to play it up to the hilt with the rest of us. It has named its state bird. Guess what? The Rhode Island Red chicken.

Secrets Poorly Kept By Private Industry

WASHINGTON — Congressmen who plan to give atomic secrets to private industry under Eisenhower's proposed new Atomic Energy act might take a look at Justice Department and Senate records to see what private industry did with important secrets in the past.

The record, spelled out in the Truman committee and Munitions committee hearings, shows that our potential enemies got access to priceless military secrets, some of them the property of the U.S. government, as follows:

The Electric Boat Company, now making the atomic submarine, paid commissions to the famed munitions peddler Sir Basil Zaharoff, to sell submarines around the world; and the U. S. Navy submarine plans were sold to both the Japanese and the Germans around 1914

The Bausch and Lomb Optical Company made a secret deal with Carl Zeiss of Germany whereby the Germans got the blue prints for the U.S. Navy submarine sights.

Standard Oil of New Jersey made a deal with I G. Farben of Germany which prevented the United States from developing synthetic rubber for four years.

The Aluminum Corporation of America worked out a monopoly deal with I. G. Farben which kept magnesium away from the American aircraft industry and retarded our production of airplanes

The Radio Corporation of America, which had observers attached to the U.S. Army Signal Corps when the Signal Corps developed the priceless secret of radar, hired one of the signal corps technicians, William D. Hershberger and then filed Radar patents in Japan and other foreign countries.

This, in brief, is the past record. American industrialists, it is hoped, have attained a higher standard of ethics today but the atomic-energy secrets they would get from the governmnet under the proposed new Atomic Energy Bill are the most valuable in the world. They cost the taxpayer $12,000,000,000 to develop.

PARADOXICAL ARKANSAN

Sen. John McClellan, junior senator from Arkansas, whose slow southern drawl and horn-rimmed glasses became known to TV millions during the Army-McCarthy hearings, is a man of puzzling contrasts.

For many years in the Senate McClellan was considered one of McCarthy's staunch supporters. When Democratic senators would line up to count noses regarding an issue dealing with McCarthyism, there were always three colleagues they could not depend on—McCarran of Nevada, Eastland of Mississippi and McClellan of Arkansas, all Democrats. Democratic leaders just never could tell when McClellan would end up voting with Joe.

This was probably because of McClellan's economic ties back in Arkansas. If you look up the clients of McClellan's law firm, Gaughan McClellan and Gaughan of Camden, you will find that it represents Esso Standard Oil, Tidewater Associated Oil, Seaboard oil of Deleware, and Carter Oil.

Undoubtedly this explains McClellan's vote for Tidelands Oil and gives a clue to the overtures which H. L. Hunt, the Texas Oil millionaire, has made to McClellan. Hunt, who is a strong backer for McCarthy, a former employer of Mrs. McCarthy, and operates Facts Forum and various TV-radio programs, tried to pressure McClellan at the start of the hearings. Hunt phoned Hamilton Moses, president of Arkansas Power and Light, and told Ham to have the senator from Arkansas cooperate with the senator from Wisconsin. Moses is very close to McClellan, usually swings his vote on power matters.

This is how the Senator from Arkansas has found himself betwixt and between regarding McCarthy. Some of his most powerful friends and political backers were behind McCarthy; yet the Baptists and Methodists of Arkansas were bitterly against him.

This was probably why McClellan while tangling with McCarthy during the McCarthy hearings, told a reporter for the Arkansas Democrat that personally he liked Joe and had enjoyed a close association with him.

This may also explain why McClellan gave an interview in Little Rock on April 19 stating that he "never had reason to doubt the sincerity of McCarthy in his crusade against Communism" and that McCarthy was motivated by the "highest type of Americanism."

DEMOCRATS' MISTAKES

It's been partially obscured by sensational headlines of housing profits, but the basic trouble with FHA is the fact that the agency was set up by the builders and realtors, administered by the builders and realtors, and run for the benefit of the builders and realtors.

The Democrats deserve plenty of criticism for this setup, but that is no reason for having the Republicans repeat the same mistake. And its possible repetition could take place under new proposals by the Eisenhower administration in other industries, as follows:

1. The health insurance bill recently defeated by the Democrats. This was to operate on the same principle as the Housing Administration—namely, government guarantees. Just as the government guaranteed housing loans and took the loss if the loans went sour, so the insurance companies were to have health loans guaranteed. If they went sour, Uncle Sam paid the bill. This made for irresponsible loans in the housing field, and would probably make for irresponsible loans in the health field.

2. Atomic energy and private power—Here is another case where, under the Eisenhower order to the AEC, a private utility would be subsidized by the government for 25 years and at the end of that time the private utility could own the plant built under government contract and guarantee. Uncle Sam would even pay the taxes for the private company.

MAMIE'S NIGHTMARE

Mamie Eisenhower had such a terrifying dream the other afternoon that she confided to friends she wished she had never gone to sleep.

She took a short cat-nap while Ike was out playing golf and dreamed she had become blind. The dream was so horrible that she was white and nervous when the President returned to the White House.

Later she learned that two guests had tiptoed through the room while she was asleep.

"I wish to goodness they had awakened me," she told her friends.

DORIS FLEESON

McCarthy May Not Avoid Senate Vote

WASHINGTON — For the first time, a reasonable chance exists that the Senate will accept its responsibility for the behavior of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy.

It can be no more than a chance, with the Republican leadership still seeking to avoid the struggle and with the White House remaining mute. In such a situation lie the excuses for evasion of the issue by senators more afraid of being called pink than yellow.

Definite advances, however, have been made by the anti-McCarthy forces. They have improved the form of their challenge and they have an important recruit in Sen. John McClellan (D.), of Arkansas, behind whom the hitherto rather indifferent Southerners will be inclined to rally.

* * *

Sen. McClellan is responsibly described here as having promised to support the Flanders resolution of censure if this were postponed to the end of July, when his tough campaign for re-nomination is over. Arkansas sources say darkly he has yet to be so definite on the McCarthy issue back home.

Nonetheless, whatever his other faults, McClellan is not devious. If he has led Republican Senator Ralph Flanders of Vermont and fellow-Democrats into a firm impression, he will perform on schedule. If renominated, he has, of course, nothing to fear in the general election and, if defeated, nothing to lose.

In fact, if he loses, McCarthy might be the reason. His antagonist, former Governor McMath, has made much of McClellan's past inaction on the McCarthy issue.

Democrats realize that, if they do not substantially support Flanders, they will lose McCarthyism as an election issue. Their many candidates who contend that the best solution is to elect a Democratic congress and so fatally cripple McCarthy he would look ridiculous.

Another important Democrat who will be relieved of political anxiety by July 30 is Senate Minority Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas. Johnson will surely win his primary this week but, as an aspirant for the presidency, he needs a big vote of confidence.

When he won his first-term nomination with a majority of only 87 votes, including those from controversial Duvall County, Johnson was nicknamed "Landslide Lyndon." Under the circumstances it is not precisely the best nickname for a presidential campaign; he is hoping and expecting to erase it this year.

A last-minute outburst by such McCarthy admirers in Texas as the Minute Women and Bricker-amendment advocates with some financing from the oil millionaires, might cut down Johnson's vote considerably. It is believed he was a prime mover of the postponement strategy on the Flanders resolution.

* * *

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R., Me.) and McClellan's colleague, Sen. William Fulbright (D Ark), are among the senators who have helped persuade him to put it in its present form.

The original, they told him, was practically and psychologically unwise. Any threat to deprive any senator of a chairmanship almost automatically puts standing chairmen and all high-ranking senators in the opposition camp.

The censure motion is clear-cut and direct, privileged matter not subject to parliamentary blocks. And if successful, it can later be used to fight a McCarthy chairmanship.

Behind the scenes, the President could decisively affect the issue by private, arms-length appeals to such men as Sen. Prescott Bush (R.) of Connecticut. He is doing nothing, though the McCarthy faction gives him all his legislative trouble in his party and has nowhere else to go.

MAN'S BEST FRIEND

Bath-Loving Brown Clown

By ALLEN EDEE
Star Staff Writer

JAMES, JILL AND TOM COLE WITH COCO
. . . admires a silent TV screen . . .

Coco, the brown clown, may some day straighten himself out with a session on the psychiatrist's couch, but the Dr. Frank Cole family now chuckles daily over his hilarious antics and oddities.

This one-year-old is bred to be a hunter, but as a house dog for the Coles at 2430 Lake, he seems more like an offspring of Rin Tin Tin.

In the winter he sleeps on an electric blanket and in the summer he cannot get out of an air-conditioned room.

Romping through the house with his teddy bear or cowboy hat, the American water spaniel reminds one of an overgrown kid. He even has a "toy box," a log holder near the fireplace, which holds a deposit of ragged and torn dog toys.

☆ ☆ ☆

As a water spaniel, one can possibly expect Coco to sit right on the water sprinkler to soak up the refreshing stream, but even slightly more unorthodox is his great desire to jump into the bathtub, preferably with some member of the Cole family. Such a petulant move, however, is severely discouraged, especially when he drinks the bath water with such a lap and a gulp that the bather is worried lest he be left high and dry.

Another not so spanielish act is to eat padding under the carpet, shoes and stockings.

This dog will not simply chew on such articles, but actually digest the undigestable.

He has even been seen chewing on the label from a can of dog food.

☆ ☆ ☆

Coco went to obedience training to smooth up his repertoire of standard dog tricks, such as sitting, shaking hands, and coming when spoken to, but has completed his finishing school more disobedient than before.

The dog loves to put his paws, dirty or clean, on one of the family and silently beg for a little workout in boxing.

When the dusk comes, he will settle down right on a person's feet and curl up to sleep. This might be due to some lack of security the dog feels, a psychiatrist might say, but for Coco, it seems natural.

Coco likes to look at the television set best when it is off, for the vain dog intently watches her reflection on the highly polished glass screen.

When the Coles decide to go for a ride, the constant race with Coco begins. They hop into the car and off they go with a chocolate-colored flappy-eared companion racing alongside the car. For four or five blocks the happy dog glides beside the moving vehicle. Then it is Coco that "runs out of gas." He is always found sitting on the porch waiting for the family to catch up with him at home.

POSTCARD

Now I suppose it is well known that I have a scientific relationship with a young lady scientist. We discuss many scientific problems. Such as why grass is green and the sky blue. Instead of the other way around.

Whether grasshoppers have families. And do raccoons bite you even if you don't tease them. And are cows really happy. My friend is a ripe 10 years old.

"Tell me," she said, "about the birds and bees."

"My dear," I said. "I have been anticipating this question. For it says in the books that such questions come in a parent's life. And must be answered promptly else great harm is inflicted on the young.

"But for the life of me I cannot remember what the book said was the answer. However, state your problem."

"Why do birds and bees fly?" she said.

"Daughter," I said, "For a moment I thought you were about to wring a confession out of your poor old father. As to the flying qualities of birds and bees, it is a simple matter of aerodynamics. I would not burden your small mind with it.

"However," I said. "I am pleased to find you interested in our furred and feathered friends. And I shall relate a story for the occasion."

"About a bear named Horace?" she said.

"About the birds and bees." I said.

"I am involved in Mankind." wrote John Donne. Now I believe this is true. But mankind is surprisingly involved with the animal kingdom.

All you have to do to verify this is to look at your daily newspaper. Throughout you will find a great deal of news of animals. Particularly animals who act like humans.

For instance. Blackpool. England, reports:

"A talking bird flew into a house here, settled on a woman's shoulder and said: 'I'm Pretty Topsy of 131 Hornby road, Blackpool.'

"She was."

Such items are of great interest to the public. Though I cannot understand exactly why. This proves the bird could talk. It also proves that Pretty Topsy told the truth, an admirable quality in a bird.

But virtue is seldom news. Suppose she had not told the truth. Suppose she had lit on the woman's shoulder and said: "I am Pretty President Eisenhower of 1600 Pennsylvania avenue, Washington, D. C."

I would give news space to a bird like that. It would indicate a certain wild spirit. I would be very much interested to know a talking bird was going around identifying herself as the President of the United States.

I have noted by the London papers that talking birds are constantly flying in to somebody and identifying themselves. Always correctly. A change is needed here.

"But what about the birds and bees?" asked my scientist friend.

"The National Snapdragon Society," I said, "reports that pollination of new types of snapdragons now involves three separate hand operations. Plucking of petals and so forth. All of which is impossible for a bee. Since, as you are aware, a bee has no hands. This disposes of bees. To my mind they are of little use except for making honey and are also likely to sting you for no apparent reason."

"What is pollination?" she asked.

"My dear," I said, "your father is an extremely busy man. And I believe this is where we came in."

The Hiss Case

Anselmo, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: It seems to me we sometimes get all "het up" about things and don't reason as we should. Hiss was sentenced by a judge and jury to a year in the penitentiary for perjury. Was that penalty enough? Some seem to think not—that he was much more guilty and should have been penalized much more heavily, perhaps have his citizenship taken away.

A year's imprisonment was fixed as the payment for his misconduct. After he has paid the penalty pronounced, should we keep thinking of more punishment for him? If a man pays his penalty once, isn't that enough? No doubt he is as much entitled to his pension as a lot of others who have misrepresented and been let off quite easy. Or do we want to make a special law for every case?

Government Subsidies

Hebron, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Drew Pearson in his July 15 column gives some interesting subsidies paid by the United States treasurer from the 1953 budget, and who received them. The veteran's administration received $4,214,000,000. The farmers received $523,000,000 for crop support, conservation of soil and other government help. Big business received $1,214,000,000 and it is big business that has yelled so loud about creeping Socialism.

The big utilities companies spend an average of $500,000 a year on their lobby to influence Congress. One utility combine has just put across a 25-year contract with the Atomic Energy Commission, despite the opposition of a majority of the commission. Under this contract, the combine will invest only $5,200,000, will be guaranteed a substantial return by Uncle Sam, and will own the plant at the end of 25 years. The government has spent around 12 billion dollars on atomic energy and it looks now as if they are paying the big utility companies to take it off their hands.

The public hears very little of the subsidies paid the iron and steel corporations, the shipping and airline companies, but they do hear about the subsidies paid the farmer.

The Death Of Blair Moody

The unexpected death of Michigan's former U.S. Sen. Blair Moody brought sorrow not only to liberals of Michigan, but to his host of admirers everywhere in the nation. It cannot be gainsaid that his death greatly changed the political picture in Michigan, removing a formidable challenger for the Senate seat to which Sen. Homer Ferguson is seeking a return.

Blair, a Democrat, gained public distinction as a senator by appointment. His preparation for Washington political life did not find its source in party politics. He was a newspaperman—an outstanding reporter who spent years on the Washington beat as a commentator for his Detroit paper. His colleagues esteemed him as one of the capitol news fraternity's best. He received his senatorship by appointment as successor to the late Sen. Arthur Vandenberg. A confirmed liberal, he was an individual, who was right or wrong according to the political persuasions of those who judged him. But it was broadly conceded that he was a clear thinker, an honorable and a devoted public official.

It is always a loss to a nation to lose such a man. It is not necessary in a Democracy for all to think alike. Indeed, it is the very high level clash of freely asserted, patriotic principles that produces the great fruits of Democracy. Moody, as the opportunity offered, was one of those clear, pure forces.

Hope Grows Dimmer

The news from Washington on the matter of federal construction of the Gavins Point-Belden electric transmission line is not encouraging.

The 60 mile power line, costing $450,000, projected as an important link connecting Missouri Basin power to Nebraska's hungry distribution lines was knocked out in the House recently. Without that line Nebraska will be so near and yet so far from the abundant relief that basin power would give.

A new drive for federal approval was started recently, spearheaded by Rep. Harrison, Neb., who proposed to introduce the appropriation as an amendment to the House supplemental appropriations bill. Nebraska was hopeful of this move.

But news dispatches from Washington this week relate that Harrison has abandoned the move. He was quoted as saying that it would be a futile one.

Concurrently Gov. Robert Crosby described Nebraska's chances as now hanging on the slim thread of a promise of Senate consideration and possibly an effort to replace the appropriation when the House bill reaches it. That, of course, would call for House acceptance later. But the governor added that his attempts to soften the resistance of key Congressman Ben Jensen, Ia., had been in vain. Jensen is ranking member of the House Appropriations Committee and has stood strongly against the appropriation.

Under such circumstances the immediate prospects for a federally constructed Belden line look remote. Perhaps the early promise of basin power is destined to remain just a promise.

This will not take care of the growing needs of Nebraska, but make more urgent a large investment for the expansion of steam generation capacity. Pending by the Nebraska Public Power System already is a $17 million plant near Beatrice. The 30,000 kw supply from the basin source coming in on a line that would cost but $450,000, while not matching the output of the proposed Beatrice steam plant, still is an especially attractive form of partial relief.

It is possible that Nebraska will have to contrive is own manner of tapping the rich potential of basin electricity either through state public power financing of the Belden line or some semi-private emergency move. One thing is certain—Nebraska should run no risk of waiving its rights to basin power lest the state's share ultimately be contracted away to other users.

The expense of building lines to federal sources has not been the usual procedure and the financing and operating picture in Nebraska public power did not contemplate such a change in federal policy. If line construction to sources becomes a new expense Nebraska's electric operation faces the threat of hardship.

But there is no longer a question of Washington's new cold attitude toward public power and the Belden line misfortunes are bringing that fact home to Nebraska.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

PALOS VERDES, Calif.—"You tell 'em, Bill" Department: One of the last columns written by the late Arthur Brisbane described an air trip from Los Angeles to Paris—from sun-up to sun-down. . . . Bill Henry of the Los Angeles Times did not breakfast at home, have an early lunch in New York City and dinner in Paris, but he did climb aboard one of those big DC-7's in Washington and in a few hours disembarked for the Gold Cup races here.

Where Farms Are Farms

What interested me in Henry's description of a "quickie" was his reference to Nebraska. He wrote in part that "the new DC-7's make it possible to have lunch in Washington and dinner in Los Angeles or, if your schedule calls for an earlier arrival, breakfast in Washington and an early afternoon arrival here. The slower overnight transcontinental hops to which most of us are addicted are the best time-savers, but you certainly do miss a lot of fun. You don't see anything. . . . To me there is nothing so certain to raise at touch of patriotism in your bosom as that sweep across the rich prairies of Iowa, Nebraska and Colorado that ends so abruptly and so gloriously as you come to the majestic barrier of the Rockies. . . . If that doesn't give you a thrill—you're dead! Then Mr. Henry speaks of America's great breadbasket with the feel of a native midwesterner.

★

"You're sailing along across Nebraska, you've passed Des Moines far back and are beyond Omaha. To the south you see those Triangular air bases every so many miles—makes you feel better about our defenses—(apparently a reference to Lincoln, Grand Island, and the Hastings naval depot) and you're fascinated to see below you the checkerboard area, parallel north and south roads, and east and west roads cutting the rich farm land into identical squares (section lines). You wonder idly how big they are—you're up pretty high and it is hard to guess."

No Basis For A Comparison

For his information, Mr. Henry should understand that in the days of early settlement, each section of the rich prairie farm land embraced four family-sized farms of 160 acres each. They represented the big heart of Uncle Sam in making free lands available to his sons and daughters. Them days are gone forever. The farms are getting bigger and bigger in this machine age which enables one man to do the work 10 laboriously performed before the turn of the century. That, in part, explains the decline of rural population and the rise of great metropolitan urban centers such as this one in Southern California. They speak of the farms here. They are farms, intensively developed, producing great quantities of perishable foods, but 15 acres under this type of operation is a big farm, and orchards covering 25 acres are real whoppers. Then there is the ranch—and in the early days a grant of from six to 10 thousand acres raised the owner to the estate of an aristocrat. There are no holdings which compare in area to some of the ranches of the Nebraska Sandhills but the infinite variety of operation could well leave Mr. Henry curiously speculating upon size and methods in mid-America as he winged westward in flight to a region which still furnishes reminders of its early Spanish settlements.

★

On an earlier trip here we came across the farm which until a few days before had been owned by a former President of the United States, Herbert Hoover. It was located in one of these hot, inland valleys, between the high and low Sierras, level as a table, 90 miles across to foothills, the bulk of it under irrigation. It had been sold, we were told, for 750 thousand dollars for the 1,200 acres it embraced. One field was devoted to long fiber cotton, another boasted of an orchard of nuts, still another of oranges and grapefruit. Then there were alfalfa and cattle and a little bit of everything else thrown in. But that was rare. Such gigantic operations called for imagination, and more than imagination, it required capital. Whatever else may be said, the best advice is never to sell America short—east, west, north or south. It is becoming more mature in a world which in the last 100 years doubled in population to move towards the peak against all previous centuries of time.

What Price Help?

The old saying that a friend in need is a friend indeed is apparently just another one of those decadent capitalist errors.

Now that the Guatemala Red regime is back on relief with poor prospects of early re-employment, a few things are coming to light that are more or less indicative of Communist friendship.

When former President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman felt that he needed to bolster his shaky Red administration prior to the counter-revolution he sent an official representative behind Europe's Iron Curtain to see what his big friends would do for him in the way of guns and ammunition. The European Communists gave his man the big hello and promptly sat down to do him instead of doing something for him.

The result was the Guzman administration got stuck between $5 and $10 million for arms and ammo, nothing free to a friend and no cut rates either. When the stuff arrived Mr. Guzman found he had been well trimmed. He got packing cases full of old Czech machine guns that wouldn't work, a number of heavy wheeled, obsolete field pieces with worn out barrels wholly unsuited for mountain warfare or any serious shooting for that matter. To make it worse, there was a large amount of outdated ammunition that wouldn't fit any of the guns.

One Of Us, Now

As long as historians can remember, Rhode Island has been slow in playing along with the United States. It was a holdout against ratifying the constitution. It viewed the war of 1812 with a jaundiced eye, and considered with several other Yankee states, seceding from the union on account of it. Moreover, Rhode Island never did adopt a state bird which all other states have long since done. But we are glad now to report at long last that Rhode Island has decided to play it up to the hilt with the rest of us. It has named its state bird. Guess what? The Rhode Island Red chicken.

Secrets Poorly Kept By Private Industry

WASHINGTON — Congressmen who plan to give atomic secrets to private industry under Eisenhower's proposed new Atomic Energy act might take a look at Justice Department and Senate records to see what private industry did with important secrets in the past.

This, in brief, is the past record. American industrialists, it is hoped, have attained a higher standard of ethics today, but the atomic-energy secrets they would get from the governmnet under the proposed new Atomic Energy Bill are the most valuable in the world. They cost the taxpayer $12,000,000,000 to develop.

DEMOCRATS' MISTAKES

It's been partially obscured by sensational headlines of housing profits, but the basic trouble with FHA is the fact that the agency was set up by the builders and realtors, administered by the builders and realtors, and run for the benefit of the builders and realtors.

The Democrats deserve plenty of criticism for this setup, but that is no reason for having the Republicans repeat the same mistake. And its possible repetition could take place under new proposals by the Eisenhower administration in other industries, as follows:

1. The health insurance bill recently defeated by the Democrats. This was to operate on the same principle as the Housing Administration—namely, government guarantees. Just as the government guaranteed housing loans and took the loss if the loans went sour, so the insurance companies were to have health loans guaranteed. If they went sour, Uncle Sam paid the bill. This made for irresponsible loans in the housing field, and would probably make for irresponsible loans in the health field.

2. Atomic energy and private power—Here is another case where, under the Eisenhower order to the AEC, a private utility would be subsidized by the government for 25 years and at the end of that time the private utility could own the plant built under government contract and guarantee. Uncle Sam would even pay the taxes for the private company.

MAMIE'S NIGHTMARE

Mamie Eisenhower had such a terrifying dream the other afternoon that she confided to friends she wished she had never gone to sleep.

She took a short cat-nap while Ike was out playing golf and dreamed she had become blind. The dream was so horrible that she was white and nervous when the President returned to the White House.

Later she learned that two guests had tiptoed through the room while she was asleep.

"I wish to goodness they had awakened me," she told her friends.

McCarthy May Not Avoid Senate Vote

WASHINGTON — For the first time, a reasonable chance exists that the Senate will accept its responsibility for the behavior of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy.

It can be no more than a chance, with the Republican leadership still seeking to avoid the struggle and with the White House remaining mute. In such a situation lie the excuses for evasion of the issue by senators more afraid of being called pink than yellow.

Definite advances, however, have been made by the anti-McCarthy forces. They have improved the form of their challenge and they have an important recruit in Sen. John McClellan (D.), of Arkansas, behind whom the hitherto rather indifferent Southerners will be inclined to rally.

Sen. McClellan is responsibly described here as having promised to support the Flanders resolution of censure if this were postponed to the end of July, when his tough campaign for re-nomination is over. Arkansas sources say darkly he has yet to be so definite on the McCarthy issue back home.

Nonetheless, whatever his other faults, McClellan is not devious. If he has led Republican Senator Ralph Flanders of Vermont and fellow-Democrats into a firm impression, he will perform on schedule. If renominated, he has, of course, nothing to fear in the general election and, if defeated, nothing to lose.

In fact, if he loses, McCarthy might be the reason. His antagonist, former Governor McMath, has made much of McClellan's past inaction on the McCarthy issue.

Democrats realize that, if they do not substantially support Flanders, they will lose McCarthyism as an election issue. Their many candidates who contend that the best solution is to elect a Democratic congress and so fatally cripple McCarthy he would look ridiculous.

Another important Democrat who will be relieved of political anxiety by July 30 is Senate Minority Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas. Johnson will surely win his primary this week but, as an aspirant for the presidency, he needs a big vote of confidence.

When he won his first-term nomination with a majority of only 87 votes, including those from controversial Duvall County, Johnson was nicknamed "Landslide Lyndon." Under the circumstances it is not precisely the best nickname for a presidential campaign; he is hoping and expecting to erase it this year.

A last-minute outburst by such McCarthy admirers in Texas as the Minute Women and Bricker-amendment advocates with some financing from the oil millionaires, might cut down Johnson's vote considerably. It is believed he was a prime mover of the postponement strategy on the Flanders resolution.

☆ ☆ ☆

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R., Me.) and McClellan's colleague, Sen. William Fulbright (D Ark), are among the senators who have helped persuade him to put it in its present form.

The original, they told him, was practically and psychologically unwise. Any threat to deprive any senator of a chairmanship almost automatically puts standing chairmen and all high-ranking senators in the opposition camp.

The censure motion is clear-cut and direct, privileged matter not subject to parliamentary blocks. And if successful, it can later be used to fight a McCarthy chairmanship.

Behind the scenes, the President could decisively affect the issue by private, arms-length appeals to such men as Sen. Prescott Bush (R.) of Connecticut. He is doing nothing, though the McCarthy faction gives him all his legislative trouble in his party and has nowhere else to go.

MAN'S BEST FRIEND

Bath-Loving Brown Clown

By ALLEN EDEE
Star Staff Writer

Coco, the brown clown, may some day straighten himself out with a session on the psychiatrist's couch, but the Dr. Frank Cole family now chuckles daily over his hilarious antics and oddities.

This one-year-old is bred to be a hunter, but as a house dog for the Coles at 2430 Lake, he seems more like an offspring of Rin Tin Tin.

In the winter he sleeps on an electric blanket and in the summer he cannot get out of an air-conditioned room.

Romping through the house with his teddy bear or cowboy hat, the American water spaniel reminds one of an overgrown kid. He even has a "toy box," a log holder near the fireplace, which holds a deposit of ragged and torn dog toys.

☆ ☆ ☆

As a water spaniel, one can possibly expect Coco to sit right on the water sprinkler to soak up the refreshing stream, but even slightly more unorthodox is his great desire to jump into the bathtub, preferably with some member of the Cole family. Such a petulant move, however, is severely discouraged, especially when he drinks the bath water with such a lap and a gulp that the bather is worried lest he be left high and dry.

Another not so spanielish act is to eat padding under the carpet, shoes and stockings.

This dog will not simply chew on such articles, but actually digest the undigestable.

He has even been seen chewing on the label from a can of dog food.

☆ ☆ ☆

Coco went to obedience training to smooth up his repertoire of standard dog tricks, such as sitting, shaking hands, and coming when spoken to, but has completed his finishing school more disobedient than before.

The dog loves to put his paws, dirty or clean, on one of the family and silently beg for a little workout in boxing.

When the dusk comes, he will settle down right on a person's feet and curl up to sleep. This might be due to some lack of security the dog feels, a psychiatrist might say, but for Coco, it seems natural.

Coco likes to look at the television set best when it is off, for the vain dog intently watches her reflection on the highly polished glass screen.

When the Coles decide to go for a ride, the constant race with Coco begins. They hop into the car and off they go with a chocolate-colored flappy-eared companion racing alongside the car. For four or five blocks the happy dog glides beside the moving vehicle. Then it is Coco that "runs out of gas." He is always found sitting on the porch waiting for the family to catch up with him at home.

POSTCARD

Now I suppose it is well known that I have a scientific relationship with a young lady scientist. We discuss many scientific problems. Such as why grass is green and the sky blue. Instead of the other way around.

Whether grasshoppers have families. And do raccoons bite you even if you don't tease them. And are cows really happy. My friend is a ripe 10 years old.

"Tell me," she said, "about the birds and bees."

"My dear," I said, "I have been anticipating this question. For it says in the books that such questions come in a parent's life. And must be answered promptly else great harm is inflicted on the young.

"But for the life of me I cannot remember what the book said was the answer. However, state your problem."

"Why do birds and bees fly?" she said.

"Daughter," I said, "For a moment I thought you were about to wring a confession out of your poor old father. As to the flying qualities of birds and bees, it is a simple matter of aerodynamics. I would not burden your small mind with it.

"However," I said, "I am pleased to find you interested in our furred and feathered friends. And I shall relate a story for the occasion."

"About a bear named Horace?" she said.

"About the birds and bees," I said.

"I am involved in Mankind," wrote John Donne. Now I believe this is true. But mankind is surprisingly involved with the animal kingdom.

All you have to do to verify this is to look at your daily newspaper. Throughout you will find a great deal of news of animals. Particularly animals who act like humans.

For instance, Blackpool, England, reports:

"A talking bird flew into a house here, settled on a woman's shoulder and said: 'I'm Pretty Topsy of 131 Hornby road, Blackpool.'

"She was."

Such items are of great interest to the public. Though I cannot understand exactly why. This proves the bird could talk. It also proves that Pretty Topsy told the truth, an admirable quality in a bird.

But virtue is seldom news. Suppose she had not told the truth. Suppose she had lit on the woman's shoulder and said: "I am Pretty President Eisenhower of 1600 Pennsylvania avenue, Washington, D. C."

I would give news space to a bird like that. It would indicate a certain wild spirit. I would be very much interested to know a talking bird was going around identifying herself as the President of the United States.

I have noted by the London papers that talking birds are constantly flying in to somebody and identifying themselves. Always correctly. A change is needed here.

"But what about the birds and bees?" asked my scientist friend.

"The National Snapdragon Society," I said, "reports that pollination of new types of snapdragons now involves three separate hand operations. Plucking of petals and so forth. All of which is impossible for a bee. Since, as you are aware, a bee has no hands. This disposes of bees. To my mind they are of little use except for making honey and are also likely to sting you for no apparent reason."

"What is pollination?" she asked.

"My dear," I said, "your father is an extremely busy man. And I believe this is where we came in."

The Hiss Case

Anselmo, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: It seems to me we sometimes get all "het up" about things and don't reason as we should. Hiss was sentenced by a judge and jury to a year in the penitentiary for perjury. Was that penalty enough? Some seem to think not—that he was much more guilty and should have been penalized much more heavily, perhaps have his citizenship taken away.

A year's imprisonment was fixed as the payment for his misconduct. After he has paid the penalty pronounced, should we keep thinking of more punishment for him? If a man pays his penalty once, isn't that enough? No doubt he is as much entitled to his pension as a lot of others who have misrepresented and been let off quite easy. Or do we want to make a special law for every case?

Government Subsidies

Hebron, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Drew Pearson in his July 15 column gives some interesting subsidies paid by the United States treasurer from the 1953 budget, and who received them. The veteran's administration received $4,214,000,000. The farmers received $523,000,000 for crop support, conservation of soil and other government help. Big business received $1,214,000,000 and it is big business that has yelled so loud about creeping Socialism.

The big utilities companies spend an average of $500,000 a year on their lobby to influence Congress. One utility combine has just put across a 25-year contract with the Atomic Energy Commission, despite the opposition of a majority of the commission. Under this contract, the combine will invest only $5,200,000, will be guaranteed a substantial return by Uncle Sam, and will own the plant at the end of 25 years. The government has spent around 12 billion dollars on atomic energy and it looks now as if they are paying the big utility companies to take it off their hands.

The public hears very little of the subsidies paid the iron and steel corporations, the shipping and airline companies, but they do hear about the subsidies paid the farmer.

Study Of State Mental Health Program Slated

. . . Crosby Names 5-Man Board

Gov. Robert Crosby Wednesday announced appointment of a five-man board to review Nebraska's mental health program and to inspect state mental hospitals.

The committee includes Dale Clark of Omaha, Dr. Ray Smith of Imperial; State Sen. Dwight Burney of Hartington; Dr. J. Robert Stein of Lincoln and Dr. Don C. Fitzgerald of Omaha.

Clark is an Omaha banker. Dr. Smith is a physician and member of the State Hospital Advisory Committee; Sen. Burney is chairman of the Legislature's committee on Inter-Governmental Co-operation; Dr. Stein is psychiatrist and chief of neurology and psychiatry at Lincoln General Hospital and associate professor of psychiatry at the University of Nebraska College of Medicine. Dr. Fitzgerald is president of the Nebraska Psychological association.

The governor, at a news conference Wednesday said the committee would conduct a state-wide appraisal of the program for training and research in the field of mental health, the Associated Press said.

Sometime earlier the Council of State Governments asked governors of all Midwest states to name committees of this sort.

The Council of State Governments proposed to analyze the report of the various state committees and then to submit a suggested program to the governors of Midwestern states at the November meeting.

"I would have appointed such a committee even if the Council of State Governments had not requested it," Gov. Crosby said. "In some respects the situation of our state mental hospitals is becoming critical. Other Midwestern states are experiencing the same difficulties. This is a good time to have a disinterested committee review our problems so the next Legislature can have the advantages of its recommendations."

The governor added that there is no provision for reimbursement of the committee for its expenses.

Gov. Crosby said the committee will meet soon in his office to pick its own chairman and set up a schedule.

Niobrara Group Gets Power Line Authority

The State Railway Commission reported Wednesday it has granted the request of the Niobrara Valley Electric Membership Corp., O'Neill, to construct and operate 97 miles of electric transmission lines in Boyd, Holt, Garfield and Knox Counties.

A hearing was set for Aug. 30 on the request of the Wheat Belt Electric Membership Association, Sidney, to build certain power lines in Garden, Arthur, Deuel, Morrill and Cheyenne Counties. The hearing will be in Lincoln.

Basin Group Told Hydro, Atomic Power Compatible

RAPID CITY, S. D. (AP)—Hydro and atomic power are compatible, an atomic expert told the Missouri Basin Inter-Agency Committee Wednesday.

In fact, they are "complimentary," said Dr. Lawrence R. Hafstad, Washington, an official of the atomic energy commission, who added that as power demands increase and the percentage contribution of hydro power becomes less, it "seems clear the base load will be carried by fossil (coal, gas or oil plants) or nuclear fuels and that hydro will be used for peak loads.

He said in the beginning nuclear power plants will be most attractive in areas where the cost of conventional fuel is high and where nuclear power will have the greatest social impact.

Five High Cost Areas

There are five high fuel cost areas in the United States—one in the intermountain area in the west, one here in and around South Dakota, another in Maine, a fourth in Florida and the fifth in the upper Michigan peninsula.

"On the other hand, the lost cost areas are in the gulf region and along the Ohio River.

Hafstad said if the international situation continues "not to improve" there would be a very great element of national strength in a utility system in the heartland of the continent with plants underground and each with a 20-year supply of fuel stored in some convenient corner closet.

The new chairman of the MBIAC, Harold Engstrom, Lincoln, representing the agriculture department, announced John Muehlbeier of Lincoln as secretary of the committe.

New Pump To Aid Critical Situation

Lincoln Star Special

OSCEOLA, Neb. — A new pump is expected to relieve the critical water situation existing here, according to Mayor Fred Bond.

At one time during the recent heat wave, water level in the 110-foot Osceola water tower stood at only 55 feet, the mayor said. However, no ban on watering is contemplated, Bond added.

Residents on one side of Osceola are allowed to water on alternate days with residents of the other side of town.

Legs Trapped:

Man Hangs Upside Down 15 Minutes

OMAHA (AP)—A relief elevator operator hung upside down for 15 minutes Wednesday while firemen worked to free his trapped legs from an elevator at the M. E. Smith warehouse here.

The operator, Andy Arendell, 40, was freed by the rescue squad and taken to a hospital. Attendants said the left leg was severely bruised but apparently not broken. X-rays were to be taken.

A spokesman for the H. A. Wolf Co., Inc., manager of the building, said he had been unable to question Arendell as to the cause of the accident.

Indications were the accident occurred while the elevator was traveling to the second floor from the first floor. Arendell's legs were pinned, but apparently the right leg, which was in a brace, was not injured.

A rescue squadman went into the lift from the second floor to lower it so that Arendell could be freed.

Cotton of Omaha said the Governor visited Lincoln and Omaha campaign offices Wednesday, attended a luncheon in Omaha at noon, flew to Hastings for a mid-afternoon conference with Fred Irons, chairman of "Republicans for Crosby," and with Crosby county chairmen in the first Congressional district. Back in Omaha for the evening he attended a dinner at 7 p.m. and a rally meeting at 8 p.m.

The combine camp operated at Alliance closed Wednesday night.

The report said combines are in surplus supply in South Dakota and combine operators without prior commitments in the state should stay away.

Judge To Rule On Legality Of Liquor Sale Indian Ban

OMAHA (AP) — A decision will be given by Municipal Judge Patrick O'Connor Saturday morning on the constitutionality of the state law banning the sale of liquor to Indians, the judge said Wednesday.

O'Connor made the announcement following arguments by Assistant City Prosecutor Herbert Dolgoff and by James Hart, Omaha Indian Tribal Council attorney, and Sam Caniglia, defense counsel for a tavern owner charged under the law.

Hart and Caniglia contend the law is unconstitutional.

'Law Unconstitutional'

Hart said that once an Indian leaves his tribe he becomes a citizen of the United States and is entitled to all such rights.

He argued that the law was an invalid exercise of police powers based on "class legislation," and that it was a direct violation of the protective clause of the Fourteenth Amendment of the Constitution.

'Erroneous Belief'

Caniglia, backed by written findings of doctors, termed "erroneous" the belief that Indians are not capable of handling liquor. He said the state under its regulatory powers can control liquor sales to slaves, prostitutes and drunkards, and challenged the right of the state to place the Indian in the same category.

Dolgoff, on behalf of the state, said he was debating only the law involved.

The prosecutor contended that if the statute was constitutional when passed by the Legislature in 1937, it still must be constitutional.

Sec. Benson To Address State GOP Meet At Norfolk

OMAHA (AP) — State Republican Chairman William W. Spear of Fremont said Wednesday that Secretary of Agriculture Benson will speak at the GOP state post-primary convention at Norfolk Sept. 16.

Benson will address an evening session at the Norfolk City Auditorium.

Spear said a keynote speaker for the morning session would be announced later. Both morning and evening sessions will be open to the public, he said, and no seats will be reserved except a section set aside for delegates and alternates.

"Secretary Benson is generally recognized as one of the most courageous and conscientious men in public life," Spear said. "Nebraskans admire a public figure who has the courage to speak his convictions and I hope that a large number of people will take this opportunity to hear him speak."

The state chairman said the convention would formulate and promulate a state platform, elect a state central committee and transact such other business as may come before the meeting.

Harrison's Corn Loan Bill Meets Some Opposition

WASHINGTON (AP) — Opposition developed Wednesday to a proposal that would save farmers a few cents a bushel on government-loan corn redeemed to feed livestock.

Rep. Robert Harrison (R-Neb) told a House Agriculture Subcommittee his bill would allow farmers to take back their corn placed under Commodity Credit Corporation price support loans without paying interest.

They would save from one to four cents a bushel, Harrison said, by being allowed to merely repay their loan, without interest, when they redeemed the corn to feed livestock or to sell to other farmers for feed.

Unfair Concession

Grand Island Water Situation Much Worse Than In '30s

GRAND ISLAND (AP)—Utilities Commissioner Clarence W. Burdick is worried about the water situation in Grand Island.

Burdick said the water rationing order of a week ago has helped keep the peak load down and has aided in putting some water in the reservoir, but the total consumption hasn't decreased materially.

Under the order, only half the lawns in the city can be watered on any one day.

The water situation here is described as much worse than it was in the dry 1930's. Officials said the use of air conditioning units has taxed the water supply heavily.

Burdick said the water level of the city's wells was going down and a small quantity of fine sand has made its appearance in the water, a sign of a rather serious situation.

Sec. Benson To Address State GOP Meet At Norfolk

OMAHA (AP) — State Republican Chairman William W. Spear of Fremont said Wednesday that Secretary of Agriculture Benson will speak at the GOP state post-primary convention at Norfolk Sept. 16.

Benson will address an evening session at the Norfolk City Auditorium.

Spear said a keynote speaker for the morning session would be announced later. Both morning and evening sessions will be open to the public, he said, and no seats will be reserved except a section set aside for delegates and alternates.

"Secretary Benson is generally recognized as one of the most courageous and conscientious men in public life," Spear said. "Nebraskans admire a public figure who has the courage to speak his convictions and I hope that a large number of people will take this opportunity to hear him speak."

The state chairman said the convention would formulate and promulate a state platform, elect a state central committee and transact such other business as may come before the meeting.

Harrison's Corn Loan Bill Meets Some Opposition

WASHINGTON (AP) — Opposition developed Wednesday to a proposal that would save farmers a few cents a bushel on government-loan corn redeemed to feed livestock.

Rep. Robert Harrison (R-Neb) told a House Agriculture Subcommittee his bill would allow farmers to take back their corn placed under Commodity Credit Corporation price support loans without paying interest.

They would save from one to four cents a bushel, Harrison said, by being allowed to merely repay their loan, without interest, when they redeemed the corn to feed livestock or to sell to other farmers for feed.

Unfair Concession

Reps. Poage (D-Tex) and Polk (D-Ky) commented such a concession to corn farmers would be unfair unless similar concessions were made to growers of other crops under government support loans.

True D. Morse, undersecretary of agriculture, said the Agriculture Department opposes the bill because of the special treatment proposed for one commodity and because of administrative difficulties in carrying out such a plan.

Two Die In Minden Car-Truck Accident

State Road Death Toll Reaches 161

MINDEN, Neb. (AP) — Two Minden, Neb., men, Russell Jacobson, 40, and Arvid Holsten, 74, were killed in a car-pickup truck accident at an intersection of country roads five miles west and one mile north of here Wednesday.

The accident occurred when the pickup truck driven by Jacobson and traveling north struck the Holsten car traveling west broadsides, according to Kearney County Sheriff Lyle B. Olson.

Thrown 41 Feet

Holsten was thrown 41 feet from his car into an alfalfa field. Jacobson's body was found lying beside his truck.

Both men were dead when authorities arrived.

Sheriff Olson could not immediately determine what had been responsible for the crash which occurred directly in the center of the intersection where visibility was good.

Passerby Found Crash

Both vehicles were badly damaged. A passerby discovered the accident and the Minden First Aid unit was summoned along with Sheriff Olson and Kearney County Attorney Charles A. Chappell.

Jacobson is survived by his widow and two children. Holsten's survivors include his sister, Mrs. J. Thompson of Minden, and several brothers.

The deaths raised to 161 the number of persons injured fatally in Nebraska this year, compared with 147 at this time in 1953.

Air Crash Victim

Funeral arrangements are pending for Navy Capt. Wm. J. (Gus) Widhelm, 44, native of Humphrey, Neb. He was killed early this week in a plane crash near Corpus Christi, Tex. Memorial services are planned in Texas with burial in Arlington Cemetery. Captain Widhelm, holder of two Navy Crosses and the Distinguished Flying Cross for action in World War II, was commanding officer of Chase Field in Texas at the time of his death. (Photo Special to The Star)

Not An Idle Moment For Those In Minnesota

We told you yesterday about the large gathering of Lincoln people vacationing in Minnesota, and lest you be lead into thinking that these people are idle on their holidays, we scurried around and found some pictures to prove that activity is never lacking in the vicinity of Pleasant Lake, near Hackensack where the Charles T. Stuarts have a summer home.

The combination birthday-anniversary cake in the picture on the far left was baked by some ambitious soul for Mr. and Mrs. Stuart who celebrated a wedding anniversary Saturday evening, July 17, and also for George Cook who celebrated his birthday the same day. In the picture, from the left, are Mr. Cook, Mr. Stuart, Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Stuart.

Then we found James Stuart, William Newens of Omaha and Tom Wake of Seward, who stopped momentarily for lunch where they could enjoy the delightful view of the lake.

* * *

Stopping for a bit of relaxation and a friendly chat, are, in the center picture, Bert Reed, Arnott Folsom and Mrs. Reed.

* * *

The young set was not forgotten during the week-end either, and what could be more fun for a group of youngsters than cruising around on a lake in a launch. At Woman Lake, and in the James Stuarts boat, we found Sam Ellis, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Ellis, in the driver's seat, Susie Hunt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hunt, Kit Stuart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Stuart, Scotty Stuart and Jimbo Stuart, sons of Mr. and Mrs. James Stuart.

We don't know of course what the topic of conversation was when the foursome at the far right got together, but we'll bet it was more fun for the group. In the picture, from left to right, are Mrs. Emmett Junge, Mrs. M. G. Volz, Mrs. Arnott Folsom and Mrs. Jack Wilson.

THIS morning, the engagment and approaching marriage of Miss Lorraine Leland Coryell, daughter of Mrs. L. Leland Coryell Jr., and the late Mr. Coryell, to Richard Louis Claussen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben J. Claussen of North Platte, is being announced by the bride-elect's mother.

A December wedding is planned.

A graduate of the University of Nebraska, Miss Coryell is a member of Omega Epsilon Pi and Alpha Chi Omega Sorority. She served as a Countess in the 1952 Court of Ak-Sar-Ben.

Mr. Claussen, also a graduate of the University of Nebraska, is a member of Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity. He is now stationed with the Army at Aberdeen, Md.

What We Know—

SINCE WE ARE a bit curtailed with respect to room this morning, we'll not waste space with idle chatter, but begin right away telling you what we know about people in our fair city.

HEARD OF some vacationers returning home Sunday evening, and they are Mr. and Mrs. George Holyoke and their daughters, Susan and Nancy who spent a holiday in Estes Park, Colo. Returning with the Holyokes was Miss Beverly Truax of Hemet, Calif., who worked with Mrs. Holyoke at Bohmont General Hospital in El Paso, Tex., during the war doing Red Cross recreation work.

* * *

ALSO ON the homecomers list are Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Lilly who returned last week from a vacation in Colorado Springs, Colo., where they were the house guests of Mr. Lilly's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Lilly. From Colorado Springs, the travelers went to Central City and also to Aspen before coming home. Another member of the Lilly family will be traveling soon, and she is Miss Kitty Lilly who will journey to Whitefish Lake, Minn., early in August to be the guest of Miss Jean Aitken at the Aitkens summer home.

* * *

THOUGHT you might like to know that Mrs. Ivan Devoe and her daughter, Mrs. Harrison Ward Jr., will also be leaving Aug. 1 for the Pacific Northwest to spend a few days before Mrs. Ward sails from Seattle on Aug. 11 for Japan where she will join her husband, a lieutenant at Johnson Air Force Base in Japan. They will remain overseas about 18 months.

* * *

OF INTEREST to their friends in Lincoln is the news that Bill Stubbs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Stubbs of Alliance, formerly of Lincoln, has begun training at the United States Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md., of which his father is a graduate. The Stubbs' older son, Mike, is now serving with the Army in Germany.

AND TODAY is the day that Mrs. William Kinsey entertains the members of her sewing club. Following a dessert luncheon, the ten guests will spend the afternoon hours informally.

Career Girl 1-9-5-4

Life is busy for ambitious Miss Sylvia Hancock, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Hancock, 3028 Puritan, for she has each of her talented fingers in a different pie, or so it seems.

Miss Hancock's days are spent assisting at the Orthopedic Hospital, but she will leave for northern Wisconsin around the first of August where she will join the counseling staff at Camp Manito-Wish. After just a short respite, Miss Hancock will enter the school of nursing at St. Marys Hospital in Rochester, Minn., in September. She attended Carlton College in Minnesota for two years.

Although she is not sure just where she wants to specialize, Miss Hancock feels her experience along the orthopedic and camping lines this summer will be exceeding valuable if she should carry out her plans to go into occupational therapy. Therapy takes a vast background, for which this gal qualifies, for twenty-year-old Miss Hancock is interested in music and art, which she studied at Carlton. The hospital in Rochester is connected with the famous Mayo Brothers' Clinic, and, upon completion of nurses' training, Miss Hancock may decide to remain in Rochester for the four or five additional years work toward becoming a licenced therapist.

By no means the only scholar in the family, Miss Hancock has two older brothers who have plenty to keep their keen minds occupied these days. Brother Rodger is taking graduate work at Yale University and plans to become a professor of philosophy, while Dr. Bill Hancock, a recent graduate of the Harvard College of Medicine, is enjoying a residency in Boston.

The regular weekly junior golf day was held Tuesday at Hillcrtst Country Club. Winner of the approaching event was Jeanne Carrier, and the putting event was won by Sally Pierce.

Is Bride At Evening Ceremony

MRS. WAYNE ABBOT SWALLEY

Lighted white candles in graduated height, and spreading arrangements of white gladioli were placed against a background of woodwardia to form the chancel decor at Trinity Methodist Church for the marriage of Miss Ruth Ann Curtiss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Curtiss, and Wayne Abbot Swalley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilkey W. Swalley of Grand Junction, Colo., on Wednesday evening, July 21. Tall white tapers, caught with sprays of woodwardia and garnet roses, marked the pews of the processional aisle.

The 8 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Vance Rogers, and Charles W. Tritt, organist, played the wedding music.

Wearing full-skirted frocks of white organdy were Mrs. Arthur J. Curtiss, the matron of honor, Miss Eleanor Swalley of Grand Junction, the maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Miss Jane Deppen and Miss Mary Elizabeth Kinsinger of Lincoln, and Mrs. Charles Curtiss of Omaha. Their decollete bodice were closed at the back by ties of white organdy, and were completed by cuffs of ruffled organdy, and they wore organdy half-hats caught at either side of the head with garnet roses. Their colonial bouquets were fashioned of the roses. Miss Kit Raasch, in ruffled white organdy, was the flower girl.

Serving as best man was Val Curtiss, and the ushers were William Woodworth, Minco, Okla., Charles Curtiss of Omaha, and Arthur J. Curtiss and Roger Larson, Lincoln.

The bride chose for her wedding a period gown of white Swiss organdy embroidered in a floral motif. The low, rounded neckline was touched with eyelet trim, and completing the brief sleeves were long mitts of embroidered organdy. Beneath the fitted basque, deep tiers of ruffled organdy formed the wide skirt which ended in a whisper train. Her veil of French illusion was held by a cap of the organdy, and she carried a cascade of white feathered carnations centered with a white orchid.

A reception for 400 guests was held in the parlors of the church.

Following their return from a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Swalley will make their home at Tulsa, Okla.

A graduate of the University of Nebraska, Mrs. Swalley is a member of Pi Beta Phi. The bridegroom is a graduate of Oklahoma A and M, Stillwater, Okla., and is a member of Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity.

Has Church Ceremony

MRS. DWIGHT J. GREGORY

Miss Mary Jane Ward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Ward of Ulysses, became the bride of Dwight J. Gregory, son of Mrs. Anna Gregory of Lincoln, at a 9:30 o'clock ceremony, Wednesday morning, July 21 at the Immaculate Conception Church in Ulysses. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. M. F. Downey read the lines of the ceremony in the presence of one hundred thirty-five guests.

Miss Rita Hotovy, organist, played the wedding music and accompanied Miss Pat Ward who sang.

The maid of honor and bride's only attendant, Miss Joan Ward, sister of the bride, wore a frock of blue net designed with fitted strapless bodice. The bolero jacket featured cap sleeves and the circular skirt flared into fullness. She carried a bouquet of Esther Reed daisies.

The bride chose a gown of white Chantilly lace and net over taffeta. The strapless bodice was covered with a long-sleeved jacket of lace and the lace motif was repeated in the peplum on the waltz-length net skirt. A half-hat of lace dotted with seed pearls held her double illusion veil and she carried a bouquet of pink roses and stephanotis. A gold necklace, worn by the bride's mother and grandmother in their weddings, completed her costume.

Thomas Quinn was the best man and William Dickson and Hugh Songer were the ushers.

The couple left for a wedding trip to the Black Hills after the reception which was held in the church parlors. For traveling, the bride wore a blue frock with white accessories.

They will be at home in Lincoln after Aug. 1.

It would be a pleasure to express personally our appreciation to each and everyone of our well wishers in the recent illness of Mr. Kinsey. I know everyone will understand how impossible this would be at this time.
—Mrs. C. W. D. Kinsey and Family.—Adv.

Candidates Converge On Omaha As State Primary Vote Nears

By the Associated Press

With Nebraska's primary election only 19 calendar days away candidates were converging on Omaha in increasing numbers for the traditional windup of their campaigns.

Populaous Omaha furnishes a sufficiently heavy vote to command careful attention and the concentration of voters plus the "sounding board" potential of its various news media make it attractive for "last words" to the voters.

As of Wednesday Rep. Carl T. Curtis, Gov. Robert Crosby and David T. Martin were opening heavy campaign programs in Omaha in the Republican senatorial campaign, and top-ranking Democrats including Keith Neville of North Platte and James F. Green of Omaha, candidates for separate Senate nominations, and P. J. Heaton of Sidney, candidate for the gubernatorial nomination, were in Omaha for an important Democratic rally.

State Sen Ralph Hill of Hebron, candidate for the GOP nomination for state treasurer, was in Omaha for a few days and several other candidates for office were working in the Omaha area.

Gov. Crosby stopped in Omaha long enough to announce appointment of a committee to review Nebraska's mental health program and then took off for Hastings for an afternoon meeting, planning further conferences in Omaha Wednesday night.

He will be in Omaha "whenever possible during the day, in the evenings and on week-ends until the date of the primary election," said Owen W. Cotton, his Omaha campaign manager.

Tax Cut Lauded

Rep. Curtis said in a statement Wednesday that the Republican tax reduction program is encouraging the younger generation to produce and earn He called it one of the best features of the Republican program.

"Under the Roosevelt and Truman administrations," he said, "young people were discouraged from working if they earned even one cent more than $600 their parents lost them as exemptions"

Curtis said that under a new tax bill, soon to become law, a youngster may earn all he wants without his parents losing him as an exemption, but he must pay taxes on all his income over $600.

Heaton Honored

Earlier Curtis said he had urged Secretary of Interior McKay to release additional water from the Kendrick project in Wyoming down the Platte River to supply Nebraska's needs He said a recent trip through the North Platte valley of Nebraska had convinced him there is a serious shortage of water there.

Heaton, in Omaha for a dinner in his honor Wednesday night, commented that an increase in the Nebraska Safety Patrol would probably help solve the state's traffic safety program. He declared the state's laws are strong enough to reduce accidents "if enforced," but there "has been some laxity in enforcement.

He said highway improvement would be another aid

Heaton also complained about management of "the multi-million dollar state institutions. which have been permitted to deteriorate."

"You are going to have to raise salaries of doctors and skilled employes." he said "In the long run we'll save millions of dollars"

He worked as an accountant for Woods Brothers here. In Washington, he was employed by the Washington State Highway Department as an accountant.

Survivors include his wife, Lela; three sons, James of Chicago, Jack of Southgate, Calif, and Dennis of South Pasadena, Calif.; two daughters, Mrs. Charles Rankin of Everett, Mass, and Miss Jane Pierce of Lincoln; one brother, Howard of Long Beach, Calif; three sisters, Mrs. Harry Koll of South Pasadena, Calif., Mrs. O M. Several Nebraska Airports Would Like Federal Aid

Nebraska has several airports which would like some of the federal help contemplated in pending legislation in Washington, State Aeronautics Director James Ramsey said Wednesday.

But where the money would be use, if finally voted, will depend upon what criteria are set up for its use, he added.

In Washington, the House tentatively approved federal spending of 22 million dollars to help build community airports.

The vote was 157-61, despite a warning from Rep. Taber (R-NY) that the money would average only $10,000 to each of the 1,910 airports qualified for aid.

Nebraska's allocation would be $253,004, after a "discretionary fund" had been set aside. The "discretionary fund" would be for use on airports the Commerce Department considers of particular importance.

President Eisenhower had asked the airport money. Rep. Taber's appropriations committee had turned down the request but Eisenhower urged Congress to vote the money anyway.

Services for Alton D. Benway, 89, who lived in Lincoln from 1906 to 1915, will be held in Cordova, Ill. He died Monday at his ranch home near Sedalia, Colo

He is survived by daughters. Mrs. Arthur Frenzel of Denver; Mrs. Joe G. Prentice of Golden, Colo.; Mrs. O. J. Butterfield and Mrs. Tracey Penley, both of Sedalia: son, Edgar L Benway of Boulder, Colo.; eight grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

$55,950 Damage Suit Filed In Car Death Of Moeller

A $55,950 death-damage suit has been filed in Lancaster District Court by the estate of Forest W. Moeller, who was fatally injured May 22, 1954, in a two-car accident in Omaha, against Richard L. Loos of 810¼ West P.

Eula M. Moeller of 1919 So. 12th, his widow and administratrix, seeks $50,000 damages for loss of support to the family, $950 for car damage, and $5,000 for pain and anguish suffered by Moeller while pinned under the wreckage.

But where the money would be use, if finally voted, will depend upon what criteria are set up for its use, he added.

In Washington, the House tentatively approved federal spending of 22 million dollars to help build community airports.

The vote was 157-61, despite a warning from Rep. Taber (R-NY) that the money would average only $10,000 to each of the 1,910 airports qualified for aid.

Nebraska's allocation would be $253,004, after a "discretionary fund" had been set aside. The "discretionary fund" would be for use on airports the Commerce Department considers of particular importance.

President Eisenhower had asked the airport money. Rep. Taber's appropriations committee had turned down the request but Eisenhower urged Congress to vote the money anyway.

Blame Field Commanders, Not Boys

Slam Athletes' Abuse Of Army Passes

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House Armed Services subcommittee which investigated alleged "coddling" of athletes by the Army reported Wednesday "a glaring abuse of pass privileges" and too much granting of "compassionate leave."

It pointed the finger of blame, not at the athletes, but at Army field commanders.

The subcommittee, headed by Rep. Hess (R-Ohio), recently concluded public hearings during which it checked the service records of a number of big name athletes, including ballplayers and boxers.

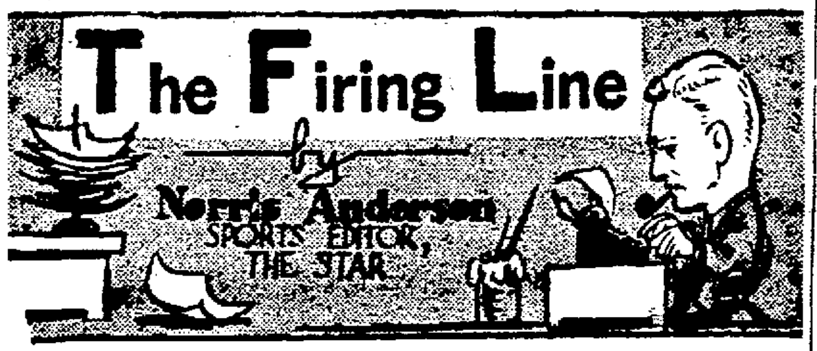
"It simply does not happen," the committee commented in a formal report, "that every time an athlete in the service is scheduled for a public and profitable appearance that he then and there has accumulated the required amount of leave."

Saddler Cited

The case of Sandy Saddler, lightweight champion, was treated at some length in the report. It said "there was such a fortuitous concert of action and collaboration as to suggest loose conduct amounting to a fraud upon the government which permitted this athlete to engage in a profitable contest, on Army pay and time, while coming from an overseas assignment on 30 days leave, scheduling a fight to occur after this leave would have expired, posting a bond to perform, and then obtaining 15 additional days 'compassionate leave' because his wife had a cold."

That was "a dubious performance," the committee said, and "every GI has a right to complain about that type of favoritism. It is difficult for us to understand how a local commander, having jurisdiction of this individual, for a short time, could publicly commend him for 'outstanding soldierly conduct' while appearing with him in a fight ring."

Army witnesses told the committee during hearings last spring that Saddler was given a 30-day leave from his Army base in Germany through administrative error and that he then got a 15-day extension claiming his wife was sick.

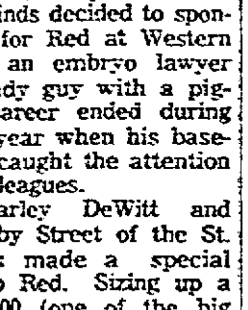


On Red McQuillen, A Real Pro

If Norman Rockwell were to paint The Firing Line's version of what a baseball player should look like, his exacting eye could stop right at Sherman Field.

Glenn Richard (Red) McQuillen, the Lincoln Chiefs' hard-hitting rightfielder, was born to a baseball suit. He looks every inch the part of a big leaguer, which he was for six years with the old St. Louis Browns.

When the redhead strides to the plate, a trim 190-pounder with a rookie's competitive fire, you feel that something will happen. It usually does, as Red's impressive average and array of RBIs will attest.



McQuillen

Looking at Red today it's hard to vision a frail youth who weighed only 97 pounds when he graduated from Brunswick Md. High.

A determined cuss who fears no man, Red built himself up by playing semi-pro football for two years. As he grew in physical stature and as a rampaging halfback, his feats caught the attention of Supreme Court Judge Charles Moylan and a lawyer named Theodore R. McKeldin, who is now governor of Maryland.

The legal minds decided to sponsor a career for Red at Western Maryland as an embryo lawyer and as a handy guy with a pigskin. That career ended during Red's junior year when his baseball prowess caught the attention of the major leagues.

Owner Charley DeWitt and Manager Gabby Street of the St. Louis Browns made a special trip to talk to Red. Sizing up a bonus of $2,500 (one of the big ones for 1938) and his family's financial needs, Red signed.

From there on, he never appeared in the minor leagues until after he left the majors in 1947.

Red was a solid rookie in 1938 as he batted .284 and saw regular duty with the Browns. That was the year that Bobo Newsom won 20 games. Russ Van Atta was pitching and George McQuinn was on first.

Bobo, one of baseball's orators, was being bashed by nine runs as he sought to win No. 20. A smashing drive broke rookie McQuillen's finger and skittered for another hit.

Newsom, even then a veteran, jumped all over Red. The redheaded kid stood his ground and Ol' Bobo has been a friend ever since.

Red batted against such pitchers as Red Ruffing, Lefty Gomez and Bob Feller. Yet he picks Tex Hughson, the old Boston Red Sox mix-master, as the toughest of all.

"In that big Yankee Stadium, Ruffing would just throw 'em high and outside and let us fly to the outfield all day," Red recalls.

After six years with the Browns, interrupted by a stretch in the South Pacific (Navy), Red was sold to Toledo of the American Association in 1947.

With Toledo in 1948, he beat out a fellow named Al Rosen for the American Association batting crown, .329 to .327.

Baltimore then bought him and he responded with 24 homers in 1949.

Red lists spring training with Baltimore at Lakeland, Fla., in 1950 as his best luck in baseball. An attractive newspaper gal from the Baltimore paper was on vacation, but alerted for features on the Orioles.

One day, Red was kibitizing at a pinochle game. He thought he caught the newspaper gal cutting a few corners (she really wasn't).

She soon became Mrs. Red McQuillen and there isn't a happier couple in baseball than Ann and Red. She knows the game as well as any umpire and could put a lot of male scribes out to pasture, including this agent.

When his playing days are over (they'll have to cut the suit off him) Red should make someone a good field manager or general manager. If he doesn't stay in baseball, he'll follow his present winter occupation as an oil salesman.

You know the thing we like best about Red? Sure, he's been an important cog in the majors, playing many times in Yankee Stadium against the DiMaggios and the Henrichs.

Sherman Field is somewhat removed from Yankee Stadium, yet here is McQuillen still giving it the big try. He plays every game like it was World Series stuff.

That's the mark of a baseball player, Mister, a real pro.

Chiefs Rack Up 11 Bingles; Sox Here For Ladies' Night

By NORRIS ANDERSON
Sports Editor, The Star

Borrowing the long-range artillery from the arsenal of their foe, the Lincoln Chiefs reverbrated in full fury Wednesday night and bashed the league-leading Denver Bears, 7-1.

Master of Denver's boisterous bats, producers of 33 hits in two straight wins over the Chiefs, was Colonel Anderson Pierce Bush.

All Colonel Bush did was bundle up the powerhouse Grizzlies in a neat five-hit package, wrapped by a single unearned run. A stopper among stoppers was the Kentucky woodsman, who joined Omaha's Bob Clear atop the Western League mound summit at 14-5.

Clear also won No. 14 Wednesday night on a four-hitter against Wichita, 2-1.

Cheered by salvaging a final win over the Bears, the Chiefs launch a three-game series with cellar Colorado Springs tonight with Frank Stewart (1-1) on the mound if a pulled muscle in his left leg is pronounced healed. If Stewart can't go, Skipper Whitey Witelmann will be in a quandry as Noel Oquendo, who would be in turn, is out for at least 10 days with an ankle sprain. It will be Ladies Night.

If Bush was the antidote for Denver's booming attack, then his teammates' 11-hit attack relieved the unrelenting pressure applied by the Bears' tight pitching the past several nights.

Lincoln lit squarely on Dick Drilling in the second inning with a barrage of doubles by Red McQuillen, Walt Linden and Bush and a triple by ex-Husker Ray Novak, making his starting debut at third base. Each of the extra-base wallops carried to the fence.

Aroused by the resulting 3-0 lead, the Chiefs drilled Drilling in the second with a double by Johnny Jones followed by Tom Neill's fourth home run, a lusty wallop over the leftfield wall, for two more tallies.

A walk, an error and singles by Jones and McQuillen and a fielder's choice amounted to a pair of runs in the seventh.

Denver picked up an unearned run in the first when Ricky Ippolito reached first on Mel Rue's wild throw, second on Dusty Rice's single and home on Don Dahlke's fielder's choice.

Ippolito, fast afoot for his 205 pounds, was within an eyelash of making first even if Rue's peg, tossed from deep shortstop, had been a bullseye.

"Ask Rue what it should be," said Skipper Andy Cohen.

"I delayed my throw too long and then threw wild," answered Rue. "Chalk me up with an error. I should have got him."

So Rocky lost a hit, Bush an earned run and Rue gained an error and a round of plaudits for honest sportsmanship.

Bush was completing his 16th full game in 20 starts, getting his 100th strike out and has now pitched in more innings than he did during the entire 1953 season, 176 to 167.

Wigwam notes . . . Novak, along with bouncing a triple off the leftcenter wall, contributed one of the fielding sparklers in the fourth on Dusty Rice's hard shot down the foul line . . . Ray made a backhand stab and pegged to first in perfect style to rob Rice of what loomed as a single . . . Harvey Swenson is Sherman Field's best public address announcer we can remember . . . He gets every sylable across . . . McQuillen's double in the second bounced over the wall in rightcenter . . . It was Neill's first starting appearance since a painful operation on the outside of his stomach . . . Ladies will be admitted for only the tax charge tonight . . . Scout Russel L. Sehon of the parent Milwaukee Braves was in the stands . . . Sehon was returning from Rushville, Neb., where he had conducted a tryout school for 186 aspirants . . . Billy Smith's fielding was big league; his catches on Dahlke in the fourth and Pidge Browne in the sixth looming especially bright.

OMAHA (AP)—The Omaha Cardinals swept the Wichita series by winning, 2-1, Wednesday night at Omaha Stadium before 1,001.

Bob Clear's pitching was the deciding factor. The neat righthander won his fourteenth game as he limited the Indians to four hits.

Argentina Rocca

Rocca Signed For July 30

. . . Outdoor Fairgrounds

Promoter Adam Krieger has signed wrestling's most colorful performer, Argentina Rocca, for a special show at the fairground outdoor grandstand July 30.

Rocca, following the same trend as United States champion Vern Gagne, said he was appearing as a personal favor to Krieger.

"Frankly, I was booked up to September, but I'll do this one for Krieger, who has always done well by me," Rocca wrote.

The promoter said he was seeking a "rough and tough" opponent for the agile acrobat with the spring in his legs.

"Rocca likes to cut those tough guys down to size," commented Krieger. "After sending out a dozen wires, I hope to have an opponent for him to announce by Sunday."

They Had A Rough Battle

Whitey Reed, (left) Lincoln, the defending champion, and Frank Pickering, also of Lincoln, waged a rough battle Wednesday as Whitey edged Frank, 1-up, in the men's State Golf Tourney first round. (AP Wirephoto.)

Reed Has Close Squeak, Medalist Beat In State

OMAHA (AP)—The medalist lost and the defending champion barely squeaked past his first opponent.

Those were the two major developments in the Nebraska Men's Amateur Golf Tournament at Happy Hollow during first-round matches Wednesday.

Gary Blakeman, 17-year-old Norfolk lad, dusted off medalist Gordon Glewwe of Omaha, 3-2, in the day's big shocker.

Blakeman, who putted well on Happy's unpredictable greens, had a 2-up margin with a 37 on the front nine, raised it to 3-up as Glewwe three-putted the 10th green and was never in danger.

Champion Whitey Reed of Lincoln, was one down to Frank Pickering, also of Lincoln, on the first nine. But the champ rallied and won one up.

Glewwe was the only "favorite" to lose in the opening round of match play.

Ward Spoils Pompey Debut

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAINE

CHICAGO (AP) — Middleweight Moses Ward of Detroit, a 5-2 underdog, has spoiled the United States debut of powerfully-built but slow-fisted Yolande Pompey of Trinidad by hammering out a 10-round decision at Chicago Stadium.

Pompey, 25, the British Empire middleweight and light heavyweight champion rallied in the late rounds. Both fighters were nearly out on their feet from weariness before the bout ended.

Ward, a busy-fisted 23-year-old slugger, piled up most of his winning margin in the earlier rounds as he constantly nailed the big-muscled West Indian with left hooks and straight rights.

Pompey, losing his second fight in 31 starts as a pro, weighed 163½ to Ward's 162.

Slam Athletes' Abuse Of Army Passes

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House Armed Services subcommittee which investigated alleged "coddling" of athletes by the Army reported Wednesday "a glaring abuse of pass privileges" and too much granting of "compassionate leave."

It pointed the finger of blame, not at the athletes, but at Army field commanders.

The subcommittee, headed by Rep. Hess (R-Ohio), recently concluded public hearings during which it checked the service records of a number of big name athletes, including ballplayers and boxers.

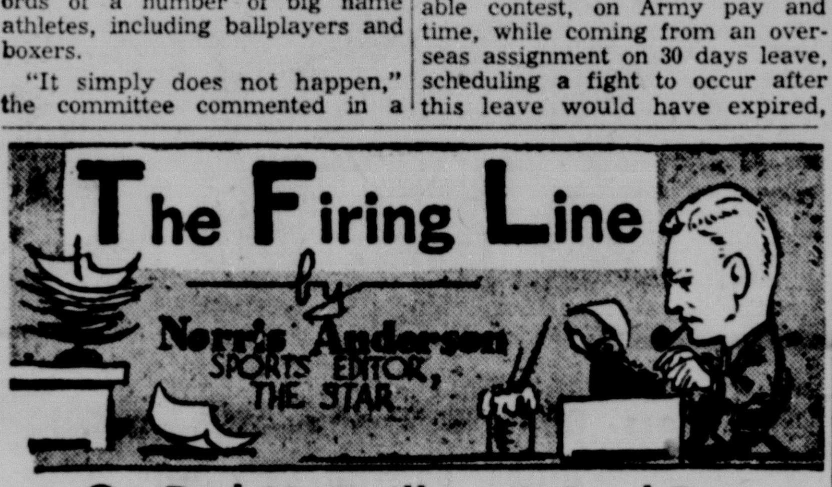
"It simply does not happen," the committee commented in a formal report, "that every time an athlete in the service is scheduled for a public and profitable appearance that he then and there has accumulated the required amount of leave."

Saddler Cited

The case of Sandy Saddler, lightweight champion, was treated at some length in the report. It said "there was such a fortuitous concert of action and collaboration as to suggest loose conduct amounting to a fraud upon the government which permitted this athlete to engage in a profitable contest, on Army pay and time, while coming from an overseas assignment on 30 days leave, scheduling a fight to occur after this leave would have expired, posting a bond to perform, and then obtaining 15 additional days 'compassionate leave' because his wife had a cold."

That was "a dubious performance," the committee said, and "every GI has a right to complain about that type of favoritism. It is difficult for us to understand how a local commander, having jurisdiction of this individual, for a short time, could publicly commend him for 'outstanding soldierly conduct' while appearing with him in a fight ring."

Army witnesses told the committee during hearings last spring that Saddler was given a 30-day leave from his Army base in Germany through administrative error and that he then got a 15-day extension claiming his wife was sick.

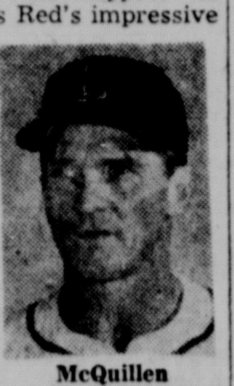


On Red McQuillen, A Real Pro

If Norman Rockwell were to paint The Firing Line's version of what a baseball player should look like, his exacting eye could stop right at Sherman Field.

Glenn Richard (Red) McQuillen, the Lincoln Chiefs' hard-hitting rightfielder, was born to a baseball suit. He looks every inch the part of a big leaguer, which he was for six years with the old St. Louis Browns.

When the redhead strides to the plate, a trim 190-pounder with a rookie's competitive fire, you feel that something will happen. It usually does, as Red's impressive average and array of RBIs will attest.



McQuillen

Looking at Red today it's hard to vision a frail youth who weighed only 97 pounds when he graduated from Brunswick Md. High.

A determined cuss who fears no man, Red built himself up by playing semi-pro football for two years. As he grew in physical stature and as a rampaging halfback, his feats caught the attention of Supreme Court Judge Charles Moylan and a lawyer named Theodore R. McKeldin, who is now governor of Maryland.

The legal minds decided to sponsor a career for Red at Western Maryland as an embryo lawyer and as a handy guy with a pigskin. That career ended during Red's junior year when his baseball prowess caught the attention of the major leagues.

Owner Charley DeWitt and Manager Gabby Street of the St. Louis Browns made a special trip to talk to Red. Sizing up a bonus of $2,500 (one of the big ones for 1938) and his family's financial needs, Red signed.

From there on, he never appeared in the minor leagues until after he left the majors in 1947.

Red was a solid rookie in 1938 as he batted .284 and saw regular duty with the Browns. That was the year that Bobo Newsom won 20 games. Russ Van Atta was pitching and George McQuinn was on first.

Bobo, one of baseball's orators, was being bashed by nine runs as he sought to win No. 20. A smashing drive broke rookie McQuillen's finger and skittered for another hit.

Newsom, even then a veteran, jumped all over Red. The redheaded kid stood his ground and Ol' Bobo has been a friend ever since.

Red batted against such pitchers as Red Ruffing, Lefty Gomez and Bob Feller. Yet he picks Tex Hughson, the old Boston Red Sox mix-master, as the toughest of all.

"In that big Yankee Stadium, Ruffing would just throw 'em high and outside and let us fly to the outfield all day," Red recalls.

After six years with the Browns, interrupted by a stretch in the South Pacific (Navy), Red was sold to Toledo of the American Association in 1947.

With Toledo in 1948, he beat out a fellow named Al Rosen for the American Association batting crown, .329 to .327.

Baltimore then bought him and he responded with 24 homers in 1949.

Red lists spring training with Baltimore at Lakeland, Fla., in 1950 as his best luck in baseball. An attractive newspaper gal from the Baltimore paper was on vacation, but alerted for features on the Orioles.

One day, Red was kibitizing at a pinochle game. He thought he caught the newspaper gal cutting a few corners (she really wasn't).

She soon became Mrs. Red McQuillen and there isn't a happier couple in baseball than Ann and Red. She knows the game as well as any umpire and could put a lot of male scribes out to pasture, including this agent.

When his playing days are over (they'll have to cut the suit off him) Red should make someone a good field manager or general manager. If he doesn't stay in baseball, he'll follow his present winter occupation as an oil salesman.

You know the thing we like best about Red? Sure, he's been an important cog in the majors, playing many times in Yankee Stadium against the DiMaggios and the Henrichs.

Sherman Field is somewhat removed from Yankee Stadium, yet here is McQuillen still giving it the big try. He plays every game like it was World Series stuff.

That's the mark of a baseball player, Mister, a real pro.

Chiefs Rack Up 11 Bingles; Sox Here For Ladies' Night

By NORRIS ANDERSON
Sports Editor, The Star

Borrowing the long-range artillery from the arsenal of their foe, the Lincoln Chiefs reverbrated in full fury Wednesday night and bashed the league-leading Denver Bears, 7-1.

Master of Denver's boisterous bats, producers of 33 hits in two straight wins over the Chiefs, was Colonel Anderson Pierce Bush.

All Colonel Bush did was bundle up the powerhouse Grizzlies in a neat five-hit package, wrapped by a single unearned run. A stopper among stoppers was the Kentucky woodsman, who joined Omaha's Bob Clear atop the Western League mound summit at 14-5.

Clear also won No. 14 Wednesday night on a four-hitter against Wichita, 2-1.

Cheered by salvaging a final win over the Bears, the Chiefs launch a three-game series with cellar Colorado Springs tonight with Frank Stewart (1-1) on the mound if a pulled muscle in his left leg is pronounced healed. If Stewart can't go, Skipper Whitey Witelmann will be in a quandry as Noel Oquendo, who would be in turn, is out for at least 10 days with an ankle sprain. It will be Ladies Night.

If Bush was the antidote for Denver's booming attack, then his teammates' 11-hit attack relieved the unrelenting pressure applied by the Bears' tight pitching the past several nights.

Lincoln lit squarely on Dick Drilling in the second inning with a barrage of doubles by Red McQuillen, Walt Linden and Bush and a triple by ex-Husker Ray Novak, making his starting debut at third base. Each of the extra-base wallops carried to the fence.

Aroused by the resulting 3-0 lead, the Chiefs drilled Drilling in the second with a double by Johnny Jones followed by Tom Neill's fourth home run, a lusty wallop over the leftfield wall, for two more tallies.

A walk, an error and singles by Jones and McQuillen and a fielder's choice amounted to a pair of runs in the seventh.

Denver picked up an unearned run in the first when Ricky Ippolito reached first on Mel Rue's wild throw, second on Dusty Rice's single and home on Don Dahlke's fielder's choice.

Ippolito, fast afoot for his 205 pounds, was within an eyelash of making first even if Rue's peg, tossed from deep shortstop, had been a bullseye.

"Ask Rue what it should be," said Skipper Andy Cohen.

"I delayed my throw too long and then threw wild," answered Rue. "Chalk me up with an error. I should have got him."

So Rocky lost a hit, Bush an earned run and Rue gained an error and a round of plaudits for honest sportsmanship.

Bush was completing his 16th full game in 20 starts, getting his 100th strike out and has now pitched in more innings than he did during the entire 1953 season, 176 to 167.

Wigwam notes . . . Novak, along with bouncing a triple off the leftcenter wall, contributed one of the fielding sparklers in the fourth on Dusty Rice's hard shot down the foul line . . . Ray made a backhand stab and pegged to first in perfect style to rob Rice of what loomed as a single . . . Harvey Swenson is Sherman Field's best public address announcer we can remember . . . He gets every sylable across . . . McQuillen's double in the second bounced over the wall in rightcenter . . . It was Neill's first starting appearance since a painful operation on the outside of his stomach . . . Ladies will be admitted for only the tax charge tonight . . . Scout Russel L. Sehon of the parent Milwaukee Braves was in the stands . . . Sehon was returning from Rushville, Neb., where he had conducted a tryout school for 186 aspirants . . . Billy Smith's fielding was big league; his catches on Dahlke in the fourth and Pidge Browne in the sixth looming especially bright.

OMAHA (AP)—The Omaha Cardinals swept the Wichita series by winning, 2-1, Wednesday night at Omaha Stadium before 1,001.

Argentina Rocca

Rocca Signed For July 30

. . . Outdoor Fairgrounds

Promoter Adam Krieger has signed wrestling's most colorful performer, Argentina Rocca, for a special show at the fairground outdoor grandstand July 30.

Rocca, following the same trend as United States champion Vern Gagne, said he was appearing as a personal favor to Krieger.

"Frankly, I was booked up to September, but I'll do this one for Krieger, who has always done well by me," Rocca wrote.

The promoter said he was seeking a "rough and tough" opponent for the agile acrobat with the spring in his legs.

"Rocca likes to cut those tough guys down to size," commented Krieger. "After sending out a dozen wires, I hope to have an opponent for him to announce by Sunday."

They Had A Rough Battle

Whitey Reed, (left) Lincoln, the defending champion, and Frank Pickering, also of Lincoln, waged a rough battle Wednesday as Whitey edged Frank, 1-up, in the men's State Golf Tourney first round. (AP Wirephoto.)

Reed Has Close Squeak, Medalist Beat In State

OMAHA (AP)—The medalist lost and the defending champion barely squeaked past his first opponent.

Those were the two major developments in the Nebraska Men's Amateur Golf Tournament at Happy Hollow during first-round matches Wednesday.

Gary Blakeman, 17-year-old Norfolk lad, dusted off medalist Gordon Glewwe of Omaha, 3-2, in the day's big shocker.

Blakeman, who putted well on Happy's unpredictable greens, had a 2-up margin with a 37 on the front nine, raised it to 3-up as Glewwe three-putted the 10th green and was never in danger.

Champion Whitey Reed of Lincoln, was one down to Frank Pickering, also of Lincoln, on the first nine. But the champ rallied and won one up.

Glewwe was the only "favorite" to lose in the opening round of match play.

Ward Spoils Pompey Debut

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAINE

CHICAGO (AP) — Middleweight Moses Ward of Detroit, a 5-2 underdog, has spoiled the United States debut of powerfully-built but slow-fisted Yolande Pompey of Trinidad by hammering out a 10-round decision at Chicago Stadium.

Pompey, 25, the British Empire middleweight and light heavyweight champion rallied in the late rounds. Both fighters were nearly out on their feet from weariness before the bout ended.

Ward, a busy-fisted 23-year-old slugger, piled up most of his winning margin in the earlier rounds as he constantly nailed the big-muscled West Indian with left hooks and straight rights.

Pompey, losing his second fight in 31 starts as a pro, weighed 163½ to Ward's 162.

Indians, Bosox Tie Again

White Sox Wallop Champions, 15 To 3

NEW YORK (AP) — The Chicago White Sox shoved the New York Yankees a half game behind the pace setting Cleveland Indians here, pounding out a 15-3 victory as Virgil Trucks became the first American League pitcher to win 13 games. The triumph boosted the third place White Sox to within 4½ games of the Indians, who played their second straight tie with the Boston Red Sox.

19 Hits

Blasting starter Bob Wiesler off the mound with a 5-run attack in the first inning, the White Sox went on to amass 19 hits, their largest total of the season, to hand the Yankees one of their worst beatings of the year.

Minnie Minoso and Johnny Groth clubbed four hits each, Groth driving in four runs and Minoso two. Trucks, who fanned six and walked two before retiring with two out and nobody on base in the seventh due to the intense heat, also figured largely in the attack, cracking three hits and driving in a pair of runs.

Rain Halts Tilt In 8th

BOSTON (AP) — Jimmy Piersall dashed home with the tying run on Harry Agganis' infield out in the sixth inning as the Boston Red Sox fought league-leading Cleveland to a second straight draw, 7-7, here in a game halted by rain after eight innings.

Earlier Wednesday, at 12:57 a.m. EDT a 16-inning struggle was called with the score 5-5 because of the league curfew rule.

Cleveland had just rallied to take a 7-6 lead when Piersall singled to center in the sixth and went to third on Ted Williams' double to left field.

Hoskins Ousted

Ray Narleski, third Indian hurler, came in to replace Dave Hoskins. He got Agganis to hit a slow hopper but the Tribe had only a play at first as Piersall crossed the plate.

Action was suspended at 4:28 p.m. after Larry Doby walked to open the Indians' ninth. The umpires waited 45 minutes before calling it off.

The free-hitting contest included back-to-back home runs by Doby and Al Rosen, the 17th of the season for each, and Jim Hegan's seventh for Cleveland. Williams tagged his 13th for the Sox.

Giants Edge Chicago, 2-1

CHICAGO (AP) — Bill Taylor's pinch ninth inning single scored Hank Thompson with the winning run as the league-leading New York Giants defeated the Chicago Cubs, 2-1, in the opener of a two game series before 12,190 here Wednesday.

Sal Maglie allowed just four hits as he beat the Cubs a third time for his tenth win against four losses. Bob Rush was the loser, suffering his eleventh loss on a yield of seven hits.

The pace-making Giants launched the winning rally on Thompson's leadoff single. Monte Irvin sacrificed him to second, and Thompson moved to third on Don Mueller's infield tap for the second out.

The Cubs scored first, getting their only run in the third.

Bob Talbot walked, one of three such gifts Maglie allowed.

The Chicago outfielder stole second and proceeded to third on Westrum's throwing error. Gene Baker's single, his fifth hit in the past seven times at bat, scored Talbot.

The Giants tied it up in the fourth when Capt. Al Dark opened with a double, took third on Thompson's fly, and crossed the plate on Irvin's single.

Dodgers Win Over Redlegs

CINCINNATI (AP) — Carl Erskine, pitching brilliant two-hit ball and retiring the last 23 straight batters to face him, hurled the Brooklyn Dodgers to a 5-1 victory over the Cincinnati Redlegs here. Erskine, who struck out 10, didn't allow a hit after Bob Borkowski hit a home run in the second inning.

Mays Misses First Giant Game Of Year

CHICAGO (AP) — Center fielder Willie Mays missed his first game of the season Wednesday as the National League pace-setting New York Giants opened a two-game series against the Chicago Cubs.

Mays flew to Fairfield, Ala., last night from Cincinnati to attend the funeral of his aunt, Mrs. Sarah Mays, who died Saturday. Willie may also miss Thursday's game.

Injured, Rotund Porky Oliver Takes Lead In PGA Tourney

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Ed (Porky) Oliver, plagued by a slump, snapped out of it here with a bristling five-under-par 66 to take the first round qualifying lead in the Professional Golfers Assn. tournament.

The popular round man from Lemont, Ill., put on an exhibition of phenominal putting over the sun-baked Keller Club course for a two-stroke edge over Cary Middlecoff and a pair of weather-beaten old-timers, Johnny Revolta, 43, and Orville White, 47.

The second round in the 36-hole qualifying test is scheduled today when the field will be reduced from 135 to 64 for match play eliminations beginning Friday.

Wind Tricky

Tricky zephers played around the 6,652-yard public links layout but failed to throw many of the country's leading professionals.

There were six players, including U. S. champion Ed Furgol, bracketed at 69 and another half-dozen at 70—all par breakers on this hot, windy day. Par for the Keller course, a flat piece of real estate with few dangers, is 35-36—71.

Sam Snead, three-time champion and prime favorite to snatch a fourth, packed his clothes this morning and was all prepared to pull out of the tournament when his chronic sore neck continued to pain him.

Finished Anyway

But the Slammer came out to the course, anyhow, just to give it a try and made the full tour, finishing with a very respectable 73.

"I could only take a ¾ swing and I didn't know where the devil the ball was going," he said. "My neck hurts like the dickens."

The popular Oliver played what he called "the only decent round of golf I've shot in seven weeks."

He hit 16 of the 18 greens and sank good putts for his pars on the two he missed—the 10th and 18th. He one-putted seven greens and canned six birdies while taking a single bogey.

Hurt In Accident

Oliver, 37, suffered a kidney injury in an automobile accident in 1948 and this year the trouble became acute. He was stricken and hospitalized earlier this year while playing in the Eastern Open at Baltimore. He plans to undergo an operation after the Tam O'Shanter event in August.

Middlecoff, 1949 Open champion and co-favorite with Snead, holed out an 80-yard wedge shot for an eagle deuce on the 350-yard fifth hole and had two good putts of better than 15 feet.

Tied with Furgol at 69 were three well-known circuit performers, Fred Haas, Jackie Burke and Marty Furgol, plus two relative unknowns, Tony Wolguin of Midlothign, Ill., and Len Wagner of Cincinnati.

Bracketed at 70 were Lew Worsham, former Open champion and wedge shot last year; Shelley Mayfield of Chicopee, Mass.; Henry Ransom of Pontiac, Mich.; Max Evans of Detroit; Phil Friel of Nashua, N.H., and Jim Scott of Lebanon, Ind.

Senators Get By Baltimore, 6-5

WASHINGTON (AP)—Second baseman Jim Brideweser permitted Jim Busby's easy grounder to trickle past him with the bases loaded and one out in the ninth inning and Eddie Yost scored the tie-breaking run as Washington defeated Baltimore, 6-5, here.

Boxing Not As Lush As It Was

'Hungry' Bobo Olson Salting It Away

By RONALD GOBEN

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — Bobo Olson, who may well be the "hungriest" fighter in the ring today, offers an arresting example of the way boxing has changed since the lush, carefree days of the Twenties.

For, while tthe middleweight champion fights for money with an intense concentration worthy of any wide-eyed kid just up from New York's East Side, he keeps his earnings. He'll get at least a quarter of a million dollars in purses this year, and most of it will go into the bank or solid investments.

Another difference between the Hawaiian-born Olson and fighters of an earlier era is the motive behind his devotion to money. Bobo wants cash not for himself but for a family he says he wants to give "all things I didn't have."

The words may not be particularly new, but there's no doubt about Olson's affection for his pretty wife and four children. He made front-page news when he hopped the first flight out of Chicago to return home instead of celebrating following his win over Kid Gavilan in April.

The Olsons, who live in a comfortable but decidedly unpretentious San Francisco bungalow, share an interest in simple forms of recreation. They vacation often in the northern California resort area near Clear Lake, where Bobo rents a cabin at Lakeside so all but nine-months-old Donald can go in swimming.

Bobo is quiet to the point of shyness, but he talks freely about the family. His plans for the three boys and one girl are flexible, but he insists on one thing—they're all going to college "if they want to."

Neither of the older boys has shown a great inclination to become a fighter like Bobo, but they've got the raw material. Carl Olson III, an 80-pounder at seven years of age, wants to play football. And Bobo says all the kids are "pretty rugged."

So is their dad. Only 25, he's just lately achieved public recognition as a top-flight ring workman. His Aug. 20 bout with Rocky Castellani in San Francisco will be only his second defense of the title he won in a 15-round bout with Randy Turpin.

Olson, a superbly conditioned athlete, will probably be as high as a 3 to 1 favorite over Castellani. And, because he isn't the type of fighter to be defeated by a lucky punch, he figures to be champion for a long time.

Bobo has no thoughts of retiring, although some day he'd like to quit as champ—as did another financially astute middleweight, Sugar Ray Robinson. Some day he'd like to quit boxing and maybe buy a ranch. But first, he just wants to "make money."

The 160-pound title holder is willing to fight anyone within reason to make money, too. He considers Robinson easily the best man he ever fought—he was decisioned once and knocked out once by the former champion—but answered with a flat "I'd be glad to fight him for the money" to reports that Sugar Ray might attempt a return to the ring.

Swanson, Morgan Cop Golf Honors

C. E. Swanson and Ray Morgan shot the best golf at Lincoln Country Club Wednesday in a stag affair.

Swanson led the 18-hole players with a 73 while Morgan had a 37 to top the nine-hole play.

Dr. Norman Carlson shot a 77 and Morgan finished with the same score for 18 holes.

Oscar Bilhorne had low net with a 65. Walter Black and Charles Miller netted 69's. Ned Cadwallader used his handicap to close with a 33 for nine.

Nearest to the pin on No. 9 with his second shot was Martin Lange. On No. 18 the prize went to Linus Southwick.

Closest to his blind score was Burr Hughes.

The Baltimore Orioles have working agreements with 11 minor league baseball clubs.

White Sox Wallop Champions, 15 To 3

NEW YORK (AP) — The Chicago White Sox shoved the New York Yankees a half game behind the pace setting Cleveland Indians here, pounding out a 15-3 victory as Virgil Trucks became the first American League pitcher to win 13 games. The triumph boosted the third place White Sox to within 4½ games of the Indians, who played their second straight tie with the Boston Red Sox.

19 Hits

Blasting starter Bob Wiesler off the mound with a 5-run attack in the first inning, the White Sox went on to amass 19 hits, their largest total of the season, to hand the Yankees one of their worst beatings of the year.

Minnie Minoso and Johnny Groth clubbed four hits each, Groth driving in four runs and Minoso two. Trucks, who fanned six and walked two before retiring with two out and nobody on base in the seventh due to the intense heat, also figured largely in the attack, cracking three hits and driving in a pair of runs.

Rain Halts Tilt In 8th

BOSTON (AP) — Jimmy Piersall dashed home with the tying run on Harry Agganis' infield out in the sixth inning as the Boston Red Sox fought league-leading Cleveland to a second straight draw, 7-7, here in a game halted by rain after eight innings.

Earlier Wednesday, at 12:57 a.m. EDT a 16-inning struggle was called with the score 5-5 because of the league curfew rule.

Cleveland had just rallied to take a 7-6 lead when Piersall singled to center in the sixth and went to third on Ted Williams' double to left field.

Hoskins Ousted

Ray Narleski, third Indian hurler, came in to replace Dave Hoskins. He got Agganis to hit a slow hopper but the Tribe had only a play at first as Piersall crossed the plate.

Action was suspended at 4:28 p.m. after Larry Doby walked to open the Indians' ninth. The umpires waited 45 minutes before calling it off.

The free-hitting contest included back-to-back home runs by Doby and Al Rosen, the 17th of the season for each, and Jim Hegan's seventh for Cleveland. Williams tagged his 13th for the Sox.

Giants Edge Chicago, 2-1

CHICAGO (AP) — Bill Taylor's pinch ninth inning single scored Hank Thompson with the winning run as the league-leading New York Giants defeated the Chicago Cubs, 2-1, in the opener of a two game series before 12,190 here Wednesday.

Sal Maglie allowed just four hits as he beat the Cubs a third time for his tenth win against four losses. Bob Rush was the loser, suffering his eleventh loss on a yield of seven hits.

The pace-making Giants launched the winning rally on Thompson's leadoff single. Monte Irvin sacrificed him to second, and Thompson moved to third on Don Mueller's infield tap for the second out.

The Cubs scored first, getting their only run in the third.

Bob Talbot walked, one of three such gifts Maglie allowed.

The Chicago outfielder stole second and proceeded to third on Westrum's throwing error. Gene Baker's single, his fifth hit in the past seven times at bat, scored Talbot.

The Giants tied it up in the fourth when Capt. Al Dark opened with a double, took third on Thompson's fly, and crossed the plate on Irvin's single.

Mays Misses First Giant Game Of Year

CHICAGO (AP) — Center fielder Willie Mays missed his first game of the season Wednesday as the National League pace-setting New York Giants opened a two-game series against the Chicago Cubs.

Mays flew to Fairfield, Ala., last night from Cincinnati to attend the funeral of his aunt, Mrs. Sarah Mays, who died Saturday. Willie may also miss Thursday's game.

Injured, Rotund Porky Oliver Takes Lead In PGA Tourney

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Ed (Porky) Oliver, plagued by a slump, snapped out of it here with a bristling five-under-par 66 to take the first round qualifying lead in the Professional Golfers Assn. tournament.

The popular round man from Lemont, Ill., put on an exhibition of phenominal putting over the sun-baked Keller Club course for a two-stroke edge over Cary Middlecoff and a pair of weather-beaten old-timers, Johnny Revolta, 43, and Orville White, 47.

The second round in the 36-hole qualifying test is scheduled today when the field will be reduced from 135 to 64 for match play eliminations beginning Friday.

Wind Tricky

Tricky zephers played around the 6,652-yard public links layout but failed to throw many of the country's leading professionals.

There were six players, including U. S. champion Ed Furgol, bracketed at 69 and another half-dozen at 70—all par breakers on this hot, windy day. Par for the Keller course, a flat piece of real estate with few dangers, is 35-36—71.

Sam Snead, three-time champion and prime favorite to snatch a fourth, packed his clothes this morning and was all prepared to pull out of the tournament when his chronic sore neck continued to pain him.

Finished Anyway

But the Slammer came out to the course, anyhow, just to give it a try and made the full tour, finishing with a very respectable 73.

"I could only take a ¾ swing and I didn't know where the devil the ball was going," he said. "My neck hurts like the dickens."

The popular Oliver played what he called "the only decent round of golf I've shot in seven weeks."

He hit 16 of the 18 greens and sank good putts for his pars on the two he missed—the 10th and 18th. He one-putted seven greens and canned six birdies while taking a single bogey.

Hurt In Accident

Oliver, 37, suffered a kidney injury in an automobile accident in 1948 and this year the trouble became acute. He was stricken and hospitalized earlier this year while playing in the Eastern Open at Baltimore. He plans to undergo an operation after the Tam O'Shanter event in August.

Middlecoff, 1949 Open champion and co-favorite with Snead, holed out an 80-yard wedge shot for an eagle deuce on the 350-yard fifth hole and had two good putts of better than 15 feet.

Tied with Furgol at 69 were three well-known circuit performers, Fred Haas, Jackie Burke and Marty Furgol, plus two relative unknowns. Tony Wolguin of Midlothign, Ill., and Len Wagner of Cincinnati.

Bracketed at 70 were Lew Worsham, former Open champion and wedge shot last year; Shelley Mayfield of Chicopee, Mass.; Henry Ransom of Pontiac, Mich.; Max Evans of Detroit; Phil Friel of Nashua, N.H., and Jim Scott of Lebanon, Ind.

Senators Get By Baltimore, 6-5

Boxing Not As Lush As It Was

'Hungry' Bobo Olson Salting It Away

By RONALD GOBEN

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — Bobo Olson, who may well be the "hungriest" fighter in the ring today, offers an arresting example of the way boxing has changed since the lush, carefree days of the Twenties.

For, while tthe middleweight champion fights for money with an intense concentration worthy of any wide-eyed kid just up from New York's East Side, he keeps his earnings. He'll get at least a quarter of a million dollars in purses this year, and most of it will go into the bank or solid investments.

Another difference between the Hawaiian-born Olson and fighters of an earlier era is the motive behind his devotion to money. Bobo wants cash not for himself but for a family he says he wants to give "all things I didn't have."

The words may not be particularly new, but there's no doubt about Olson's affection for his pretty wife and four children. He made front-page news when he hopped the first flight out of Chicago to return home instead of celebrating following his win over Kid Gavilan in April.

The Olsons, who live in a comfortable but decidedly unpretentious San Francisco bungalow, share an interest in simple forms of recreation. They vacation often in the northern California resort area near Clear Lake, where Bobo rents a cabin at Lakeside so all but nine-months-old Donald can go in swimming.

Bobo is quiet to the point of shyness, but he talks freely about the family. His plans for the three boys and one girl are flexible, but he insists on one thing—they're all going to college "if they want to."

Neither of the older boys has shown a great inclination to become a fighter like Bobo, but they've got the raw material. Carl Olson III, an 80-pounder at seven years of age, wants to play football. And Bobo says all the kids are "pretty rugged."

So is their dad. Only 25, he's just lately achieved public recognition as a top-flight ring workman. His Aug. 20 bout with Rocky Castellani in San Francisco will be only his second defense of the title he won in a 15-round bout with Randy Turpin.

Olson, a superbly conditioned athlete, will probably be as high as a 3 to 1 favorite over Castellani. And, because he isn't the type of fighter to be defeated by a lucky punch, he figures to be champion for a long time.

Bobo has no thoughts of retiring, although some day he'd like to quit as champ—as did another financially astute middleweight, Sugar Ray Robinson. Some day he'd like to quit boxing and maybe buy a ranch. But first, he just wants to "make money."

The 160-pound title holder is willing to fight anyone within reason to make money, too. He considers Robinson easily the best man he ever fought—he was decisioned once and knocked out once by the former champion—but answered with a flat "I'd be glad to fight him for the money" to reports that Sugar Ray might attempt a return to the ring.

Swanson, Morgan Cop Golf Honors

C. E. Swanson and Ray Morgan shot the best golf at Lincoln Country Club Wednesday in a stag affair.

Swanson led the 18-hole players with a 73 while Morgan had a 37 to top the nine-hole play.

Dr. Norman Carlson shot a 77 and Morgan finished with the same score for 18 holes.

Oscar Bilhorne had low net with a 65. Walter Black and Charles Miller netted 69's. Ned Cadwallader used his handicap to close with a 33 for nine.

Nearest to the pin on No. 9 with his second shot was Martin Lange. On No. 18 the prize went to Linus Southwick.

Closest to his blind score was Burr Hughes.

The Baltimore Orioles have working agreements with 11 minor league baseball clubs.

Killebrew Seen As Gate Attraction

By HERB ALTSCHULL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Washington Senators, who are hurting at the gate, will try to inject some new life into the club Sunday by installing young Harmon Killebrew at second base.

Killebrew is the Senators' very first bonus player. A protege of Sen. Welker (R-Idaho), he signed with Washington for a reported $30,000 last month and has been riding the bench ever since.

"He's coming along nicely," Calvin Griffith, the club's executive vice president, said today. "We don't see where he's going to improve sitting on the bench."

High School Star

Killebrew, a 6-footer who was a high school baseball and football star at Payette, Idaho, has played at third base, shortstop and catcher, but Manager Bucky Harris said he believes his arm is too weak for any other infield spot except second base.

Harris assigned the veteran Johnny Pesky to work with the 195-pound youngster. "He's ready," Pesky said. "He's inexperienced, but he'll come along."

Harris, Griffith and Pesky all expressed satisfaction with Killebrew's batting prowess to date. The youngster, who turned 18 last month, hasn't hit any out of the park yet, but he has been lining the ball squarely all over the outfield.

May Be Regular

Griffith said that if Killebrew looks as good as he thinks he will against Detroit Sunday, he'll be the club's regular second baseman for the rest of the season, batting in the No. 7 position.

The Senators said at first that Killebrew probably wouldn't play at all this season. They planned to give him time to learn the game's fine points from practice and watching the veterans.

That position, however, was taken before the general collapse of home attendance. Only 2,220 persons showed up for a game with the league leading Cleveland Indians last Monday. Killebrew, as a highly rated newcomer, can be expected to lure quite a number of fans to Griffith Stadium.

Griffith said he has no great concern about Killebrew's fielding ability, although he expects him to be a bit shaky at the start.

"He was voted the country's outstanding schoolboy quarterback," Griffith recalled. "You have to have the hands and the timing to win that honor."

Ak-Sar-Ben Purses Hit Record High

OMAHA —Nebraska and Iowa horsemen who raced their Thoroughbred stock at the recent Ak-Sar-Ben meeting hit a new record high in pruse winnings.

Horses carrying the colors of more than 100 Nebraska and Iowa owners brought home purses totaling $209,064.50, or 38 per cent of the total purse distribution of $550,905. James P. Lee, chairman of the Ak-Sar-Ben racing committee, said Nebraska owners collected more purse money at the Omaha track this year than they have ever before won at an Ak-Sar-Ben meeting. Their total purses soared to $160,474.50, as compared to $152,461.50, as com-

"The fine showing made by these horsemen is a definite indication that each year they are realizing greater profits through breeding and racing better caliber horses against some of the best horses in the country both here at Ak-Sar-Ben and at other tracks," Mr. Lee said.

Tops among Nebraska and Iowa owners and stables was the White Spot Farm of Omaha which had its red and white colors in the money often enough to win purses totaling $12,030.

State Net Meet Opens Saturday

Neil Unterseher To Defend Two Titles

By BILL FITZGERALD
Star Sports Staff Member

Neil Unterseher, the teenage Lincoln boy who has purified the word "racketeer" in the vernacular of Nebraskans who follow the state tennis story, must defend successfully two championships this week and if he is to sustain his position as the most promising young player in the state.

Unterseher, now 14, won the Boys and Junior Boys singles titles in the Nebraska State Tournament last summer and will meet the challenge of both fields Saturday and Sunday at the Lincoln Tennis Club courts at 38th and South.

Matches in all other classes will be startetd the following Saturday, July 31, and will carry through the next week end, Aug. 1-2. The other classes are Girls, Jr. Girls, Mixed Doubles, Men's, Women's and Mixed Doubles for adults.

If Boys and Junior Boys matches are not completed this Sunday, play will be resumed the following Saturday.

Unterseher's position as a defending champion and his status as the coming player in state tennis relegate him to a more notable role than that usually played by a junior performer in a tournament which includes adults.

The presence of the State High School singles champion, Russ Schlotzhauer of Omaha Creighton Prep, increases the attraction of Junior Boys Singles because the Omaha lad went to the finals last year and fell before Unterseher. He clearly dominated prep tennis last spring and may be able to acnieve a victory over Unterseher this time.

Unterseher also won in Junior Doubles last summer. His partner was cecil Craft of North Platte.

Besides Schlotzhauer there is strong competition in Don Fisher and Charles Peebler of Omaha and Bill North of Lincoln. Other entries are being received and the field is expected to be as large as usual.

Girls competition starting July 31 will involve the 1953 singles champion, Gladys Craven, the Omaha girl who was runnerup in the strong Missouri Valley and Midwest Open tournaments the past month.

Miss Craven also shared the Girls Doubles title last summer with partner Sylvia Rigg. Miss Rigg will be in Junior Girls this time.

Omaha's Kay Talty won the Junior Girls Singles title in 1953 but is in the Womens class this summer and will depend upon her sister Janet to keep the title in the family.

Janet's efforts will be challenged by a sound field including Omahan Sue Maas and Lincoln's Karen Rauch and Elaine Unterseher.

Miss Rauch, one of the best in the Capitol City, is accustomed to competition among the women. Miss Unterseher, a sister of the Jr. Boys king, has been in both the Missouri Valley and Midwest meets and may be ready to win a title in this tournament.

NEIL UNTERSEHER

Maj. Charles Hanner, the Lincoln Air Force Base officer who came out of Florida to win the city singles title in June, will bid for his first state championship next week.

Play Saturday will start at 9:30 a.m. and contiue all day. Sunday matches will start at 10 a.m.

Bartzen Advances In Canadian Meet

TORONTO (AP)—Bernardo Bartzen of San Angelo, Tex., U.S. clay court champion and No. 1 foreign seed, moved into the fourth round of the Canadian men's tennis singles here by defeating Ted Pine of Binghamton, N. Y., 6-0, 6-2.

Kosei Jamo of Japan, No. 3 in the foreign seedings, had a tough time stopping Jacques Giguere of Quebec City 7-5, 6-4 in their fourth round match.

Lues Ayala of Chile moved ahead by defeating Roland Godin of Montreal 6-1, 6-2.

Andy Paton of Ann Arbor, Mich. defeated Dan Sullivan of St. Petersburg, Fla., 3-6, 8-6, 6-3 in their third round match, interrupted Tuesday by rain.

The Buffalo, N. Y., team of Jack Castle and Louis Schaeffer upset the eighth-seeded duo of Don Platt and Pete Stewart, Toronto, 1-6, 6-2, 6-2 in the completion of their second round men's doubles match.

Sullivan won the first set from Paton Tuesday, 6-3, and was down 6-7 with his serve coming up, when rain interrupted play.

Joe's Aid Was Officer In McCarthy-Denounced Organization

. . . Prober Demands Information

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thomas W. Lavenia, an aid to the McCarthy investigations subcommittee, said Wednesday that as a college student in 1936 he was briefly an officer in an organization which Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) has castigated as an affiliate of Communist fronts.

Lavenia has been assistant counsel and office manager for the Senate subcommittee since Feb. 1953, but the Defense Department has lately refused him security clearance.

The subcommittee Tuesday put off a decision on retaining Lavenia, pending a Defense Department report on its reasons, a department spokesman said the reasons would not be forthcoming, that they were confidential.

However, it was learned that McCarthy has told the subcommittee he knows of no reason the department could have used other than what Lavenia described Wednesday as his fleeting connection with the American Law Students Assn.

Lavenia told this story to reporters Wednesday:

Back in 1936 he was president of the student council of the law school at the St. John's University in Brooklyn. He attended one meeting only of the Law Students Assn., and that one at the request of his dean and the assistant dean.

During the course of that meeting, Dec. 26, 1936, he raised a protest against a motion to demand a minimum wage for lawyers and law clerks. Lavenia said he regarded it as "not pro-American and not in keeping with the American Bar Assn's concepts."

He was shouted down on his protest, and walked out with the declaration that "St. John's withdraws." Then, Lavenia continued, the sponsors withdrew the motion, talked him into coming back to the meeting which then elected him vice president of the organization.

Meanwhile, Sen. Jackson (D-Wash) said Democrats on the subcommittee will insist in having a voice in selecting a new chief counsel in place of Roy M. Cohn, resigned. He recalled that they had been given assurances that all staff appointments shall be subject to a majority vote.

Joe Asks 'Why?'

WASHINGTON (INS) —Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy demanded Wednesday that Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson and Attorney General Herbert Brownell tell his subcommittee why Army security clearance was denied to Thomas W. Lavenia, an investigator.

In separate letters, McCarthy requested Wilson and Brownell to send representatives armed with "detailed information" to a meeting of the subcommittee at 2:30 p.m. EDT Friday.

McCarthy's demand was backed up by a formal resolution of the permanent subcommittee sponsored by Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-S.D.) and seconded by Sen. Everett Dirksen (R-Ill.)

Another investigator, Donald Surine, also was denied Army security clearance. McCarthy earlier this week transferred Surine from the subcommittee staff to an assignment in his own office.

Water Strife Settled By Cooperation

Dan S. Jones, Jr., director of the state division of irrigation, said Wednesday that water priority problems that have cropped up in eastern Nebraska for the first time this year have apparently been settled by co-operation of users of water for irrigation from the west fork of the Big Blue River and from Shell and Lost creeks.

Jones said that in the Hastings and Harvard areas the west fork of the Blue has maintained a constant flow largely due to water carried in by sewage disposal. Because of the extremely hot year and many new pumps, he said the water is insufficient to meet maxmum desires of all users.

After meeting with the water users, Jones said, he was convinced that they would be able to agree on a rotation system so that all would get water.

Shell and Lost Creeks in the Schuyler area, which normally have sufficient flow to meet irrigation needs are sub-normal this year, Jones said. He said that by rotation he believed sufficient water would be available for all.

Emergency Polio Fund Drive Set

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is faced with a financial crisis.

The seriousness of the situation means the Foundation will ask for additional funds in an Emergency March of Dimes Aug. 16 to 31, according to E. Clinton Belknap, East Nebraska representative for the Foundation.

It will be the second emergency fund drive in the organization's 16 year history.

Belknap said the problems facing the Foundation are "sobering and serious."

These problems have, he said, been brought about by the polio vaccine trials, which cost $26,500,000 this year and in obtaining increased supplies of gamma globulin with which to fight the disease.

Although the $55,000,000 raised in January exceeded any previous March of Dimes total, it fell short by $20,000,000 of the minimum needs in this strategic year, Belknap said.

Dobson Bros. $33,247 Paving Bid Is Low

Dobson Bros. Construction Co. submitted the low bid of $33,247.75 at the City Hall for the paving of 40th, Calvert to Prescott and Prescott, 40th to the east line of lot 31, Union Addition.

Dobson and Robinson submitted the low bid of $8,632.65 for the construction of a storm sewer district in Randolph as an outlet for the Eastridge Addition storm sewer.

French Won't Push Indochina Fighting

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—Gen. Rene Cogny, French Union ground commander in north Viet Nam, said Wednesday night he does not intend to push any fighting between now and the effective hour of the Indochina cease-fire.

"We do not want unnecessary deaths," he said.

He told newsmen he still had not received detailed terms of the agreement signed at Genva, but anticipatd these things:

1. Fighting will stop "in four or five or six days, depending on how long it takes to get orders to outlying posts."

Allowed 2 Months

2. He will be allowed two months for military evacuation of Hanoi and 10 months to pull all troops and war materiel out of the Haiphon area on the coast.

3. He plans a progressive withdrawal but "we shall maintain our lines and always he ready to defend and resume fighting if necessary" The removal of French and foreign civilians will get under way soon.

4. "We shall firmly hold to and defend our present positions, and we shall resist to the utmost any Vietminh attack between now and the effective hour of the cease-fire, but I do not intend to push any fighting or operations against him (the Vietminh)."

In an order of the day, the general told his French and Vietnamese soldiers they had acquitted themselves with honor in north Viet Nam and could hold their heads high. He assured Vietnamese troops their families would be evacuated with them. And he warned all his men against listening to emotional appeals of persons trying to stir up trouble.

Cogny, 6 feet 4, looked haggard and worn. Asked to comment on the way the war was ending, he answered with a tired bitterness: "So many deaths for nothing. The free world has not taken up its responsibilities here in good time."

Asked if he thought south Viet Nam could be held against the Communist - led Vietminh, Cogny replied:

"Militarily yes. but politically—"

He shrugged his shoulders and smiled. He did not complete his sentence, but it was apparent that he saw the possibility of eventual Vietminh victory at the polls.

Even as Cogny spoke, reports of continued fighting were received here. Rebel guerrillas blew up a freight train only 10 miles east of Hanoi and ripped up several hundred yards of track 25 miles east of here last night.

Artillery Booms

French artillery on Hanoi's outskirts boomed at guerrilla bases 15 or 20 miles away. There were occasional spurts of light machine gun fire and grenade explosions closer in. French-piloted B26 bombers touched off explosions and fires in a string of Vietminh bases around the Delta's edges. Light patrol clashes were reported.

Most Vietnamese asked how they felt about the cease-fire agreement found little to cheer them. Some were merely content that the fighting was about over.

"Disastrous for the Vietnamese people" was the way a Viet Nam government spokesman described the outcome.

"Tragic perspectives open up," said the leader of South Viet Nam's powerful Binh Xuyen political party.

"We have had enough," said a French business man in Saigon. "Either the United States decided to enter the war with her atomic weapons or else there had to be a cease-fire. You did not want to become involved, so there was nothing else to do."

French Won't Push Indochina Fighting

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—Gen. Rene Cogny, French Union ground commander in north Viet Nam, said Wednesday night he does not intend to push any fighting between now and the effective hour of the Indochina cease-fire.

"We do not want unnecessary deaths," he said.

He told newsmen he still had not received detailed terms of the agreement signed at Genva, but anticipatd these things:

1. Fighting will stop "in four or five or six days, depending on how long it takes to get orders to outlying posts."

Allowed 2 Months

2. He will be allowed two months for military evacuation of Hanoi and 10 months to pull all troops and war materiel out of the Haiphon area on the coast.

3. He plans a progressive withdrawal but "we shall maintain our lines and always he ready to defend and resume fighting if necessary." The removal of French and foreign civilians will get under way soon.

4. "We shall firmly hold to and defend our present positions, and we shall resist to the utmost any Vietminh attack between now and the effective hour of the cease-fire, but I do not intend to push any fighting or operations against him (the Vietminh)."

In an order of the day, the general told his French and Vietnamese soldiers they had acquitted themselves with honor in north Viet Nam and could hold their heads high. He assured Vietnamese troops their families would be evacuated with them. And he warned all his men against listening to emotional appeals of persons trying to stir up trouble.

Cogny, 6 feet 4, looked haggard and worn. Asked to comment on the way the war was ending, he answered with a tired bitterness:

"So many deaths for nothing. The free world has not taken up its responsibilities here in good time."

Asked if he thought south Viet Nam could be held against the Communist - led Vietminh, Cogny replied:

"Militarily yes. but politically—"

He shrugged his shoulders and smiled. He did not complete his sentence, but it was apparent that he saw the possibility of eventual Vietminh victory at the polls.

Even as Cogny spoke, reports of continued fighting were received here. Rebel guerrillas blew up a freight train only 10 miles east of Hanoi and ripped up several hundred yards of track 25 miles east of here last night.

Artillery Booms

French artillery on Hanoi's outskirts boomed at guerrilla bases 15 or 20 miles away. There were occasional spurts of light machine gun fire and grenade explosions closer in. French-piloted B26 bombers touched off explosions and fires in a string of Vietminh bases around the Delta's edges. Light patrol clashes were reported.

Most Vietnamese asked how they felt about the cease-fire agreement found little to cheer them. Some were merely content that the fighting was about over.

"Disastrous for the Vietnamese people" was the way a Viet Nam government spokesman described the outcome.

"Tragic perspectives open up," said the leader of South Viet Nam's powerful Binh Xuyen political party.

"We have had enough," said a French business man in Saigon. "Either the United States decided to enter the war with her atomic weapons or else there had to be a cease-fire. You did not want to become involved, so there was nothing else to do."

Eisenhower Says 'I Am Behind TVA'

He Still OKs Power Plan

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Wednesday stood by his plan to bring private power into the TVA area but said anyone who thought he wasn't supporting TVA was—to put it in mildest terms—in error.

Eisenhower indicated he has no intention of changing his plan for private power in the face of attacks on it by numerous Senate Democrats and one Republican, Sen. Cooper of Kentucky. He said he is working for the entire United States, not one area.

For the most part the news conference dealt with Indochina and the Eisenhower legislative program, with few points of special emphasis, in tone or manner, on any one subject.

The presidential plan for private power in the TVA program is at the center of a Senate controversy surging around a bill to revise the atomic energy law. Eisenhower has directed the Atomic Energy Commission to contract with a private firm to build a plant at West Memphis, Ark., to replace TVA power to be used by AEC. The chief executive said, as he has before, that he always is willing to go along if he can be shown a better way of doing things. The implication was that in this instance no one has shown him a better way.

Gloomy predictions that much of his legislative program would fail to get through Congress also are in error, Eisenhower said.

He said he wasn't disappointed in the progress of the program, even though some features won't be enacted. There have been great accomplishmnts in recent weeks, he said, and these frequently have been lost sight of because of what he called the publicity value of fights and failures.

On specific points, the President had this to say in response to questions:

MCCARTHY—He has taken no position, and is taking none now, on the resolution by Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) to censure Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) for the way McCarthy has run the Communist-hunting Senate Investigations subcommittee, Flanders plans to seek a Senate vote on the resolution July 30.

SPECIAL SESSION—The President can't foresee any domestic or international problems that will require one. But he plans to discuss with congressional leaders, perhaps of both parties, how to handle various situations if they arise. He didn't say what situations.

HOUSING—While the House has gone along only partially with his public housing program, he will have some new recommendations on the subject when Congress meets again next year.

This Won't Even Hurt

Dr. George T. Erickson wields the needle and Jerry Gardner, 15, doesn't seem to mind at all as he receives an innoculation of gamma globulin. Jerry is one of the Broken Bow residents who have been receiving shots of gamma globulin since an outbreak of polio. One person has died out of the 11 in the town who have been reported to have the disease. So far in the innoculation campaign about 1,490 persons have received shots. Hastings Firm, Manager Assessed U.S. Penalties

Penalties of $350 against the Nash-Finch Co., doing business at Hastings, and of $25 against Claude Holcomb, its Hastings manager, have been assessed by Federal District Judge John W. Delehant.

The company and Holcomb each pleaded nolo contendere to a seven-count complaint brought by the United States alleging the defendants allowed some food, candy and gum to be contaminated while it was being held for sale after shipment in interstate commerce between November 1952, and November, 1953.

Ellis Preston Dies; Former Lincolnite

No Progress In Goodyear Strike Talks

With the strike of United Rubber Workers against Goodyear going into its third week Thursday, negotiators in Cleveland reported no progress but said the talks would continue Thursday.

The strike has idled about 575 Lincoln workers, and about 23,000 nationally.

Meanwhile, company President E. J. Thomas issued a statement hitting what he called "discrimination" against Goodyear workers and the union said it would have an answer but was not immediately prepared to make a statement.

The Thomas statement said, in part, "When . . . no strike was called in the plants of our competitor, the United States Rubber Company, it became quite clear that our employes had been discriminated against in the matter of income . . . Employes of U.S. Rubber are getting their pay, but you are not getting yours and that doesn't seem fair."

In Cleveland, Paul Bowers, chairman of the negotiating committee, said the union's international president would have an answer. In Lincoln, Local Vice President Willard Deigan said also that there would be an answer, but that it was not yet ready.

Viet Nam Area Lost To Commies Equals Nebraska

By The Associated Press

Here is what Viet Nam lost to the Communist Vietminh by the partitioning of the country at the Geneva conference:

Population: About 13 million persons.

Area: Almost 78,000 square miles, an expanse as big as the state of Nebraska. Total Viet Nam area is 1,237,380 square miles.

Industry: The production of the northern coal mines. Production in 1952 was 900,000 tons, but it was more than double that before World War II. Also largely exploited reserves of tin, lead, zinc and wolfram, plus small quatities of iron, manganese, antimony, copper, gold and precious stones. Northern Viet Nam also had a fair-sized cement industry.

Agriculture: Largely confined to rice growing. Northern Viet Nam is one of the most productive areas of Asia but—because of the density of the population—has had to import rice from the agriculturally richer south to make up its food deficit.

Eisenhower Says 'I Am Behind TVA'

He Still OKs Power Plan

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Wednesday stood by his plan to bring private power into the TVA area but said anyone who thought he wasn't supporting TVA was—to put it in mildest terms—in error.

Eisenhower indicated he has no intention of changing his plan for private power in the face of attacks on it by numerous Senate Democrats and one Republican, Sen. Cooper of Kentucky. He said he is working for the entire United States, not one area.

For the most part the news conference dealt with Indochina and the Eisenhower legislative program, with few points of special emphasis, in tone or manner, on any one subject.

The presidential plan for private power in the TVA program is at the center of a Senate controversy surging around a bill to revise the atomic energy law. Eisenhower has directed the Atomic Energy Commission to contract with a private firm to build a plant at West Memphis, Ark., to replace TVA power to be used by AEC. The chief executive said, as he has before, that he always is willing to go along if he can be shown a better way of doing things. The implication was that in this instance no one has shown him a better way.

Gloomy predictions that much of his legislative program would fail to get through Congress also are in error, Eisenhower said.

He said he wasn't disappointed in the progress of the program, even though some features won't be enacted. There have been great accomplishmnts in recent weeks, he said, and these frequently have been lost sight of because of what he called the publicity value of fights and failures.

On specific points, the President had this to say in response to questions:

MCCARTHY—He has taken no position, and is taking none now, on the resolution by Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) to censure Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) for the way McCarthy has run the Communist-hunting Senate Investigations subcommittee, Flanders plans to seek a Senate vote on the resolution July 30.

SPECIAL SESSION—The President can't foresee any domestic or international problems that will require one. But he plans to discuss with congressional leaders, perhaps of both parties, how to handle various situations if they arise. He didn't say what situations.

HOUSING—While the House has gone along only partially with his public housing program, he will have some new recommendations on the subject when Congress meets again next year.

This Won't Even Hurt

Dr. George T. Erickson wields the needle and Jerry Gardner, 15, doesn't seem to mind at all as he receives an innoculation of gamma globulin. Jerry is one of the Broken Bow residents who have been receiving shots of gamma globulin since an outbreak of polio. One person has died out of the 11 in the town who have been reported to have the disease. So far in the innoculation campaign about 1,490 persons have received shots. (AP Wirephoto Special To The Star.)

Hastings Firm, Manager Assessed U.S. Penalties

Penalties of $350 against the Nash-Finch Co., doing business at Hastings, and of $25 against Claude Holcomb, its Hastings manager, have been assessed by Federal District Judge John W. Delehant.

The company and Holcomb each pleaded nolo contendere to a seven-count complaint brought by the United States alleging the defendants allowed some food, candy and gum to be contaminated while it was being held for sale after shipment in interstate commerce between November 1952, and November, 1953.

No Progress In Goodyear Strike Talks

With the strike of United Rubber Workers against Goodyear going into its third week Thursday, negotiators in Cleveland reported no progress but said the talks would continue Thursday.

The strike has idled about 575 Lincoln workers, and about 23,000 nationally.

Meanwhile, company President E. J. Thomas issued a statement hitting what he called "discrimination" against Goodyear workers and the union said it would have an answer but was not immediately prepared to make a statement.

The Thomas statement said, in part, "When . . . no strike was called in the plants of our competitor, the United States Rubber Company, it became quite clear that our employes had been discriminated against in the matter of income . . . Employes of U.S. Rubber are getting their pay, but you are not getting yours and that doesn't seem fair."

In Cleveland, Paul Bowers, chairman of the negotiating committee, said the union's international president would have an answer. In Lincoln, Local Vice President Willard Deigan said also that there would be an answer, but that it was not yet ready.

Viet Nam Area Lost To Commies Equals Nebraska

By The Associated Press

Here is what Viet Nam lost to the Communist Vietminh by the partitioning of the country at the Geneva conference:

Population: About 13 million persons.

Area: Almost 78,000 square miles, an expanse as big as the state of Nebraska. Total Viet Nam area is 1,237,380 square miles.

Industry: The production of the northern coal mines. Production in 1952 was 900,000 tons, but it was more than double that before World War II. Also largely exploited reserves of tin, lead, zinc and wolfram, plus small quatities of iron, manganese, antimony, copper, gold and precious stones. Northern Viet Nam also had a fair-sized cement industry.

Agriculture: Largely confined to rice growing. Northern Viet Nam is one of the most productive areas of Asia but—because of the density of the population—has had to import rice from the agriculturally richer south to make up its food deficit.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Oils, Steels Lead Broad Mart Rally

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market swung to the upside Wednesday with a broad rally led by the oils and steels.

Some oil shares gained three points or more. Among the steels, advances of a point were common.

Except for the aircrafts, other sections of the list were higher. The plane-makers' shares were hit by profit-taking and some nervous selling connected with the end of the Indo-China War. They fell one to two points.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 70 cents to $130.20. The industrials gained $1.10 and the rails 60 cents. The utility component edged up 20 cents to a new 1954 high of $63. Contributing to this was a rise of 1¼ points in American Telephone.

This was the first advance in the averages since last Thursday, when the market boomed through to a new high since Oct. 22, 1929, on the only three-million share day of the year. At that time, the 60-stock average registered $131.

Corn, Beans Drop Allowable Limit

CHICAGO (AP) —The "weather boom" in grains burst wide open on the Board of Trade Wednesday. 1954 crop soybeans dropping 10 cents and 1954 corn 8 cents. In both instances that was the limit decline permitted in a single session.

July soybeans also wound up 10 cents lower after experiencing a day of wide price swings. Trading in all July futures ended Wednesday and outstanding open commitments must be settled by delivery of cash grain. Wheat, oats, rye and lard moved down.

The incident which set off the heavy selling was unexpectedly heavy and widespread rains during the night and early in the day over the midwest. It was felt the rains would go far toward calming some of the apprehension over corn and soybean crop prospects.

Wheat closed 1⅝@2½ lower, corn 4½ to 8 cents lower, oats 1¼ to 5 cents lower, rye 2 to 2½ lower, soybeans 10 cents lower and lard 80 cents lower to 5 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Tax Levy Limit Valuations Increase $39,531,907

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

Lincoln valuations for taxation purposes increased only $1,778,056 for the 1954-55 fiscal year while the valuations used to determine the city's tax levy limit went up $39,531,907.

For taxation purposes, the city has a 1954-55 real estate total valuation of $112,413,320, personal property valuation of $22,481,255 and an estimated valuation of railroads of $2,785,237 for a total of $137,679,812. The total last year was $135,901,747.

The city can levy on that total the number of mills it would take to produce an amount arrived at by multiplying the county valuation of all city property by 9.75 mills.

This county valuation total, $228,679,812, as compared to $189,147,905 last year. This valuation includes $11,749,770 in real estate, $22,481,253 in personal property, $15,990,215 in motor vehicles, $75,824,015 intangibles and $2,785,237 on railroads.

9.75 Mills

Multiplying that total by 9.75 mills gives $2,231,097—the amount the city could raise by taxation for general operating purposes if it desired to do so.

Last year, the limit was $1,844,192 while only $1,435,326 was appropriated, on a 90 per cent basis. The city fixes its levy and then appropriates for spending 90 per cent of the amount to be produced by this levy.

Thus, the city is assured of meeting all its obligations so long as tax collections for the year exceed 90 per cent of the levy. Collections in excess of 90 per cent are left as balances for the coming year.

To raise the limit this year, according to Finance Director Theo Berg, would require a levy of 16.20 mills on the city's own valuations. This would be a levy of 4.465 mills more than was actually levied last year.

But Berg points out that there is no reason to believe that the limit will be levied by the City Council. The limit has never been levied, he reminded, since it was increased three years ago.

Mill Levy

There is assurance from Berg, however, that the mill levy for the unlimited fund (for bond retirement and judgments against the city) will be increased. The unlimited fund levy last year was 1.065 while a 2 mill levy will be needed this year, Berg said.

A total of $130,261 was appropriated in that fund last year while Berg reports $247,674 will be needed this year. The increase is needed to meet a $65,000 principal payment on the new auditorium bond issue. $27,487 interest on the same issue and $12,000 interest estimated for the $3.5 million storm sewer and flood control bonds to be sold in October.

Another large part of that levy is $75,000 to pay interest and principal on the 1941 auditorium bond issue.

Reds Okay Freeing Six Americans

May Prelude Release Of Other U.S. Citizens

GENEVA (AP)—The Chinese Communists have agreed to release six Americans held in Red China following negotiations in Geneva, the U. S. delegation announced Wednesday.

The United States announcement said:

"The Chinese Communist representatives have stated further that the cases of other detained Americans are still under review."

American officials here believe the Chinese Reds are holding in prison or otherwise detaining about 24 additional Americans.

Those to be freed were named as Ernest Hotz, Reuben Lenzer, Linus Lombard, John B. Maye, Lawrence Mullin and Alfred Peter Pattison.

Two Air Force men from Nebraska are among military personnel held by Red China. They are Lt. Roland W. Parks of Omaha and Lt. Lyle W. Cameron of Lincoln.

(Lt. Cameron has been able to write three letters home, the first arriving here the latter part of June. All report that he is "feeling fine and getting along all right." Lt. Cameron's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Rolland G. Cameron of 5102 Garfield. The first letter broke a two-year silence which had existed since Cameron was reported missing in action.)

Maye is the Rev. John B. Maye, a Roman Catholic missionary from Scranton, Pa. Lombard is also a Roman Catholic priest.

Lombard's home address and the home towns of the others were not available.

Students Free

American officials here notified the Peiping regime that 15 Chinese students now in the United States, who have been detained, have now been told they are free to go.

The announcement said:

"The cases of other Chinese students deciding to leave the United States for Communist China are still under review. Any information concerning them will be considered as soon as it is received."

Alfred Jenkins, a member of the U.S. delegation at Geneva, carried on the negotiations for release of the Americans with a member of the Chinese Communist delegation, Pu Shan.

Jenkins expressed the hope, in talks with Pu Shan that the other detained Americans will be released shortly.

American officials said that in addition to the six persons to be released and the 24 other civilians still detained, there is a number of military personnel held in Red China.

The Chinese Reds have acknowledged at Geneva that among Americans they are holding is Capt. Harold Fischer Jr., double jet ace from Swea City, Iowa. Fischer was shot down near the Yalu River in April, 1953 and is held by Manchurian authorities who claim he violated their border.

Fischer's parents, who farm near Swea City, recently have received letters from him.

Lingo was 15 when convicted of armed robbery and auto theft and sentenced to the penitentiary.

Ike Anti-Red Proposal Gets House Vote

WASHINGTON (INS) — The House shouted approval without a dissent Wednesday to President Eisenhower's anti-Communist proposal to strip U.S. citizenship from any person convicted of advocating violent overthrow of the government.

The measure, a major item in the administration's Communist-control program was sent to the Senate by voice vote within a matter of minutes and with no debate whatever.

A House Judiciary Subcommittee earlier approved a bill to outlaw the Communist Party and make its members subject to 10 years imprisonment and a $10,000 fine.

Passage Doubtful

However, the bill to outlaw the party is opposed by Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr., who contends it would drive the Reds underground. Its passage at this session appears doubtful.

In another action to tighten curbs on Communists, the House quickly passed by voice vote and sent to the Senate a bill to increase the penalty for bail-jumping.

The measure provides a maximum penalty of five years in jail and $5,000 fine for persons who jump bail while charged with a felony, and one year in jail and a $1,000 fine for bail jumpers accused of a misdemeanor. Present law provides only for forfeiture of bail.

The other measure passed provides for automatic forfeiture of U.S. citizenship of both naturalized and native-born Americans convicted of violating the Smith Act, under which top Communist leaders have been imprisoned.

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — Somebody bad really stole the wedding bell from the Church of the Immaculate Conception here. Police reported that the wedding chimes were played at mass Tuesday morning but at 4 p.m. Wednesday when Father Efram Tretter went to the choir loft to practice the organ he found the chimes missing.

Plans and specifications may be seen and blank proposals obtained in the office of the City Engineer.

The City Engineer's estimate of the cost of constructing these water mains is $48,000.00.

Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check for $2,400.00, made payable to Frank J. Miller, City Treasurer, as a guarantee of good faith.

The city reserves the right to reject any or all proposals and to waive any defect in proposals.

Oils, Steels Lead Broad Mart Rally

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market swung to the upside Wednesday with a broad rally led by the oils and steels.

Some oil shares gained three points or more. Among the steels, advances of a point were common.

Except for the aircrafts, other sections of the list were higher. The plane-makers' shares were hit by profit-taking and some nervous selling connected with the end of the Indo-China War. They fell one to two points.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 70 cents to $130.20. The industrials gained $1.10 and the rails 60 cents. The utility component edged up 20 cents to a new 1954 high of $63. Contributing to this was a rise of 1¼ points in American Telephone.

This was the first advance in the averages since last Thursday, when the market boomed through to a new high since Oct. 22, 1929, on the only three-million share day of the year. At that time, the 60-stock average registered $131.

Corn, Beans Drop Allowable Limit

CHICAGO (AP) —The "weather boom" in grains burst wide open on the Board of Trade Wednesday, 1954 crop soybeans dropping 10 cents and 1954 corn 8 cents. In both instances that was the limit decline permitted in a single session.

July soybeans also wound up 10 cents lower after experiencing a day of wide price swings. Trading in all July futures ended Wednesday and outstanding open commitments must be settled by delivery of cash grain. Wheat, oats, rye and lard moved down.

The incident which set off the heavy selling was unexpectedly heavy and widespread rains during the night and early in the day over the midwest. It was felt the rains would go far toward calming some of the apprehension over corn and soybean crop prospects.

Wheat closed 1⅝@2½ lower, corn 4½ to 8 cents lower, oats 1¼ to 5 cents lower, rye 2 to 2½ lower, soybeans 10 cents lower and lard 80 cents lower to 5 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Tax Levy Limit Valuations Increase $39,531,907

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

Lincoln valuations for taxation purposes increased only $1,778,056 for the 1954-55 fiscal year while the valuations used to determine the city's tax levy limit went up $39,531,907.

For taxation purposes, the city has a 1954-55 real estate total valuation of $112,413,320, personal property valuation of $22,481,255 and an estimated valuation of railroads of $2,785,237 for a total of $137,679,812. The total last year was $135,901,747.

The city can levy on that total the number of mills it would take to produce an amount arrived at by multiplying the county valuation of all city property by 9.75 mills.

This county valuation total, $228,679,812, as compared to $189,147,905 last year. This valuation includes $11,749,770 in real estate, $22,481,253 in personal property, $15,990,215 in motor vehicles, $75,824,015 intangibles and $2,785,237 on railroads.

9.75 Mills

Multiplying that total by 9.75 mills gives $2,231,097—the amount the city could raise by taxation for general operating purposes if it desired to do so.

Last year, the limit was $1,844,192 while only $1,435,326 was appropriated, on a 90 per cent basis The city fixes its levy and then appropriates for spending 90 per cent of the amount to be produced by this levy.

Thus, the city is assured of meeting all its obligations so long as tax collections for the year exceed 90 per cent of the levy. Collections in excess of 90 per cent are left as balances for the coming year.

To raise the limit this year, according to Finance Director Theo Berg, would require a levy of 16.20 mills on the city's own valuations. This would be a levy of 4.465 mills more than was actually levied last year.

But Berg points out that there is no reason to believe that the limit will be levied by the City Council. The limit has never been levied, he reminded, since it was increased three years ago.

Mill Levy

There is assurance from Berg, however, that the mill levy for the unlimited fund (for bond retirement and judgments against the city) will be increased. The unlimited fund levy last year was 1.065 while a 2 mill levy will be needed this year, Berg said.

A total of $130,261 was appropriated in that fund last year while Berg reports $247,674 will be needed this year. The increase is needed to meet a $65,000 principal payment on the new auditorium bond issue, $27,487 interest on the same issue and $12,000 interest estimated for the $3.5 million storm sewer and flood control bonds to be sold in October.

Another large part of that levy is $75,000 to pay interest and principal on the 1941 auditorium bond issue.

Reds Okay Freeing Six Americans

May Prelude Release Of Other U.S. Citizens

GENEVA (AP)—The Chinese Communists have agreed to release six Americans held in Red China following negotiations in Geneva, the U. S. delegation announced Wednesday.

The United States announcement said:

"The Chinese Communist representatives have stated further that the cases of other detained Americans are still under review."

American officials here believe the Chinese Reds are holding in prison or otherwise detaining about 24 additional Americans.

Those to be freed were named as Ernest Hotz, Reuben Lenzer, Linus Lombard, John B. Maye, Lawrence Mullin and Alfred Peter Pattison.

Two Air Force men from Nebraska are among military personnel held by Red China. They are Lt. Roland W. Parks of Omaha and Lt. Lyle W. Cameron of Lincoln.

(Lt. Cameron has been able to write three letters home, the first arriving here the latter part of June. All report that he is "feeling fine and getting along all right." Lt. Cameron's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Rolland G. Cameron of 5102 Garfield. The first letter broke a two-year silence which had existed since Cameron was reported missing in action.)

Maye is the Rev. John B. Maye, a Roman Catholic missionary from Scranton, Pa. Lombard is also a Roman Catholic priest.

Lombard's home address and the home towns of the others were not available.

Students Free

American officials here notified the Peiping regime that 15 Chinese students now in the United States, who have been detained, have now been told they are free to go.

The announcement said:

"The cases of other Chinese students deciding to leave the United States for Communist China are still under review. Any information concerning them will be considered as soon as it is received."

Alfred Jenkins, a member of the U.S. delegation at Geneva, carried on the negotiations for release of the Americans with a member of the Chinese Communist delegation, Pu Shan.

Jenkins expressed the hope, in talks with Pu Shan that the other detained Americans will be released shortly.

American officials said that in addition to the six persons to be released and the 24 other civilians still detained, there is a number of military personnel held in Red China.

The Chinese Reds have acknowledged at Geneva that among Americans they are holding is Capt. Harold Fischer Jr., double jet ace from Swea City, Iowa. Fischer was shot down near the Yalu River in April, 1953 and is held by Manchurian authorities who claim he violated their border.

Fischer's parents, who farm near Swea City, recently have received letters from him.

Ike Anti-Red Proposal Gets House Vote

WASHINGTON (INS) — The House shouted approval without a dissent Wednesday to President Eisenhower's anti-Communist proposal to strip U.S. citizenship from any person convicted of advocating violent overthrow of the government.

The measure, a major item in the administration's Communist-control program was sent to the Senate by voice vote within a matter of minutes and with no debate whatever.

A House Judiciary Subcommittee earlier approved a bill to outlaw the Communist Party and make its members subject to 10 years imprisonment and a $10,000 fine.

Passage Doubtful

However, the bill to outlaw the party is opposed by Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr., who contends it would drive the Reds underground. Its passage at this session appears doubtful.

In another action to tighten curbs on Communists, the House quickly passed by voice vote and sent to the Senate a bill to increase the penalty for bail-jumping.

The measure provides a maximum penalty of five years in jail and $5,000 fine for persons who jump bail while charged with a felony, and one year in jail and a $1,000 fine for bail jumpers accused of a misdemeanor. Present law provides only for forfeiture of bail.

The other measure passed provides for automatic forfeiture of U.S. citizenship of both naturalized and native-born Americans convicted of violating the Smith Act, under which top Communist leaders have been imprisoned.

Good News For The Family Budget:

Lowest Food Prices Since Korea Outbreak Are Expected This Fall

WASHINGTON (INS) — The American housewife will pay less for food this fall than at any time since the outbreak of Korean hostilities four years ago.

This is the prediction of Agriculture Department economists, who foresee a general drop in food prices in the months ahead.

Miss Marguerite Burk, of the Agricultural Marketing Service, says there will be an abundance of food during the remainder of 1954. She says retail prices are bound to drop.

She points out that a decline in consumer prices already has begun, and should continue until late fall when prices level off considerably below those of recent months.

Meat Drop Greatest

The department expert based her deduction on a survey of retail prices now being compiled by the department. Survey results are expected to be made public within the next few weeks.

Miss Burk explains that the most noticeable drop in retail prices will come at the meat counter, where both pork and beef should be selling at lower figures.

Pork prices are expected to take their first substantial drop in three years because of a 12 per cent increase in the pig crop this year over last.

At the same time, large amounts of beef will be flowing to market since cattle numbers the beginning of this year were at an all-time high. Should the present drought become more acute in Western states, ranchers will have to ship unfinished cattle to slaughter and prices of poorer grades of beef should take a decided break.

Miss Burk points out that beef and pork will be fighting it out on a competitive basis for the housewife's dollar this year, and this competition alone should help to trim meat prices.

She says, however, that meat prices will not drop to the levels of June, 1950, when the Korean conflict began because of higher wages in processing plants, higher transportation rates, and increases in other costs will tend to keep prices above the pre-Korean level.

Miss Burk anticipates a general drop in prices of poultry, eggs, fresh vegetables and fruit.

Little Dairy Decline

She expects little decline, however,, in dairy and cereal products, including bread, butter and milk, or in canned fruits and vegetables.

Miss Burk declined to predict what will happen later this year to prices paid farmers for their products. Department surveys indicate, however, that farm prices probably will drop below their current low levels.

Since the middleman's cut of consumer prices is expected to vary little, the farmer who now is receiving only about 45 cents out of every consumer dollar, probably will have to carry the burden of lower retail prices.

Action On Taxes Is Up To Solons, Anderson Claims

Lincoln Star Special

AURORA, Neb. — "It is absolutely pointless for any candidate for governor to go about the state campaigning for any specific kinds of new taxation when everyone who knows anything about the state's business knows that taxes are purely and simply a legislative matter," declared Victor E. Anderson of Lincoln, Republican candidate for governor, to members of the Aurora Rotary Club Wednesday.

The state legislature, Anderson stated, is composed of qualified men close to the people in the districts they represent. These solons will ably interpret the wishes of their constituents in writing new tax legislation, Anderson added.

"I am convinced that the state's income is adequate—perhaps more than adequate — if properly budgeted and administered," Candidate Anderson said. "This is primarily the governor's responsibility—something he can do something about."

Maenner Named To Panama Board

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional sources Wednesday said Ted H. Maenner, Omaha real estate man, has been appointed a member of the board of directors of the Panama Canal Co.

This appointment is made by the secretary of the Army and is not subject to Senate confirmation.

Board members meet several times a year and assist in the operations of the Panama Canal Operating Co. It is a non-salaried job.

Some time ago another Nebraskan, Charles Reed of Omaha, was named to this board. He was supported by one faction of the Republican party in Nebraska while Maenner was backed by another group. Maenner's appointment came when a second vacancy developed.

Probe Of Price Spread Is Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Aiken (R-Vt) of the Senate agriculture committee Wednesday was asked by Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) to begin an inquiry into the spread between prices received by farmers and those paid by consumers.

Humphrey in a letter to the chairman said Aiken had agreed last fall to make such an inquiry but nothing came of it.
